

THE GRANT COUNTY NEWS.

April 10, 1890.

Catholic bishops of Brazil are preparing for the immediate issuance of a pastoral letter, declaring their refusal to accept the government's separation of church and state.

Representative Hermann has been made happy by the decision of the court of claims declaring that Silcott was a disbursing officer and the members entitled to the money he embezzled. Mr. Hermann gets his $2500, which has been withheld from him.

Mrs. Hettie Green of Brooklyn, who is worth about $50,000,000, has endowed over one hundred churches and established fifty schools. She says that benevolent objects absorb a large portion of her income, and that her son will continue the good work after she is gone.

A Number of women of Chicago have formed what they call a "Queen Isabella Association," the object of which is to raise $25,000 for a monument to the sagacious queen whose assistance enabled Columbus to fit out the expedition that resulted in the discovery of the Western world.

A bill will soon be introduced in the English house of lords providing government assistance for peers and people of rank who have fallen into poverty. Her tax upon the people to maintain the army of rank nobility is just what will convert the English government from a monarchy to a republican form of government on the death of old Queen Vic.

An epidemic called the "nontia" is ravaging Russia far and wide. Its symptoms and developments are peculiar. It begins with three days of insomnia, headache and sickness. This is followed by several days of fever and sleep, which ends in death or recovery. Cases of the disease are reported to have occurred also in Austria and Italy, and the physicians are at present at a loss in their diagnosis and have no idea of any proper treatment for it. It simply runs its course, either to recovery or death.

The man who takes a newspaper from the postoffice with no intention of ever paying his subscription would be highly indignant and grossly insulted if he were called a thief. Yet a court in Ohio recently convicted forty men of that caliber and allowed the publisher, who brought the suits, judgment to the full extent of the bill in every case. The crime charged was larceny. A few more cases may boom the collection business and cause legions of poor editors to rise to sudden affluence.

A former member of the Pall Mall Gazette's staff has just returned to England from the United States, after some seven months spent in studying American journalism by the practical process of carrying his daily bread as a working journalist, and tells the Gazette that he has come back with three great ideas: "First, that the profession of journalist is harder in New York than it is in London; secondly, that the growth of trusts establishing a monopoly of articles of necessity is the most portentous peril that threatens American development; and, thirdly, that the pope has far more power in the states than any Catholic country in the Old World. The papers are afraid to print a word to which the priest take exception, and any Catholic who goes to hear Dr. McGinnis lecture is excommunicated."

The reform conference, an organization formed for the purpose of bringing religion into the settlement of political and state affairs, has adopted a platform declaring in favor of employing the teachings of the Bible in the settlement of public affairs and the insertion of the name of the Supreme Being in the constitution. The platform also approves the Blair Sunday rest bill and all measures against gambling, pool-selling and the liquor trade. The committee reported then a call had been made upon the president, who received them kindly. The president, they reported, said that for good reasons he did not wish to be compelled to make a response to their address setting forth the objects of the association, and added that its objects were so complicated that he would require time for their consideration.

The attempt to shut all places on Sunday except those which are run in the interests of religion and the church, has led an enterprising proprietor in Boston to label his dime museum on Sunday as follows:—

Scientific Church. Grand concert and lecture on old maids and prize-fighters. Collection, 10 cents.

The genuine churches ought to be ashamed of such company as that. It may be replied that they are ashamed of it.

The Ngwa is informed of the whereabouts of one bay mare branded 10 on left thigh, W.F. connected (very indistinct), on right shoulder. Has unbranded yearling colt. Born on range about two years. Owner can learn their whereabouts by first paying a reasonable price for this advertisement.
