

THE GRANT COUNTY NEWS,

October 22, 1891.

The brother of the king of Siam is named Dam-Rong. With a name like that he will have to lead a life but little short of that of an angel to prove that he is all right.

A new kind of cash register, which lops off the fingers of those who attempt to rob it, is in operation in Wilmington, Del., where a thief left a deposit of one of his fingers the other night in one of them.

The Australian ballot system adopted by the last legislature, is going to be an extensive piece of business for the several counties. Every forty voters must have a wooden or steel booth, to be provided by the sheriff. The observance of the law will cost each county from $2500 to $6,000.

Judge Paschal, of Texas, refused to grant naturalization papers to one R. N. Sauer the other day because Mr. Sauer had proclaimed himself a socialist. The court declared that the principles of socialism were directly opposed to the constitution of the United States. A righteous judge is Judge Paschal. May his tribe increase.

The Chilean revolution only cost $70,000,000. The annual pension list in this country is double that amount, and yet our civil war ended a quarter of a century ago. It is not the cost of carrying on the war that particularly burdens the producers but the "expenditures" after the war is what does them up.

If the holy coat at Treves has only been able to perform twelve miracles of healing among two million pilgrims, and even these twelve are not such as the authorities there are careful to endorse, it may well be believed that the virtue is gone out of it; that is, if it ever had any. There are millions in it, however, for the cathedral and clergy.

During the past week about forty men have been discharged from the employ of the Wagner Palace Car company, at East Buffalo, because they were members of an organization of anarchists. A short time ago a number of men who were employed on piece work had arranged to strike on a certain day, but on arriving at the works found a force of men ready to take their places. They mixed lye with the paint used in finishing cars. Trouble is likely to follow.

Among the subjects which will come up for action before the next congress is that of immigration and the regulation thereof. There promises to be a considerable amount of new material bearing on the subject available. In the first place there will be a report from the commissioners who are now abroad investigating the subject in the different European countries, and who, if advance intimations by cable of what they will have to present are not exaggerated, will have some highly interesting facts to lay before congress.

The state press is quite generally taking up the demand for some prompt and definite action in the direction of an Oregon exhibit at the world's fair. This is commendable. A united press is a power, and we hope to see every newspaper in Oregon urge this matter constantly and persistently. Ridicule or abuse of the last legislature is not what is needed, however deserved. The action of the legislature cannot now be helped. Some plan to raise money must be adopted, and a good many men with money must contribute liberally. This is what is needed.—Telegram.

The efforts of impoverished Italy to run a race with prosperous France to see which can build the strongest navy, give better evidence of her ambition to be reckoned among the first class powers of Europe than of her ability to maintain that position. She is staggering under the load of army and navy she is compelled to carry in times of peace, and in the event of war would be crushed by it. She could support her army and navy in actual service but a few weeks without the financial assistance of her allies, and for this would find the day of reckoning a hard one. The nation that lets ambition exceed its resources, is sure to learn that pride goeth before a fall.

THE GIST OF IT.

The name of one of the blackest colored men in Mexico, Mo., is Green Brown.

The Quakers have three hundred and fifty women teachers in the United States.

One sheet of paper recently made was eight feet wide and seven and three-quarter miles long.

It takes a sailing vessel one hundred and twenty-five days to sail from Philadelphia to San Francisco.

After a Beaver county (Pa.) man burned a log he found in the ashes a lump of silver worth $250.

You kick the bucket and I do the rest" heads the advertisement of an undertaker in a St. Louis newspaper.

A Reading (Pa.) man has just received a letter mailed to him by his soldier brother twenty-seven years ago.

A local preacher of Pottstown, Pa., has been living on one meal a day for thirty years and is in excellent health.

FARMERS are traveling by the score to Mystic, Conn., to get a look at a grapevine on which a potato vine is growing.

Texas is a church building in New York every inch of the front of which is concealed by a luxuriant growth of ivy.

Sono, W. Va., has a unique railroad station. It is built around a giant elm tree, and the roof is shaped like an umbrella.

A MINNEAPOLIS inventor claims he can fly to St. Paul and back within fifteen minutes by the aid of his new-fangled machine.

DAINTY NEEDLEWORK. HEAVY lichen sheets are marked with one large initial embroidered in white just below the wide upper hem.

An exceedingly attractive tealoth has a decoration of violets embroidered in the natural color and looking as if they had been scattered carelessly over the white cloth.

HONEY-COMB canvas is again in favor for fancy work. An easy way of decorating it is to outline a conventional design in white linen floss and then darn in the surface of the design with gold cord.

