PARKER'S MASCOT.

His Ancient Ring Brought Seattles Mayor Victory.

Colonel F. J. Parker, the picturesque genius who presides over the destinies of the Walla Walla Statesman, has been on a sojourn at Seattle. It was not the sad, sweet moans of the sea, lamenting in Puget Sound, that drew the Walla Walla editor thither. Even the calming charms of his ranch at Yaquina could not keep him from the city in the north. Like a bird of passage, he winged his way thither. Like the warhorse, which scents the fray from afar, he fled from his paddock.

There were sounds of preparation for the bloodless battle of ballots. Mayor Humes was a candidate for re-election. His opponents had exhumed their battle-axes, preparatory to making an "ex" of Humes. Their glistening snickersnees had leaped flashing from their scabbards. Even the clergymen, so says report, had taken the field against Mr. Humes, advising their flocks to flock in some other direction—any old way, save toward Humes.

Colonel Parker soliloquized. Tugging at his grizzled mustachios, he turned his ear towards the city on the booming Sound. In megaphone tremolos he heard the far cry of Humes and his cohorts.

"Come over into Macedonia and help us," came the invitation. The doughty Colonel could not resist the summons. Had not Tom Humes been his friend?

Packing his valise, Colonel Parker took a clean shave and his sacred mascot with him and reported for duty in the vanguard of the Humes henchmen at Seattle. He knows a thing or two, does Colonel Parker. He sniffed at the opposition to Humes. It did not know "what charms, what conjuration and what mighty magic" were latent in the mighty talisman he carried.

Colonel Parker carries with him a band of gold—real Irish gold—which he counts dearer than any other of his single earthly possessions. Colonel Parker's finger-ring—for such it is—has a story which has often been told. Tradition has it that that the ring is more than 2,000 years old. It is said to have been recovered from the midst of the ages within an ancient castle in the Emerald Isle of the Celts. Tradition says, further, that to him who wears the ring success is bound to come. The powerful guardian banshee—the tutelary spirit that hovers around the relic—has never forsaken it.

To those who might question the fairness of Colonel Parker's political motives, be it known that "all things are fair in love and war." Advanced minds of the present age have appropriately added to this apothegm—"and politics." The magic ring of Colonel Parker has been worn by more than one man who accredits his success to its miraculous influence. At least four United States Senators who have worn this wonderful golden circlet, have forged their way to their goal, despite all opposition. What there is about the antiquated bit of jewelry that exorcises the demons of failure and hoodoos—their power perhaps some seer with psychic optics can disclose.

Colonel Parker is decidedly a vigorous character—a man of action—loyal and true to every friend. He girded on his armor and sallied forth prpared to wage war on the anti-Humes coprts. He was ready to do battle with th Philistines—to smite them in the thigh even though it is "agin" the Marquis of Queensbury rules to "strike below the belt." He induced Tom Humes to wear the ring, and the Celtic wraith smiled grimly. The public already knows that Tom Humes won out, though not on a "royal flush." Who can say that the ring did not do the business?

To arrange his plumage a little bit askew as the result of the recent goreless scrimmage at Seattle, Colonel Parker stopped off, while en route for Walla Walla, at the Imperial Hotel. As he told the tale of Tom Humes' victory, he jealously allowed The Journal representative to handle his magic ring.

STILL THEY COME

General Passenger Agent Craig, of the O. R. & N., has returned from a three weeks' junket in the East. He is glad to get back. He "hiked" about considerably, dividing his time between St. Paul and Minneapolis, and Chicago and St. Louis.

It is Mr. Craig's opinion that the Pacific Northwest is sure to get, as it is already getting, more immigration than for many a day. Asked as to why this is so, Mr. Craig replied:

"It is simply due to the systematic work of the O. R. & N. in persistently advertising. The efforts are now culminating. Then again, the railroads are getting together on matters of common interest."

OVER THE WIRES.

The Boer General, Delarey, capured General Lord Methuen, killing three officers and 38 men. Five officers and 72 men were wounded. Two hundred English soldiers are missing.

Secretary of War Long has resigned. Congressman Moody, of Massachusetts, takes his place in the Cabinet.

The Illinois anti-trust law is declared unconstitutional.

The United States Government has filed its suit to test the constitutionality of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific merger.

The Commercial Club of Vancouver, Wash., has given up its fight for the wagon bridge in connection with the railroad bridge over the Columbia.

Without apparent cause, Pat Moore employed on a ranch belonging to Mrs John S. Devine, of Harney County, shot and instantly killed George Simpson foreman. The murderer then saddled a horse and escaped.

The trouble between Germany and Venesuela is approaching settlement.

Many Turkish princes have been sentenced to perpetual banishment.

Russia promises to withdraw from Manchuria, China, within 18 months.

United States Minister Conger banquetted the Chinese officials at Pekin last evening.

The proposed tariff on Cuban importations is likely to be revised, favorable to Cuba.

THE RAILROADS.

Local shippers are inclined to kick at the delay in consignments from the East. The protests they file are sufficiently rasping to be heard. The sound of most things are audible when filed, by the way. Overdue shipments are traceable to the badly crippled condition of the roads in Pennsylvania, inundated by the recent floods at Pittsburg.

The O. R. & N. has recently completed arrangements to ticket its passengers through Yellowstone Park at a more favorable rate than formerly. This places the O. R. & N. upon an even basis with competitors.

The Northern Pacific freight department has put in an unusually low tariff on scrap iron from Montana points to Tacoma, Seattle and Portland, it names a rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds, and also of $6 per ton. These rates expire June 15.

