This does not open the whole question, but simply permits the government to prove, if it can, that the present holders did not purchase the road and lands in good faith. The question of actual construction of the road becomes immaterial under this raling.

The U. S. Supreme rourt is expoeted soon to render a vendict in the "Celebrated King case," which was commenced before a justice of the peace in Tennessee and finally lodged in the U.S. enpreme court. Mr. King was quietly plowing in his field on Sanday, and was arrested for adisturbing his neighbors" by laboring on that day. He belonged to the Seventh Day Adventists, and in common with the rest of the Christian church, believes in the sanctity of a day of rest, but differs with most of them as to the day on which the command to rest is attached, and he consequently rested on Saturday, if not notice and plowed quietly in his field or Sunday. If a Seventh day Adventist can be punished for observ. We ing the Sabbath day and working on Sunday, it naturally follows that the same punishment can be imposed upon the Hebrews. It remains to be seen whether this relic of religious intolerance will sent the publisher to the fine the first three sections of publisher to the fine the publisher to the fine the publisher to the fine the publisher to the fine to receive the sapetion of the supreme court of the United States.

Used the Crown Six Years.

BURNT RIVER, March 1, 1800. MESSIS BASCHE & CO. I have been using the Crown niachine with the greatest satisfaction for six years. It is a very light running and durable machine. As long as I have used the machine it never has raised a sweat on my team. It is also very light on the horses necks. Yours Truly, Gro. W. Elliour

Simply the Boss Dunwers, Or March 17, 1888). Messus BASCHE & CO.

The machine I, bought runs like a top and I think it lays all others in the shade in all kinds of grass and all kinds of ground. It is simply the boss for light draft and speed. M.F. Howkup

Payean Crev. Feb. 27, 1890. MESSES BASCHE & CO. I will state without hesitation that the Crown mower that I purchased of you last year has given good satisfaction, and is my preference of any mower I have ever used. Very Respectfully. G. W. McHAINY.

The Acme of Perfection.

Juny Day March 14, 1890.

MESSES BASCHE & CO. I think the acme of perfection has been reached in the invention of the Crown mower. We have been disgusted every year in trying to mow our meadow, on which grows a pe-culiar kind of grass. All other insolines we tried would leave half the bay standing, but the Crown cut it as smooth as a new-shaven face. We tried it with like results in all kinds of grain, hay and rye grass. All our neighbors who soe it work think it is the boss of all mosters. Yours Respectfully, T. H. CCRI.

> The Very Best Mower. CAMP LOUAS, March 2, 1890.

Massas BASCHE & CO. In regard to the Grown mower, I like it very well. It works well in all kinds of grass, and where the grass is lodged or very rank by putting on the increased speed it works to a charm. It is the best mower we have in this country, and I can recommend it to any person wishing to purchase mowers. Yours Respectfully. J. J. Garren.
