Guilty men are often shielded by the extremely technical rulings allowable under the law. Justice may be evaded by the finding of a legal flaw in the form of the accusation, even though the criminal may be plainly guilty. This has led certain state legislatures to declare an indictment to be sufficient which econtains a statement of the acts constituting the offense in ordinary and concise language and insuch a manner as to enable a person of common understanding to see what is intended." We give two extremely technical rulings: An indictment charged that the accused murdered the deceased with a double-barrelled shotgun loaded with gun-powder and leaden bullets. The proof showed that the under circumstances that made it a cold-blooded murder, and the jury tract from this date. convicted the defendant. But the Mt. Vernon, Or., Aug. 4, 1890. Supreme Court quashed the conviction and set the defendant free on the ground that the indictment did not inform the defendant how he used the shotgun to murder his victim, ewhether it was used as a firearm or a bludgeon, or to frighten him to death with it." Precedents can be found to support the decision. In another case the defendant was convicted of murder by stabbing his victim to death "in the left breast," and the court set the defendant free because the word "breast" was spelled "brest" in the indictment.

Ochoco Review: This season Crook county is again suffering from the effects of an old and oftcomplained of nuisance; that is, sheep from adjoining counties eating her range. Of course the NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION. City, and also all the right, title and damage done by these intruders damage done by these intruders this season is not so great as it has been in the past, owing to the limited number of stock in the county—the result of last winter—but ty—the result of last winter—b so soon as stock shall have accu mulated to the number there was a year ago, the range of this county will only be sufficient to sustain 250 the stock owned here, and our people should look toward the future and endeavor to lay a foundation for self-protection, by getting a law passed which will protect them in the future, when protection will be necessary. The bill introduced in the last legislature by Representative Williamson would be sufficiently and the sufficient by Representative Williamson would be sufficiently and the sufficient by Representative Williamson would be sufficiently for the Comment of the Representative Williamson would be sufficiently for the Representative Williamson would be sufficiently for the Comment of the Representative Williamson would be sufficiently for the Representative Williamson would be sufficiently for t and endeavor to lay a foundation cient if enacted, but it is claimed such a law would not be constitutional. If this is true, then let ns have a constitutional amendment that will admit such a law. This is a matt r in which not only Crook but every county in the Jas. M. Ferrel, Prop. state that has mountain range is interested in, and a measure that will force stock to be ranged in the county in which they are owned and taxed, should meet the approval of all such counties. Anyway Crook is deeply interested in this matter, and her representative in the legislature can do no better service than labor to the end that no droves of sheep shall be allowed to become roaming marauders, permitted to roam at will and feed
