Undersecretary Laughed At.
 The undersecretary is prone to make game of nervousness. Yet this is a very real and serious ailment, the harassing symptoms of which are rendered all the more poignant by ridicule. There is a natural disposition for these symptoms to weaken and disorder the brain, which is the headquarters of the nervous system. As a nerve tonic and tranquillizer, we believe that not one can be prepared out so effective as HERRICK'S BROWN PILLS, in removing vigorous circulation to the brain, and in restoring strength and equanimity to the nervous system. In cases of general debility, nervousness, or in cases where all these symptoms ultimately disappear as the system grows stronger from the use of HERRICK'S BROWN PILLS.

Two Irishmen walking along the Bowery stopped under a sign painted in Hebrew letters. "An we's ha' Mable," asked one. "Bogorra, O' dinnis, but O' had me hile, don' me of O' wudn't try to play it."

Job was in a pretty bad box when he figured as a bolt in a nut, but it seems that he was spared one affliction. History does not say that Bidad or any of the other 11 had asked him if he had read "Robert Elsmere."

"There is one thing connected with your table," said a drummer to the landlord of a Bridgeport hotel, "that is not surpassed by even the best hotels in New York." "Yes," replied the pleased landlord, "and what is that?" "The salt, sir."

South Carolina is the easiest state in the Union to get married in. All a couple desiring to get united have to do is to ask a preacher or trial justice to tie the knot, or they can join hands in the presence of two witnesses, say they are married, and the bond of union is legal. A couple might as well "jump over a stick," some say.—St. Louis Republic.

A gentleman went into an American (Gla.) life insurance office, and proceeded to take out a policy. His eight children were to be the beneficiaries in case of his death. Every thing went along smoothly until number eight was reached, when the gentleman could not for the life of him remember the child's name. He finally hunted up a neighbor who assisted him out of the difficulty.

The passage of Dolph's bill, authorizing the U. S. attorney to begin action against the holders of wagon road grants, in Oregon, is causing some feelings among the settlers on road land in this county that there is a hope of their yet getting a title to the lands they occupy. This hope, we fear, is destined to be blighted, for the result of the suits in the U. S. courts will only be to confirm the company title to the lands.—Prineville Review.

They are telling a little story in sheet sewing circles. Mrs. P. Rudish has a pretty and plump house maid "just come of r' from Germany, and speaking English with some little difficulty. Charben is scrubbing the carpets. Mrs. P. Rudish, embrodering at the window, notices a policeman on the sidewalk staring at the stoop as though his eyes would bound from their sockets. A glance at the door reveals the object of curiosity. "Hevich," she exclaims, "I wish you would be more careful with your skirts. That policeman is looking at your legs."
 "Ach," was the unmeasured reply, "he can't see dem. I got me in stockings on."—Buffalo Truth.
