

COURT REVERSED.

(Journal Special Service.)
MELONA, Mont., March 18.—The Supreme Court has reversed the order of Judge William Clancy, of Butte, fixing Wakenman Sutton for contempt of court in violating the injunction obtained by the Plymouth Mining Company against any work being done by Siles F. King or his employees on a certain disputed part of the Plymouth claim at Butte, holding that it had no basis in law.

THE AVENGER.

Automobile Built to Smash Other Automobiles.

(Journal Special Service.)
PARIS, March 18.—Edward Foster, a rich Tennesseean, is one of the most extraordinary Americans ever seen in Paris. His wife and child were killed by a rapidly driven automobile, and he ordered a machine made especially for the purpose of revenge. It was heavy and strongly built, with a brake like a man-of-war's prop. It is the deadliest looking machine imaginable, and is named "Avenger."

"They killed my wife and child and destroyed my happiness forever," he explains. "They terrorize and make the lives of countless people miserable. I could not get justice in the courts."

M'CORNICK WILLIN'

(Journal Special Service.)
SALT LAKE, March 18.—William S. McCornick, of this city, has signified his willingness to enter President Roosevelt's cabinet, should a vacancy occur through the resignation of Secretary Hitchcock.

THE CHURCHES.

The Taylor-Street M. E. Sunday school is preparing an elaborate Easter program. The Kenilworth Presbyterian church Sabbath school is preparing an interesting Easter program. This church was reopened a little over a year ago, after being "dark" for several years.

Dr. H. J. Talbot, pastor of the Taylor-Street M. E. church, opened the eyes of many old-time Methodists at the morning services Sunday. His text related to Christ's relation to the church. In the notice of his sermon he paid high tribute to the Roman church for its zeal in the missionary field.