L. B. Gorham, commercial agent of the Rock Island, has appeared in a new role. He throws his visiting Eastern friends up against Portland's Chinatown. Traveling Freight Agent Menzies plots the tourists, and introduces them to the mysteries of chop suey and sam shu.

William H. Mead, general agent of the "Omaha," has returned from Astoria. He reports his clam orchard as flourishing. His razor clams have received their spring shave. The littlenecks have ordered the latest style two-story stand-up collars. Billy feels cheerful at the outlook.

Railroad hustlers are working up business in bunches. Among those put up town thus engaged are B. H. Trumbull, commercial agent of the Illinois Central; M. J. Roche, traveling passenger agent of the Rio Grande; General Agent Clock, of the Wisconsin Central and Jay W. Adams, Pacific Coast Agent of the Nickel Plate. When last heard from these gentlemen were at large in Seattle.

H. H. Embry, general freight agent of the Rock Island, at Topeka, Kan., for territory west of the Missouri River, has terminated his visit here. He left Sunday night over the new line of the company, via San Francisco, Los Angeles and El Paso, to Kansas City. He was accompanied by Mrs. Embry, who was greatly impressed with Portland's climate, and took great interest in a Chinese funeral—the first she had ever seen.

CITY BRIEFS

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Public Works, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when bids for city printing will be opened and considered. No other business of importance is expected to come before the body.

Martin Hawkins, arrested for petty larceny of clothing from G. Temple, at First and Jefferson streets, was held in $500 bail for the Grand Jury.

On Wednesday evening the Council of Jewish Women will hold a bazaar in the Concordia rooms, Sixth and Alder streets. The public is invited.

The directors of the Portland Baseball Club will receive bids for concessions and score cards on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the office of Wm. Goldman, in the Oregonian bldg. The right will be reserved to reject any or all bids and the directors will reserve the right to regulate sale of all concessions.

The United Presbyterian Church will soon begin the erection of a handsome new edifice at the corner of Sixth and Montgomery streets.

The Portland Park Commission, in its first report, just made, urges the attention of the citizens to the importance of liberal annual tax for the maintenance of the public parks. Teh Commissioners feel they should be authorized to purchase new territory.

An effort will be made to straighten the street line of Vancouver avenue, and give that avenue a uniform width of 60 feet, between Morris and Alberta streeets, by securing voluntary dedications from the property owners.

Hon. H. W. Corbett commends adherence to recent court decisions in the assessment of abutting property owners for street improvements, and that a single piece of property be taken at on time for paving, instead of the entire side of a street or a whole block. He also suggests that the wooden blocks on Fourth street have stone centers and brick sides, also that two or three carts be kept constantly running in making street repairs.

The Spokane Chamber of Commerce will take no action relative to the opening of the Upper Columbia. Congress has disposed of that matter in the rivers and harbors appropriation bill.

The Columbia River Basin Board of Trade meeting will not be held in Portland at the time appointed because of lack of organization. All commerical bodies of the Northwest are entitled to two representatives at the metings of the board, with an additional representative for every 1000 pople in the town census. No organization may send more than 20 delegates. A membership fee of $10 is charged by the central board.

Portland Club, 4th street, near Alder.

The George Wright and Lincoln-Garfield G. A. R. campfire Friday evening was largely attended, and a delightful program was rendered. Dr. H. W. Talbott, of the Taylor Street M. E. Church, was among the speakers.

The registration books will be kept open until 9 o'clock P. M. Thursday.

Oriental Rug Co., 346 Washington st.

The Clinton Kelly Board of Trade will meet this evening. Considerable important business is on the docket.

DESCHUTES IRRIGATION.

President Lytle, of the Columbia Southern, has a word or two to say regarding the delay in the matter of the Deschutes irrigation projects.

President Lytle partly summarizes the situation thus:

"The Columbia Southern would be pleased to have the members of the State Land Board assemble and take as speedy action as possible in the matter of the contracts for the irrigation of the Deschutes country.

"I understand," said he, "that there is no particular hitch now, except in the appointment of one man, a perfect stranger to the questions at issue. He is to examine the field notes and to report as to the cost of irrigation. Upon his report the several contracts will be awarded. This gentleman is G. L. Dillman, of Astoria.

"It will take Mr. Dillman at least six months to familiarize himself with the needs of the Deschutes country, I suppose. He may be a very good man, but it would seem that a man should be given the place who is already familiar with existing conditions, so as to expedite matters.

"This delay is quite serious. Out of the great number of homeseekers now coming, who would otherwise locate in the Deschutes region, a large number now go to Washington."

AFTER HERMAN.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—Senators Perkins and Bard have received telegrams from the California Miners' Association, requesting an investigation of the report taht teh "scrippers" in the Bakersfield oil district are trying to secure the removal of Land Commissioner and Secretary Hitchcock, who made the findings against the scrippers, and secure the appointment of men favorable to the scrippers.

Senator Bard replied that he thinks such a movement is under way, but Senator Perkins thinks there is nothing in it.

CITIES BUILD DOWN STREAM

All great cities on navigable streams start at the head of navigation and build down stream. This rule has no exception. The railroad to St. Johns opens the way for Portland to follow the rule. There will soon be a solid city to the point of the Peninsula and University Park will be the center of wealth and culture of all the city between the rivers. Nobody will dispute this statement. If you are a stranger here step into any place of business and ask, "What is the course of the business growth of this city?" The answer will be as above stated. Now is the time to get a few lots at University Park while they are yet cheap. We have Columbia University, Portland public schools, Bull Run water, street cars, homes costing from $1000 to $10,000, graded boulevards, graded streets, sidewalks, electric street lights. Lots $75 to $200 each. Terms, $5 cash and $5 monthly. No interest, no taxes, no shanties, no saloons. Abstract with each deed.
