PUR. NEWS.
CANYON CITY, Jan. 16, 1889.

A suit has been commenced in the United States District Court against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company for six million dollars' damages, for the cutting of timber on the government lands along its line in Idaho, Washington and Montana Territories and Minnesota since the road was built in 1869.

Vermont is bound to enforce prohibition. The legislature has made it the duty of the sheriff, deputy or constable "to search without warrant any wagon, carriage, cart, sleigh or sled trunk, box, hand-bag, satchel, bundle or clothing, conveyed or worn along any road or street in the state for intoxicating liquor." This looks like fanaticism run mad.

The annexation discussion has had the effect of developing a new party in Canada. It is not in favor of annexation nor of remaining a part of the British Empire. It declares its attachment to constitutional monarchy as the best form of government, and wants Canada to be an independent kingdom with a sovereign all her own.

The White Caps have made their appearance almost simultaneously in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have already declared their purpose either to drive out or otherwise punish persons obnoxious to them. There is just one thing needed in view of such a state of affairs and that is the most vigorous action possible on the part of the authorities. Neither pains nor expense should be spared to get at the inner workings of the order, and to arrest and punish those whose guilt can be established. If they are lawless men, or men of no repute, they should receive the punishment they merit, and if, as has been shown to be the case in Ohio and Indiana, they are reputable men, or have been esteemed such by their neighbors, the reasons for exemplary punishment would be material to intensify.

An encroachment from the Puritan side is the bill before congress, introduced by Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, to enforce observance of the Christian Sabbath, to prohibit the carrying of mails, and to prevent the running of railroad trains and all other public conveyances on that day. It is an attempt to enforce on the nation the bigotry that exists in the laws of the several New England states, prohibiting all travel or pleasure riding on Sunday. Those who wish to observe Sunday should have a right to do it, and should be protected from wanton disturbance; but what authority is there under the Constitution to force people to observe a certain day as Sunday? There are denominations in the United States numbering hundreds of thousands of members who observe Saturday as their Sabbath. Why should they not have the same rights as those who believe in Sunday? Such laws as the one proposed by Senator Blair would be an entering wedge that would split our government into pieces, where the gigantic Rebellion failed. It would seem that in these days of enlightenment and progress, the demand made by these pious cranks would be unheeded, and their efforts to destroy the foundation principles upon which our government is founded, looked at as the foolish jibberings of a dying superstition, but the ordinary crank, particularly of this order, has a persistency about him that sometimes accomplishes results unlooked for, and his machinations are more dangerous than some suppose.

The best mind cure is to make up one's mind to be contented.

The great high road of human welfare lies along the old highway of steadfast well doing.

British troops are killing more "rebel" Burmese for defending their country against invasion.

The people of a town in Spain have risen in wrath and killed a bull-fighter for not killing the bull. This was strangely inconsistent. Why did they not let the bull fighter alone and kill the bull themselves?

The number of insane persons in the asylums and almshouses of New York state is 33 per cent greater than it was five years ago. This increase comes almost wholly from the shipment of insane men and women to this country from Europe.

Hayti is quite often held up as a model for colored men in this country to follow. The latest advice from that Republic describe the butchering and barbecuing of a young girl, for whose half-cooked flesh thousands of Voodoo devotees fought like madmen.

Why should the assessment of Marion county have been reduced from $6,396,276 in 1887 to $4,412,455 in 1888? This reduction is positively, shamelessly, dishonest. It was made solely for the purpose of swindling the state, and of throwing upon other counties more than their just proportion of the taxes.—Oregonian.

A gentleman whom a great many know, was excusing himself to his boy just before Christmas for not giving him much in the way of presents, and in the course of his remarks he inadvertently "gave way" to the fact that Santa Claus is only a myth, that it is only a pleasant fiction. Upon the little fellow learning that one of childhood's sweetest fancies was to be thus rudely dispelled his brown eyes filled with tears, but instead of the plaintive regret that the father expected, Young America spoke up, reminding of a recent Sunday school lesson, and said: "Look here, father, was that a fill you were giving me about Jesus, too, the other day?"—Ex.

A good Latter-Day Saint says he remembers well how Brother Brigham used to send over to the City Hall when he was short to see how much money there was in the treasury, that the same might be loaned to the Lord. The reporter told how one day the Beehive House messenger came into the hall with the exclamation: "Well, boys, how much cash is there to-day in the treasury?"

"About $8000," said the Treasurer.
"Well, pack it up the old man wants it," and the $8000 was "packed up" without any more ado and laid at the feet of Brother Brigham. There was no collateral of any kind put up; the loan was to the Lord our God, and the Lord our God was Brigham. Readers who doubt the above may be convinced by turning to Mrs. Stenhouse's book and learn how Brother Brigham ordered $75 worth of bonnets for her for his wives and then wrote on the bottom of the bill: "You will be credited this amount on your titling account."—Salt Lake Tribune.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says.
TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.
Yours Truly,
