Harney valley has begun to advertise her fall races. A grand time is expected.

Lawyer Denning has been on the sick list ever since he attended Tom Smith's fire.

Baker City is in the field aspiring for the firemen's tournament which is to take place this fall.

Earnest Stansell is the only one in this community at present that is afflicted with the measles.

Uncle John Garrison took a load of fruit to Harney last week of which he disposed of very rapidly. Fruit is a scarce article in that country.

It is said that a new comet has been seen in the heavens monkeying around the dipper. We don't wonder at the thing wanting a drink this kind of weather.

The Eastern Oregon Republican upon entering its third volume says: We are three years old to-day—old enough to wear pants. How do you like our new suit!

Mr. Duncan of John Day passed through town last week with his threshing machine on his road to Harney, where he will offer his service in that line of work.

Jo. Keeney of Long Creek came to Canyon Monday to see about doing the proper thing with the parties who entered his saloon Sunday night and tried to carry off his safe.

Miss Mollie Lehman, of Harney valley, says a Del Norte correspondent to the Items, is considering a splendid shot with a rifle, having killed fifty-two ducks besides other game this season.

Charley Jones of Harney was in town a few days during the week. He says the hay crop over there will average three times the amount of hay to what it has in former years—but they haven't the stock to feed it to.

The Sumpter Valley Railroad Company and the Irrigating Canal Company have been having a little dispute. The latter holding their claim on a certain dam site, while the former does not propose losing their title by a "slam site."

Messrs. W. M. Pearmain and R. E. Blakeney of Caleh, called on the News Tuesday, each subscribing for extra copies to send east. Mr. Pearmain who is an old '49'er will take a trip in a few weeks visiting relatives in Missouri and Illinois.

Monday last Nannie Fields, known to everyone as "Sis" Fields, was, by Drs. Orr and Horsley, adjudged insane and in a few days will be receiving proper care at Salem. Her insanity was caused by her imagination telling her that people were trying to swindle her out of her property. It having developed only recently, is not of a violent type, though it keeps two men busy guarding her.

The report came down from Prairie City Friday morning that the bear-monkey combination of which the News spoke of last week, had been attacked near that place by four of the citizens in a manner most shocking. The Italians lost no time in making their way back to Canyon and Saturday evening swore out the necessary papers to cause their arrest, claiming that they abused their women and children and of shooting the grizzly—Sullivan—through three times, the report from which he will probably die. Early Sunday morning Sheriff Cressap and Constable Tothunter, armed with two sets of papers, arrived in Prairie, and after learning that two of the gang had skipped, served the doses on the remaining two and on Monday evening were arraigned before Justice Rulison, who not finding sufficient evidence to bind them over acquitted them.

THE INSANE ASYLUM AT SALEM NOW CONTAINS 626 INMATES.

Get a chunk of Smith's ice and keep cool—Frank Metchan, agent.

The thermometer registers all the way from 90 to 100 degrees, and still they will ask, "is it warm enough for you?"

John Fisk started out yesterday morning over the county to summon the jury which has been drawn for the September term of circuit court.

Miss Celesta Kime, of Jacksonville, the unfortunate young lady who was adjudged insane and being committed to the asylum last week, died at Roseburg.

Horace Dillard who established the Items six years ago, and afterwards sold his plant and removed to Primeville, has again returned to Burns and taken charge of that paper.

Deputy Sheriff Carl came over from Long Creek yesterday morning having in charge Dan Morrow, who is suspected as being one of the party who entered Joe Keeney's saloon Sunday night.

It is said that only one white man has ever crossed the island of Newfoundland from east to west, a distance of three or four hundred miles, and this journey was accomplished more than sixty years ago.

The town of Wallace, in the Corner d'Alene mineral district, was entirely destroyed by fire last week. Every business house was burned without exception. Fifteen hundred people are left homeless. The loss is estimated at a half a million dollars.

