August 3, 1889.

England has over one million dollars invested in the manufacture of idols for heathen countries, and yet the churches of that country are continually calling for more money and more missionaries to suppress idolatry.

The action of the czar in suppressing the Lutheran church in Russia may lead to the long expected war between that country and Germany. Religious oppression is the most flaming fire brand that could be thrown into Europe.

Counterfeit $10 notes are being circulated in California. The bills are dated 1875 and have a poorly executed picture of Webster. In the words "This bill is a legal tender" on the back the letters and words are crowded closer than in genuine bills.

Busybodies are discussing possible candidates for president in 1892. It is a harmless bit of nonsense and if it affords them satisfaction they should not be disturbed. Popular opinion will crystallize and center on the right man at the proper time.

The talk of annexing Canada to the United States continues unabated and in so friendly a spirit that no harm can result. But it is noteworthy that the long discussion has thus far brought forward no plan for the accomplishment of this object, nor even the outline suggestion of a plan.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker, referring to the proposed reduction of postage has the following to say: "I prefer to conduct the business on the principles of the sleeping car companies not to reduce the rate but to improve the service." That's all right. Let the improvement proceed, for there's certainly a need of it.

A man named Gilman, living near Empire city, murdered and buried the wife and child of his tenant, named Eutenhaver, last week, and waylaid and attempted to kill the husband and father on his return home after several days' absence. The murderer had dug the grave in which to inter his intended victim, and after his arrest confessed the crime, and also the murder of a man a year ago, of which he was accused at the time.

Justice, Bateman & Co's circular of July 20th says: While the demand for wool is still very moderate, prices remain firm. Wools are arriving from the interior, but as the cost is high, owners in many cases are not opening them, knowing they cannot at this time be sold at a profit. This gives the wool in the east the appearance of being bare. We make but slight changes in quotations, which are largely normal, owing to the absence of sales of many grades, which are either not in the market, or have not yet been sold in sufficient amounts to establish quotations.

Oregon needs among thousands of other improvements a State Board of Equalization for the purpose of equalizing and adjusting her assessment rolls. Grant county this year assessed stock cattle at fifteen dollars per head; Crook county's assessment was sixteen dollars per head, while Wasco county's cattle were assessed at only nine dollars per head. On other stock there must be a similar difference in value. The result is that Wasco will make a higher levy for county purposes, but her State levy will be just the same, while Crook and Grant and all other counties in which stock is assessed at anything near its value must pay almost double the tax which these counties pay where stock cattle are assessed at so much less than their actual value. As a matter of justice to the taxpayers of these counties whose assessments are reasonably high the board of equalization should reduce the assessor's valuation about one-half, in order to protect themselves and guard against unjust valuations in other counties. This mode of "equalizing" things is not strictly honest, but would simply go hand in hand with the dishonesty practiced by some of our sister counties.

In Canada two hundred people have been poisoned by eating zinc-throated ice cream. The man who has no ice cream in his stomach, and is not moved by pleasures and church fairs is fit for pleasure, strategems and work.
