Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious ingredients. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D.

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. The Royal Baking Powder is unquestionably the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public. H. A. MOTT, Ph.D.

"The Royal Baking Powder is purest in quality and highest in strength of any baking powder of which I have knowledge. WM. MCMURTRIE, Ph.D.

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at other Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of the kind has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from chemical chemists, physicians, scientists and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above Picture of the Scales shows the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by a thousand tests and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was placed in the scales, and the leavening power or volume in each can calculated. The result is as illustrated. With practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every housewife knows—that of the Royal Baking Powder known by positive leavening power, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is by far the most economical, besides affording the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a comparatively high degree of strength, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

Celluloid.

There comes a warning now from the American Analyst that celluloid is made from gun cotton, and, if brought in contact with fire disastrous results may ensue. Gun cotton is known to be a powerful explosive compound, and its manufacture for experiment, or general use, is not recommended. Umbrella and cane handles, collars, cuffs, and many other articles of convenience and utility, are made from celluloid, and are in daily use by large numbers of people. Of course they can be safely used, as gunpowder is safely used, by great care and by keeping such articles away from the fire. No accident has yet been chronicled, but no person wants to be the first one to furnish a sensational item for the newspapers, himself the victim.

An Astorian gives figures to show that the value of foreign and domestic exports that went across the Columbia river entrance from August 1st, 1888, to August 24th, 1889, was $16,841,490—over two millions more than the exports of the year before. These shipments included only wheat, flour and canned salmon.

There seems to be little question but that the American display at Paris is a fizzle, Visiting Americans are ashamed of it.

The total life insurance of Johnstown victims amounted to two hundred and eighty seven thousand, three hundred dollars.

There are 40,000 Chinese in San Francisco and it is estimated that $12,000,000 is sent by them each year to China.

If a man falls in the mud, or springs in the water, why may he not summer in the country?

Of New York's 1,500,000 inhabitants 1,000,000 live in tenements.

Over 2,150,000,000 cigarettes were manufactured last year.