John Parker, living at Shoal creek, Klamath county, committed suicide last week by taking laudanum. He left no word of the cause of his act. We will state now that this was not the John Parker who took a crazy man from Harney county to the asylum two years ago.

Tom Williams passed through this week on his way to Burns with his race horse Jordan, where he will enter him in the races to come off there soon. Jordan is capable of holding his own any place, and Tom is one who is not afraid to match him against the best of them.

Fred Mosier was pretty badly bruised up last Sunday evening by a horse falling and rolling over him. He had just got in the saddle and started to John Day, and the horse, being tired of a "spoiled animal," started to buck, and had only gone a short distance when he stumbled and fell, resulting in Fred being severely injured.

Mr. Hayes called on the News this week after just returning from the northern part of the county. He gives flattering reports of crops in that section, and in speaking of the town of Long Creek, says that the carpenters are all busy erecting both business and dwelling houses. He also says that the bed bugs take an active part toward making that burg lively.

A vigilance committee has been organized in Lincoln county, Washington, for the purpose of capturing and hanging horse thieves. A regular organized band of horse thieves are now operating in that county, and nearly every day reports are in circulation of farmers who have lost valuable animals by this gang.

All kinds of grain taken in exchange for fruit. Also a good assortment of vegetables for sale. Residence two miles below John Day, on The Dalles road.

Wm. LUCE, Prop.

The sheriff's trial last Monday for rights of property—a band of sheep—wherein Lewis Collette was claimant and Wm. Pearmain contestant, the jury agreed upon a verdict for contestant. It started in the circuit court wherein Wm. Pearmain was plaintiff and L. H. Warden defendant. Pearmain had the sheep attached and Collette, the third party claimed them, hence the suit. The sheep are now held under attachment.

Crook county has a smart citizen 100 years old. The Ohecho Review says: "In most cases men become feeble and averse to work when they grow old, but with Frank Nichols it is different. Frank is so old that he never has anniversaries any more, though last week with the assistance of one man, he built a quarter of a mile of wire fence—dig the post holes, set the posts and stretched the wire—in one day. Can any country boast of a centenarian who can do this?"

Democrat: J. H. Parker yesterday received a telegram from Portland, requesting him to secure all the names possible of persons not enumerated and wire the same to our representatives in congress. It is probable that Oregon will have a new count on account of the blotched-up job last time. As this is of the gravest importance to the Queen City, we trust that our citizens will exert themselves and secure the largest possible number as requested. All persons who have not been counted are earnestly requested to call at the First National Bank and register their names.

THE GREENHORN MINES.

East Oregonian.

Mr. M. Gagnon, of Walla Walla, who has an assayer's office at Greenhorn City, a tested mining camp in the Greenhorn district, is in town today. He recently returned from the mines and came over from Walla Walla to fix up the papers in a mining deal, having purchased the smugler ledge from G. T. Frankum and Wm. Turner.

Mr. Gagnon, who has been an assayer for thirty years or more, has unlimited faith in the future of the Greenhorn district, and thinks Greenhorn City will soon become a booming camp. Prospectors are daily coming in, a party of ten arriving lately from Utah and Arizona.

Some fine prospects have been developed. Mr. Frankum, although but a newcomer in the country, has found the Morris extension and made another rich discovery, both assaying away up into the hundreds and is on the high road to fortune. Turner has some good mines.

Desolation lake now offers unsurpassed inducement for campers. Along its shores may be found deer, elk, bear and feathered game, while its waters are literally alive with the finest trout.

Several families are camping out there in a unique manner. A big raft is constructed, a railing built around it, the tent put up, a campfire built, and the rusticators may eat and sleep, if they wish, on the broad bosom of the lake, throwing a line over the side at any time when they wish to increase the supply of fish.

THE EDITOR LOOSE.

Report of Things in General—Crop Notes and Fat Cattle.

FROM CANYON CITY TO HEPPNER.

DEAR NEWS:—When an editor goes away from home the world expects to keep posted in regard to his travels and his conduct. In this respect people expect more of an editor than they do of any one else.

