

THE GRANT COUNTY NEWS.

Thursday, Aug. 29.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The cool weather is sending the mountain campers home pretty fast. Circuit and county court each convene next Monday at the court house. Dayville folks are anxious for a wagon road to connect them with the railroad at Heppner. The business office of the Pacific Live Stock Co. has been moved from Beulah to Harney City. Mr. Strother Ison, father of Hon. L. B. Ison, died at his home near Wingville, Baker county, last week. David Blanton accompanied by his daughter passed through town last week en route to the Bear valley ranch. Note Howe has sold his property at Calab and will remove to Western Oregon. Grant county loses a good citizen in his removal. A backwoodsman, while visiting Rock Springs, Wyo. T., a day or two ago, learned for the first time of the Johnstown disaster. The weather prophet speaks out and says we are going to have a hard winter, but he doesn't know anything about it, just the same. Talmage says, "that a good newspaper is the grandest temporal blessing that God has given the people of this century." The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture has our thanks for a season ticket to the State fair, which commences at Salem on September 16. Received and now being displayed, over 200 men's and youth's suits, which were made expressly to order for Haptonstall, Dart & Co. Wm. Altnow of Otis valley, contemplates erecting a dam six hundred feet long and twenty feet high to raise water for irrigating bench land. This year will be remarkable for extreme low water in rivers and streams. Snake river is fordable for the first time for more than thirty years. A happy event which was to have taken place yesterday at Rock creek was the marriage of Miss Lulu Lasswell and Mr. Chas. P. Johnson. The News sends congratulations. The jury list is composed mainly of men of our county who pay taxes on considerable property, therefore they will look to the county's interests which is a part of their duty. The county board of equalization is in session this week, listening to the complaints of those who thought they were assessed too high and arguing with those whom the board thought were assessed too low. The two men, Alcorn and Maloney, arrested in Baker City some weeks ago, charged with handling counterfeit coin, got off very lightly. The former was given one year in the pen, and the latter his liberty. Some alterations are being made in the circuit court jury rooms, and a partition run across so that the members of the jury will not be under the necessity of passing through the court room while going to and fro. I have about 25 tons of hay on the Middle Fork near Middle Fork station on the Baker road, which I will sell cheap for cash. Inquire at this office or of E. O. Stansell, 11 miles up Canyon creek. The improvement in the News hinted at in last issue has materialized and now exists in that each of the 28 columns has been made almost a quarter of an inch wider, giving more reading matter to the page. Now is the time to subscribe. A Harney gentleman who had tarried at a wine supper, found his wife awaiting his return in a high state of nervousness. Said she: Here I've been waiting and rocking in a chair till my head swims round like a top. Joss so where I've been, replied he; it's in the atmosphere. A genuine tramp claiming to have an "ulster" or something in his stomach and a hitch in his spine worked this vicinity pretty effectively last week for money to enable him to reach his niece in Prineville. He gave his name as Walter Richardson, and looked fearfully ill. Mr. Richardson is nothing but an opium fiend, though, and his lameness was all assumed. Quite a number of the kind-hearted persons here contributed to his relief, and he went to John Day and blowed it all in for strong drink, never as much as treating any of those who helped him. He deserves no pity, and if you open your heart and your purse for him you are deceived. It is with pleasure that the News calls attention to the advertisement of the widely and favorably known Portland Business College, and its associate school, the Capital Business College of Salem. Both these schools are perfectly equipped for the work in hand, and offer superior facilities to those who desire to take either a business course or a shorthand course. Hundreds of their former students now occupy responsible positions in various sections of northwest, both as book-keepers and stenographers. Mr. A. P. Armstrong, the manager of these institutions, is an experienced and successful educator, and is doing grand work in fitting the youth of our land for business careers.