A REASONABLE quilt with design of conventionalized carnations is made of white linen damask. The pattern is boldly drawn; a bird occupies the center, and this and some overhanging fringe give the quilt a quaintness all its own.

A VERY pretty frame for small engravings or oilings. The foundation of the frame may be flat, thin wood or heavy pasteboard, over which the silk is stretched. Cut the silk in lengthwise strips and lay them flat on the frame, but make a full puff in each corner where the strips join.—N. Y. World.

IN THE COURT ROOM. A MONTREAL judge has decided that a hotel cook is not a domestic servant.

TWO CITIZENS in St. Joseph, Mo., have been retained in suits against their fathers.

A SHERIFF at Gadsden, Ala., allowed part of a jury under his care to visit a saloon and drink beer. His indiscretion cost him a $50 fine.

AN Irish judge was presented with white gloves the other day to mark the return of a calendar in his riding.

A THREE in female costume arrested in New York the other day proved to be a man who had been wearing women's clothes for a number of years.

A JUDGE who is holding court at Broken Bow, Neb., is forcing attorneys to get up in the morning, as he has the docket called at 7:30 a. m., sharp.

STICKLENS for justice may appear very ridiculous, but they don't care for that. There are three suits in court at Ann Arbor, Mich., growing out of the loss of four trawlers.

ART AND LITERATURE. The proportion of Anglo-Saxon words in the English Bible is ninety-seven per cent. of the whole.

The Metropolitan museum of art has enriched its collection of antique bronzes by a statuette of Hercules. The diminutive hero stands four inches in height.

CONGRESSMAN BELDEN has offered to build and give to the city of Syracuse, N. Y., a fireproof library and art building to cost not less than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The Press club of Brussels intends to give a medieval tournament, with proper appointments, knighthood, in armor, heralds at arms, galleries with ladies, companions and horses, and the rest.

At a recent art sale in Florence, the so-called throne of Giuliano de Medica (a sort of sofa, with a high back supported by columns, carved by Baccio d'Arnolfo in the sixteenth century, was sold to an Englishman for $7,000.

The Philosophical society of Berlin offers a prize of 1,000 marks (250) for the best essay on the relation of philosophy to the empirical science of nature. The essay may be written in German, French, English or Latin, and must be sent in before April 1, 1893.

A BEAUTIFUL piece of sculpture from ancient Ephesus has formed the British museum. The relief shows part of a marble ball, the head being exquisitely carved, while the figure of a goddess appears on the body. It is supposed to be two thousand years old.

SIGHTS OF THE COMING FAIR. THE National Lithographers' association has decided to make an extensive exhibit of lithography.

PLANS for the new life-saving station, which will be a part of the United States government's exhibit, have been completed.

AN international exposition regatta is talked of as one of the attractions of the world's fair. It is believed that the great oarsmen of the world can easily be induced to participate in such an event.

LIEUT. SAFFORD, special exposition commissioner to Peru, has secured a collection of Indian antiquities found in the graves of the tribes that inhabited the coast region of northern Peru before the conquest.

THE visitor to the exposition will have an opportunity of learning, among other things, just how a first-rate post office is managed. A working model of such an office will be a part of the United States government exhibit.

WOMEN OF MANY TYPES.

When a young Chicago street-car conductor suddenly sickened on his trip the other day, his sweetheart donned his cap and collected fares until relieved at the end of the run.

A woman who was killed in a runaway accident at Waterville, Me., in life had red hair, but when her body was taken up it was found that her hair had turned to a very dark brown, probably through fright.

FIVE years ago a St. Louis girl was caught by her mother being kissed by a painter at work on the house. The old lady rushed out and pulled the girl into the house. That was the last anyone saw of the girl. Since then her room is locked and the shutters tied and no one sees her.

A woman appeared at College Point, L. I., a few days ago with a beautiful collection of birds, which she called Australian warblers. She sold them rapidly at one dollar each. The birds turned out to be common English sparrows, with their feathers artistically painted.

A FORKEDOV (Pa.) woman has applied for a divorce because she is compelled to fight wildcats too often. The part of the country where she and her husband live is infested with these animals, and as he refuses to move, she wants to leave him. She says that in the last three years she has killed forty three cats.

THE HEPPNER WAREHOUSE

Has been enlarged to accommodate the increasing business. The wools of this section which accumulate at Heppner, attract all the leading Western buyers to that point, and make it the best market in which the grower can dispose of his clip.

Last season over 1,000,000 pounds of wool was sold in Heppner at prices which averaged the grower more clear money than was realized by sales of similar wools in other western markets more distant from the manufacturing centers of the East.

Teamsters charges advanced on written orders. Cash advanced on wool in storage.

T. E. FELL, Manager.
