Shaken Out of Gear.
By internal disease, the human machinery cannot perform its office. Digestion, secretion, excretion are disordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feeble, the countenance ghastly, sleep disturbed and appetite exhausted. Terrible in its disease, fatal in its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to the automatic poison, and a certain safeguard against it. In various regions of our South and West, in southern America, Guiana and on the isthmus of Panama, as well as in transmarine countries where the average climate is insupportable, and where the average diet is unwholesome, a remedy, Hottel's stomach Bitters, has, during the last thirty-five years, been constantly relieving the area of its operation, and demonstrating its sovereign value. Liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, flatulency, and debility are all remedied by it.