The Baker City artesian well is down 175 feet. Under "Now-to-day" see ad of Quong, Yuen, Lung Co. Come look at our quartz collection before purchasing a mine. Hugh Smith is at his post of duty again, after an extended business trip to Cracker City. M. G. Pierson yesterday ordered the News sent to his daughter in Morristown, New Jersey. M. A. Sharp, a noted stage robber, who was serving a twenty-year sentence in the Nevada State prison, has made his escape. Walton the barber returned Tuesday from a week's trip to Baker City. While absent his shop was ably presided over by Jack Stevens. We acknowledge the receipt of the seventh annual catalogue of the Oregon State Normal school at Monmouth. Write the president for a copy. Mr. Kit Carson who has been over at Hole-in-the-ground beyond Fox valley prospecting, brought some good looking rock into town Tuesday. Mr. Wm. Luce's team driven by Mr. Pierson passed through town Tuesday loaded with delicious plums, apples and other products of the ranch border for Harney valley. By reference to the county treasurer's notice in another column you will see that all outstanding warrants paid or January 17, 1887, will be paid on presentation. Not a bad showing. It looks incredulous to state that wild strawberries are in bloom now, but such is the fact. On upper Canyon creek where the earth is moist you can find them in great profusion. Haptonstall, Dart & Co., John Day, are now opening the finest line of Men's, Ladies' and Children's Shoes in Grant county. Also a full line of Rubber Footwear in the latest styles and novelties. To all who contemplate a trip to the John Day valley after their winter supply of vegetables the News can truthfully say that not a new case of diphtheria has developed, and all danger from the dreaded malady seems to have passed. The Blue mountains are reported to be full of thieves, some thirty head of horses having been stolen from the Grand Ronde valley within the past two weeks and run off into the mountains where it is asserted the thieves have a cache.—East Oregonian. Died, at Prairie City, Oregon, Aug. 26, 1889, S. M. Babcock, aged 65 years. The funeral occurred Tuesday, and was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends. Mr. S. Babcock was a cousin of the late N. B. Babcock, and came to Grant county in early days. A gentleman living at old Camp Watson recently dreamed that in a certain hole under a stump of a tree he would find a fur collar which had been stolen from his house. He visited the field, found the stump, and placing his hand in the hole, felt a furry substance, pulled it out and dropped the skunk on short notice, and has since been fumigating the clothes he wore on that occasion. Fred Miller advertises his mine for sale in another column. And why shouldn't he? When a man has real estate for sale he advertises it, and a gold mine is just as good property. But laying all arguments aside Mr. Miller has a valuable ledge and offers it at bargain, as specimens of his rock at this office will show. Taken from the face of the ledge without being picked over they show "colors," and no doubt will assay well. Men of money, take notice. The Princeton college students from Princeton, New Jersey, completed their researches and started home this week, and one of them chanced to scrape an acquaintance with Mr. M. G. Pierson. Then it came to pass that the young man was from Mr. Pierson's native city—Morristown—although quite a small boy when the latter came away, but many reminiscences of old times were awakened. A class of students from this college is sent out every year, and just seven years ago Mr. Pierson piloted a party in charge of Prof. Brackett over the mountains of Colorado. Mr. S. G. McGuire informs us that he met twelve of the Princeton college students Tuesday on their return home from the fossil beds of the lower John Day. These boys are of the graduating class of 1889, and were sent to Oregon to collect fossils and antiquities for the college museum. They met with good success, and return with many hundred pounds of bones of prehistoric animals and shells collected from the numerous mounds in the northwestern part of Grant county, in the vicinity of Monument, which country is richer in fossil remains than any portion of the United States. Mr. E. S. Penfield is in a peck of trouble. He resides in Grant county and owns a band of sheep, which were this year driven into Harney county for summer range. He was assessed in this county for them, also in Harney county, and our board of equalization refused to remit the assessment. Will he be obliged to pay taxes in both counties? If this is made to stick it is a good pointer for the assessor of Grant county. In future he can make the owners of roving bands of sheep from other counties pay taxes in this county when they are driven here to summer.