The transition, however, from my three-cornered cushioned editorial stool to a last year's nail keg on the deck of McCoy's buckboard, which took place Friday morning, was not a circumstance to inspire holy thoughts and tender emotions in a fellow after jolting over fifty miles of rough mountain road. In language of John Wesley, "The iron pierced my soul."

Crops along the route from Canyon City to Monument are general good, and the ranchers have an abundance of hay prepared against the times of cold and snow.

Fox valley, which has been considered too frosty for anything, is surprising the natives this year by its productiveness. Fields of grain from 2 1/2 to 4 feet high and remarkably well headed are to be seen, and nearly every rancher has a garden where grows cabbage and other vegetables in great profusion. Fox will be among Grant county's most productive valleys in the way of agriculture. Mining, too, has its place in the corner of Fox, and several locations of quartz claims as well as placer ground have been located on its borders. While I was in the act of walking up a hill going out of the valley I stumbled into the quartz country, and stuck to a tree with pitch was a notice of location of a quartz lode, which, though not in strict accordance with Copp, ought to hold down any claim. I took time to copy it, and here it is except the signature: "We claim the lode from the law of de American Congress and de United States begun at this notice E H miles north of black But and run 1500 feet to the first day of January."

The city of Long Creek is having a small sized boom, and some building is being done this summer. Mrs. Ella Welch has a new hotel almost finished, and Mr. Silvertooth is erecting a saloon building, and a new school house is contemplated. Long Creekers and Hamilton folks have a fine country, and ought to feel happy.

Cattle are all picking up considerable fat, and carry more good beef on their ribs than was noticeable last March. This is due to the good range.

Passengers sleep all night at Mr. Caris' place, which is Monument. Next morning if they are alive they jump into a wagon and are hauled to Heppner over the new state road. This road has wide and easy grades, but stock has been driven over and above the road so often that stones interfere with comfortable locomotion. Especially is this the case on the Morrow county end, and those officers whose duty it is to look after the public highway appear to devote to the improvement of roads.

Morrow county ranchers claim good crops this year, and will ship away considerable wheat.

J. B. Keeney the mail contractor between Heppner and Monument has good stock on this route, and will soon stock up the Canyon City-Monument route, although McCoy of Walla Walla has the mail contract.

The News will be apprised concerning my department next week. In the meantime I must go to Portland and meet the Oregon editors, when Harvey Scott and others will open a can of salmon and we'll have a banquet.

D. I. A.

Take Notice.

As I intend to remove shortly from Grant county, I ask all persons indebted to me, to make immediate settlement of their indebtedness. During my temporary absence Mr. J. D. Sutherland is authorized to receive amounts due me, and receipt for same.

PHIL METCHAN.

Pacific Brewery Beer.

Notice is hereby given that I have this day established an agency for the sale of the Beer manufactured at the Pacific Brewery, Baker City, Or., within the county of Grant in Canyon City, and that Mr. H. Stansell is the authorized manager of said Depot. All orders from Grant county for this celebrated Beer, either in bottles or kegs, will be filled by Mr. Stansell.

Take Care! There is Danger.

In a flowing locality of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly shoals of Bright's disease and diabetes will sweep the poorly bled of health if it is allowed to drift rudely upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the helm toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In remedying a difficult urinary condition fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs without irritating and exciting them. Its effects to be appreciated from the unmeasured stimuli largely reacted to. These have a tendency to react prejudicially. The Bitters regulate the kidneys and bladder, in common with the liver and the digestive organs, and so afford long and life. It also affords relief in preventing and curing indigestion and resulting fever, biliousness, constipation and rheumatism. It is also a substitute.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9, '90.

