THE GRANT COUNTY NEWS.

October 16, 1890.

Emma I. Morris taken to the asylum from Washington county is crazy from the thought that her relatives are all against her, and that there are serpents about her. She seeks to keep on the friendly side of the devil by setting aside for him offerings of food, etc.

The house of representatives has at last disposed of a very old claim that has been before congress for many years for the relief of William J. Martin, a pioneer of the state of Oregon, who in 1849 furnished a number of cattle to the military post at Fort Hall, Utah, but failed to get a balance of about $75.20 due him on his contract.

The United States contains about one-twentieth of the world's population, but it consumes 28 per cent, of the world's crop of sugar, 30 per cent, of the world's production of coffee, nearly one-third of the world's production of iron, about one-third of the world's steel and copper, and more than a quarter of the world's cotton and

Those Editors who wish the Total amount of unpaid county warrants United States to give the insignificant little Central American republic Gautemala a shaking up on account of the killing of Gen. Barrundia on a vessel carrying our

In one copy of a New York paper we read of a man who attempted suicide and explained his net by saying that he was hungry and wanted to die, and of a New York woman who gave a small dinner at Newport, the cost of Date 1890 which was $10,000. Such contrasts as these are always impressive and in the hands of those who choose to make capital out of them are apt to be irritating.

The Rev. Dr Talmage believes that people now living will be able to make a trip from the United States to Jerusalem without crossing the ocean. He referred to the proposed railroad which is to cross Behring Straits on a bridge thirty miles long. If any of our readers are thinking of making a trip to the Holy Land we should not advise them to wait for the completion of the Behring

The fact that Genoa proposes getting up an opposition Columbus exposition in 1892 has stirred our Chicago cousins to action at last. The news came over the water that the South American republies rather favored the Genoa idea, and the fact became apparent for the first time that Chris, discovered their half of the continent in a general way along with the United States territory. It is a relief to know that our Chicago triends have finally been aroused. Competition is the life of trade.

The Milwankee Sentinel thinks that it is a little unreasonable to expect the average man to keep track of all his family relations. There are genealogical cranks who do this, who keep a complete reties, who have family trees with branches running off into the remotest connections so that they can tell in a moment all about their brothers inlaw both first and second hand and all that. But most men are too busy looking after their immediate personal af fairs to devote any time to this sort of thing.

Every person admires courage and in some form or other in the STATE OF GREGON, lives of every one this desirable quality is exhibited in some degree. No class of people exhibit courage of a better quality or to a greater degree than those hardy and honest men and women who are the poincers of civilization in a new country. They must leave their homes and loved ones for uncertainties of life in a new land. When they know that it must be years before the luxuries, or perhaps many of the comforts of civilization can reach them. They have no society and perhaps almost no neighbors. Day by day and week by week by hard work the little clearing around their cabin grows larger but the change from wilderness to cultivated farm is very slow and privations and discomforts are many before the rallroad and the town come close and make the farm lands of great value as additions to the growing Lake city and the owner, a man of wealth.