Horses in Wallowa county are dying with mountain fever. A dispute over the payment of 22 cents has led to a lawsuit in Pittsburg. Old residents recall the fact that the summer of 1868 was similar in many respects to the present season. Mrs. James A. Garfield is said to be worth $500,000. When General Garfield died his estate aggregated about $30,000. By a vote of Idaho's constitutional convention, the capital will be permanently located at Boise City for the next twenty years. A young man attempted to commit suicide at The Dalles by cutting his throat, but will live. Temporary insanity as usual. The latest Arkansas sensation is a negro baby with two heads and four faces, one arm and three legs, upon which it stands tripod fashion. A pocket-book made of rattlesnake hide, which is so repulsive to ladies that they won't touch it, is having a large sale among married men. Melbourne, Australia, is to have a public clock which will roll off a popular air every hour excepting during Sunday, when only sacred music will be played. This valley can furnish Eastern Oregon with fruit this season. Large quantities of plums are bound to go to waste unless some preparations are made for drying them. Groceries, Flour and Farm Produce always on hand at bottom prices. All goods delivered free of charge within a limit of three miles by Haptonstall, Dart & Co. If you have doubts of the existence of fine fruit up around Prairie Diggings, just call at the News gas foundry and see those Red Junes left here by Mr. Hermann Lohman. Tiger shooting continues to be excellent sport in India, there seeming to be no diminution in the supply of the fierce creatures. Same way with rabbit shooting here a few years ago. Women should pay no attention to dreams. A Walla Walla woman dreamed of finding a pot of gold in the cellar, and next day she went down and nozed around and found a keg of beer which her old man was keeping on the sly. Ed. Driver recently killed a fine bear in the mountains and loaded it on to one of Mose Hart's Mules; the blacky-black critter got away and remained three days, then turning up with a very ripe elk on his back.—Ontario Atlas. The latest crank prominently reported is the madstone crank in New York city who sublimely offers to allow himself to be bitten by a mad dog for and in the consideration of $500, relying on his previous madstone to effect a cure. The grizzly bear is following in the footsteps of the buffalo and gradually going hence. It is now only among the most broken country of the territories that he can be found at all and he isn't half as full of fight as he used to be. Polonise, W. T., has a youthful bigamist. He is not yet old enough to vote by several years and is the husband of two wives. The last one was only 13 years old, but nevertheless she skipped with him and the authorities are hunting them. The first meeting of the Baker City Stock and Agricultural Society will take place on October 8th, and promises to be a great success. Races will form a great feature of the meeting and many of the notable horses of the coast will be entered to contest for the prizes. A witch-hazel man persuaded Charles McDonald of Winnemucca, to dig a well in a certain place for water. He has gone down 105 feet through solid rock, and the prospect is good for another thousand. McDonald is now looking for the man with the forked stick.—Lakeview Examiner. A weather prophet says the Mississippi will overflow portions of Louisiana because of heavy rains in the near future. In proof of the fact that faith in weather prophets is not wholly lost, it is stated that Louisiana hens have roosted so high since the prophecy was made that half the colored population is threatened with starvation. John L. Sullivan has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment. All but one of the grand jury recommended punishment by fine of $1000 only, but the court said the fight was a gross and systematic violation of the laws of Mississippi, and the sentence was "imprisonment for twelve months." The case will be appealed of course, but it is not likely to be reversed. It is reported from Salem that a two-year-old fig tree has this year produced fine figs. At Pendleton sorghum presents a fine appearance, some cotton is being successfully raised in the northeastern part of Umatilla county. Practical tests may demonstrate the fact that figs, sorghum and cotton can be profitably grown in certain sections of the state, thus adding three more products to the already long list and variety.