ED. GRANT CO. NEWS:—

Another Blaine sensation was sprung on an inoffensive public this week when the statement was positively made that Speaker Reed, Mr. Harrison and other prominent republicans had entered into a conspiracy to force Mr. Blaine out of the public life. It may be said on authority that Mr. Blaine will certainly not resign until the Behring Sea controversy with England is settled; and it may be stated further also on authority that Mr. Harrison was considerably worried about this publication fearing that Mr. Blaine might believe it to be true. As to Speaker Reed, he dislikes Mr. Blaine personally, but he is too shrewd and too ambitious to want a fight with him, although it is certain that he will move Heaven and earth to defeat the reciprocity amendment to the tariff bill in the house, should the senate adopt it, as now seems probable.

The senate began yesterday morning to meet at 10 o'clock. This means that some of the senators will thunder away in tariff talk at empty chairs for two hours every morning.

Talking is contagious. The republican senators could hold in no longer, so this week they began to answer the tariff speeches recently made by the democrats. The earliest date yet set for the disposal of the tariff bill is the first of September. Vice-President Morton stood it for a few days, but he has gone again and it is not thought that he will return until it is over with. There are lots of others who would like to follow his example.

The republicans are playing "possum" on the democrats about the Federal Election bill; they grew tired of the clamor which the talk over the bill was causing, so they determined to keep it quiet until the time comes to pass it, and that it will be passed, in modified form, is now almost certain. Four out of the six republican senators who were supposed to be opposed to the bill have intimated their willingness to vote for the bill as amended by the committee.

Truly the Senate is a long way removed from the people. A bill providing a system of Postal telegraph has been favorably reported, while nothing is heard of that real boon to the people—one cent letter postage.

If abuse could kill, Speaker Reed would not live five minutes. He has made up his mind that no other public building, or private bill which carries an appropriation shall pass the house at this session and he refuses to "recognize" members who wish to call up these bills. This is rough on the members, for nothing so affects the status of a member in his district as his ability to get appropriations for public buildings. The most of the republican members content themselves with abusing Mr. Reed in private, and in letters to their constituents, but Representative Struble, of Iowa, did it in a speech on the floor of the house. He will not be likely to get good committee assignments in the next house should he be re-elected thereto and Mr. Reed be again speaker. The working men organizations too are abusing Mr. Reed because he will not give the Labor committee a day.

The republican senators do not seem to have much fear of Mr. Harrison's throat, recently made of vetoing the River and Harbor bill, if it passed with the senate amendments, for they have decided in caucus that the bill shall pass, and it has been decided that today week, to lay aside the tariff bill until the River and Harbor bill is passed.

Mr. Harrison, before leaving for a week's visit to his family, sent a special message to congress favoring the bill, prohibiting the sending of anything pertaining to a lottery, and also of newspapers containing lottery advertisements through the mails, which has been favorably reported to the house. The message has stirred up the lottery lobby which will make a great effort to strangle this bill as they have others of similar character.

294 towns of 5,000 population will have free mail delivery if a bill which has recently reported to the senate shall become a law. It will cost, according to the figures of the postoffice department, $679,229 to put the new system into operation.

A bill to regulate the manufacture and sale of compound lard has been favorably reported to the house. The opposition to this bill has been long and stubborn, and it is certain to be renewed upon the floor of the house when it is called up.

Some of the labor organizations do not like the National bankrupt law recently passed by the house and several memorials from them denouncing it have been presented to the senate.

THE MOTIVE POWER OF THE FUTURE.

Electricians of New York recently found much food for speculation in the remark said to have been made by Henry Villard just before he sailed for Europe, that it would be well to go cautiously in respect to certain expenditures for locomotives, because it was probable that within a few years the motive power of every railroad in the United States would be changed. Another version of the story is that, being approached by a man interested in the development of a new electrical discovery, Mr. Villard declared, after having examined the same, that this country is on the eve of a great mechanical and industrial revolution, so great, in fact, as to do away with steam as a manufacturing and motive power.—Oregonian, July 23.

The application of electricity to the treatment of disease is fast being revolutionized, as demonstrated daily by Drs. Darrin at their rooms corner Washington and Fourth Sts., Portland, as the following personal endorsements show beyond any doubt. These cures were made four years ago, and show conclusively that cures by electricity are permanent:

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:
