PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING

March 7, 1889.

Agreeable to the wishes of the German emperor, the theaters have resolved to abolish all French theatrical terms which have crept into the language.

The bill for the admission of Washington as a state has been signed by the president. North and South Dakota and Montana will also doubtless be admitted.

The Pittsburg Dispatch has a great nose for news. It has discovered and publishes the fact that the United States manufactures 8,750,000 pounds of Limburger cheese annually.

If a colored man can hold no Federal office of importance; if his children can not be educated in Ohio; if he cannot work in an Illinois tobacco factory, what is he to gain by remaining colored.

Another outrage on the colored race. Peter Johnson, a colored resident of Cairo, Ill., was going to swallow ten fishhooks in public on a wagon of $5, but the law stepped in and prevented him.

There will be but one negro in the next federal house of representatives. This individual is H. P. Cheatham, who was elected in the second North Carolina district. He is only 32 years old and bears a good reputation for character and common sense.

A letter from the Secretary of the Interior in response to a Senate resolution, says there is not on the files of his department anything to show what part the citizens of Washington Territory and Idaho took in volunteer service to suppress the Nez Peres war.

In Indiana, the other day, a surgeon removed a rib from a man, who survives the operation. Nothing is said as to what became of the dismembered rib. In view of the surplus population of women, there was no particular necessity of repeating the miracle of Adam's time.

The legislature created an act to prevent nuisances and makes it a misdemeanor to put animal carcasses or deleterious substances into wells, springs, brooks, ponds, streets, allies or fields, and requires butchers to keep their slaughter houses clean. Fines from $2 to $50 are provided for violations.

It is said that an Indiana man has invented a ballot box that can't be "stuffed." The box is somewhat automatic in action. The ballot is dropped through a slot into a compartment with a glass front. A lever is pressed, a bell sounds, the number of the ballot is registered, the ballot is stamped with the county, ward, precinct and date, and the ballot falls into the ballot box proper. The box is opened at the top by a key and two keys are required. Fraud is prevented, as every ballot must be stamped and the alarm bell prevents any one from slipping in ballots when no one is looking.

The high license law regulating the sale of liquor recently passed by the legislature, like most of the other laws framed by that Hon. body in the last few years, will have to run the gauntlet of the supreme court to have its constitutionality tested, and meet the fate which awaits it. Section 11 of the bill provides that "nothing in this act shall be construed to apply in any manner to incorporated towns or cities of this state." Thus it will be seen that cities are free to do and act as of yore; nothing in this act shall interfere with them; their municipality is greater than the state; the village of five hundred is sovereign beyond the state while unincorporated villages must enforce the law. Why allow the saloon of the corporate town to have the advantage, when it is just where it should be made to carry the heavy load because its revenue makes it able. It is true that cities and corporations have the liberty to demand license beyond this sum but they seldom do so; the most of them will be privileged to carry on their traffic for a much less sum, and then they will rub their hands with glee at the fact that outside the city limits they are not likely to have any competition.

THEY DID, AND THEY DID NOT

The compilers of the "Book of Common Prayer" must have had the recent session of the legislature in their minds when they wrote, "We have done those things which we ought not to have done, and we have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and there is no truth in us." Nearly every wagon road bill introduced was passed, and the bill to construct a railroad at the Cascades was defeated. The road bills were local measures which history shows have in the past been useless for all purposes except enriching a few contractors. The portage railroad bill was of general interest and would have been of immense benefit to the state. In this connection we wish to remark that nothing has been heard of Senator Dolph and his schemes for opening the river, since his re-election, and that the work on the locks is not progressing as it should. The Department has received no attention, and the Portland water bill compiled too much there. Women's representatives did reasonably well in comparison with other delegations, but collectively the session was a failure. The Dells water bill was the most important local measure, and the bill concerning pilots the only general bill of any importance. Wasco Sun.

Mr. Swift, of Elkhart, Ind., stated that Miss Georgia Davis chewed tobacco. She sued him for slander, and proved that she simply chewed tar-gum, and the jury gave her a verdict of $300.

The celebrated sleeping girl of Troy, Tenn., died last week. She has slept since she was ten years of age till she was thirty-two years old, walking at intervals of a minute or two and occasionally for an hour or little longer, sometimes daily, sometimes not for several days. Thousands have visited her. At one time Barnum offered her parents $10,000 per year to take her and her parents with his show, he to pay all expenses, but they refused. When she died thousands attended the funeral.

In regard to the fees of school clerks, the following is a paragraph of a bill introduced by T. T. Geer, which is now a law: "The clerk of each school district containing 4,000 or more inhabitants shall receive for his services of the money collected by him of school taxes, as follows: For the first twenty thousand dollars or any less sum, five per centum thereof; for the next twenty thousand dollars or any part thereof, two per centum; for all sums above forty thousand dollars, one per centum thereof. The clerks of all other school districts shall receive for their services, of the money collected by them of district taxes, besides in their respective districts, five per centum on the first, and the balance of any district may pay their clerk and additional compensation that is in their judgment necessary." This new law allows the clerks of any school district to pay their clerk additional compensation, while the old law only allowed this in small districts.