Smoke. Dry weather. Dust and profanity. Mining interests at an advance. A new mill (5 stamps) is being erected on the old Graham ledge. Fires are raging everywhere and much damage is being done to the timber. Granite has three mails per week now, and with better roads she may be recognized as the coming town. Cabbel Bro's have about sold the La Bellevue mine, consideration not known, but several thousand dollars is the sum. The Monumental Co. are still running their two tunnels, using Burleigh drills. Just what they will strike is to be found out. The Greenhorn country seems to be the great attraction. Several good mines have been struck and surely more will be ere the season closes as there is a camp fire with prospectors on every point of the compass. How is this? A J. P. of Umatilla Co. came over into our district, and was lucky enough to kill a deer, and having killed it was not satisfied but sold some of the meat, also wrote a poem and after nailing the deer's head to a tree, attached the following lines: "I place this up on a tree, so that papers may see that a hunter without fangs has got there just the same. 'In my eye the deer was blind, of course a little lame, but hunter slipped up from behind and got there just the same." A saloon will be opened on the 1st of Sept. in the new town. Since they have got water there is a prospect of another addition to the old town. The festive Siwash has begun his annual hunt and white folks must suffer his deprivations because he is a government ward. A saw mill is being erected by some Prairie City parties on Granite creek near the mouth of ten-cent gulch. The names of the above hunters can be found on a tree on Beaver creek. Granite. Suits are pending against fourteen ex-county treasurers in Arkansas who are short in their accounts. Fish Commissioner McDonald thinks salmon can be made as plentiful as ever in the Columbia river. The deepest artesian well in Russia opens with a depth of 2090 feet. The sinking operation took two years. There are just as good prospects, and as good undeveloped mines in Grant county as anywhere on the coast if people would only believe so. We are off the railroad, and the country has not been prospected for quartz. A Catholic priest in Chicago ran away with a man's wife and is said to have married her and gone to Europe. She took her husband's money and diamonds, so that if the priest loses his job she can support them both. The original of "Old Black Joe" died at Mount Holly, N. J., recently. His proper name was Joseph Queen. He was the oldest man in New Jersey, being 112 years old. He was a runaway slave, going to New Jersey in 1827. Ex-county treasurer Miller of Harney county left the city of Harney between two days, owing several parties and having an unsatisfied judgment hanging over him. The sheriff went after him and captured his wagon, but failed to find Miller. A Methodist preacher named Helmeck, of Neola, Iowa, wilfully murdered a young man named Palmer because Palmer was to marry one of the preacher's congregation, which engagement he objected to. Preachers have no business to interfere in such matters, neither in politics. Malheur county girls have a new method of discovering their future husbands. They count the number of gentlemen who tip their hat to them, and the hundredth man is the fellow. One girl tried it, but it didn't work. The hundredth man was a corn doctor who has a wife and seven children. A large number of Grant county young men are invited to pursue the following, and then go to bed and dream over the matter: A young man, of New York, 29 years old, has grown to be imbecile from excessive cigarette smoking. Three packages a day was his quota when he was taken in charge by the authorities. Up to six months ago he was bookkeeper for a responsible firm, at which time two packages of the little rolls of vile tobacco sufficed to quiet his nerves. The killing of Judge Terry is monopolizing the columns of the press, and the man has gone to his grave without any expressed regret. Aside from marrying Sarah Althea Hill, he was a fair representative of that class of fire-eaters who attempted to rule the country by brute force in ante-bellum days. The coming of Charles Sumner, the mobbing of Lovejoy in Upper Alton, and the threats made against Abraham Lincoln after his election as president were all indicative of the same spirit.—Mountaineer.

Who wants to be justice of the peace? Aren't he a daisy? Who? Charlie Rann's dog, Rats. Chas. Rann is spending a few days in town with old friends. Several sheep herders in town trying to drink our saloons dry. John Day drinking water is getting very low and whisky is getting high. Mr. Pierson started to day for Burns with a load of fruit and vegetables. Several large loads of freight came in from Baker City during the week. We hear no kicking from the teamsters about the roads. Next Monday circuit court begins and all evil doers will be expected to walk up to the captains office and take their medicine like a little man. The lame man who has been soliciting alms in Canyon City during the week came down to John Day and had a jolly good time setting 'em up to the—say Mr. Ed. when you fellows get any more money we'll send another cripple up after it. They wake Rome howl you bet. We heard a regular old-time Comanche war whoop in John Day last week. Some evil minded person said it came from the barber shop, that a stranger was the victim and that the barber's chloroform had given out, but we found out that Dr. Prudin did it with his little forceps. We understand that Grant Co. is to be well represented at the Baker county fair to be held at Baker City in October. Mr. Ramsby is training one of James Norman's blooded mares and also a two-year-old gelding, and we hear that Blacksmith is also in active training and will no doubt make some of the fast horses of Baker get there in good time. Grant county has some good running horses but I have not heard of any going to Baker City. Poor Sarah Althea. Once more this dashing beauty has been left a widow, and that she is doomed to a life of crape and salt-water tears, there is no doubt. Why not hit the top to the land of the sagebrush, Sarah? bury thy aching head on the broad breast of some Oregon sheep herder and not soil thy pretty face with tears for California dudes and quack lawyers. Come to Oregon the land of milk and honey, straddle the woolly broncho, brand the festive slick ear and grow up with the county. LAKE. The Idaho conference of the M. A most ludicrous picture was presented one day this week by a gentle and familiar bovine perambulating through the alleys and getting one of her feet encased in an oil can. She was considerably worried over her predicament, and the more efforts made by humanitarians to relieve her from the predicament, until she finally released herself from the can. NEWS:—Dear Sir: I wish to offer a few facts in regard to the Pendleton and Canyon City road. Your item in the News of the 8th inst in regard to the matter I did not see until the present, for the reason that you failed to send my paper for two weeks after it appeared. As you are doubtless aware I went before the court and endeavored to induce them to approve the report, I believe then I was justified in so doing and I believe yet I was, as we were very careful in locating to avoid damages and made some slight changes in the route we had marked out for that purpose. In one instance only we could not change so as to avoid it, but the actual damage he set up was for the actual cost of the extra fencing it incurred which I believe would not exceed two hundred dollars and which I thought we could afford to pay in view of the fact that we were getting so much greater amount from the state to be used in the county. Outside of the above there was no claim for damages, although I understand that Mr. Denning was out on the line trying to induce settlers to put in claims for damages. But he was not as successful with them as he was with the county court. They wanted the road and not damages. H. H. DAVIS. JUDGE KALAHAN'S OPINION. Dr. Brown-Sequard, the most famous living authority on physiology, has made the startling discovery that an injection of the vital glandular secretions of animals into human beings rejuvenated the entire system. While this "Elixir of Life" treatment is creating such a furore throughout the country, we must not overlook the now uses for the treatment of diseases by electricity, as demonstrated by Dr. Darrin. For instance, the case of Mr. Cunningham. He lives in Wapinitia, Wasco county, Or., and can be seen by anyone. His card tells the story. Judge Kalahan's case is no less remarkable, and gives great weight to the skill of Dr. Darrin and his electric treatment. The following are reliable testimonials, and should give scientific and thoughtful men cause for study and reflection. TOTAL DEAFNESS CURED BY ELECTRICITY. Wapinitia, Wasco Co., Or. Editor Oregonian: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to make known the following facts: About two years ago I was made totally deaf in one ear and partially so in the other, so I could hear with great difficulty. I was persuaded to consult Dr. Darrin through the remarkable cures of many others, and thanks to his skill, I have reason to rejoice, as I am cured so I can hear a whisper or the tick of a watch. I think the cure a wonderful result of electric treatment. Refer to me. J. R. CUNNINGHAM. JUDGE KALAHAN'S CARD. Editor Oregonian: This certifies that Dr. Darrin has cured me of polypus. During one treatment he removed four from one ear. I can recommend him to the public as an intelligent and skillful man. Refer to me at Kalama, W. T. C. KALAHAN. DEAFNESS AND RINGING IN THE EARS. Editor Oregonian: I wish to say that Dr. Darrin cured me of partial deafness and ringing in the ears by electricity. The cure was performed in five minutes. MRS. C. SANDSTONE. Cor. Water and Cur'y Sts., South Portland. Dr. Darrin's Place of Business. Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at 235 Fifth street corner of Main, Portland.
