The anthracite labor trouble is viewed by Wall street with complacency, as it is believed there will be no strike, the miners having carefully refrained from pressing the chief point of irritation to the operators in recognition of the union.

GOSPEL MEETINGS.

The gospel meetings conducted at the Rodney Avenue Christian Church by Evangelist E. C. Patterson, of Indiana, assisted by Miss Nora McCormick, also of Indiana, as leader of song and soloist, are having an auspicious beginning. Attendance and interest show appreciation of the efforts of both speaker and singer. Mr. Patterson is a speaker of much power and as a Bible teacher has few superiors. He is now presenting a series of discourses which should be heard by all. Miss McCormick is an inspiring chorus leader and her solos win all hearts. These meetings will continue indefinitely, beginning each evening at 7:30.

UNDECIDED.

Williams Not Hanking To Be Mayor.

He Will Give His Final Decision Tonight.

Judge Williams has not given his answer to the Republican state-makers as to whether he will accept the nomination for Mayor. He had decided last night not to enter the contest, but the Independents persuaded him today so hard that he withdrew his decision and said that he would finally settle the matter this evening. The chances are now that he will accept the nomination.

Judge Williams was asked this afternoon what he had to say about it. He replied: "After having determined last night and this morning that I would decline to accept the nomination, I have told the young men who have been pressing me to run that I would further consider the matter today and that my reply tonight must be final. I am still as strongly disinclined as ever to run, but a great deal of pressure is being brought to bear on me. I may yet yield, but I do not think so now. There can be no appeal from my decision tonight, because I will leave the city tomorrow to be gone several days."

Should Judge Williams decline the plum it is believed by many that the best man to nominate would be Mayor Rowe.

A. L. Mills is mentioned as a strong man, and what to do with ex-Mayor Storey is yet a problem. Mr. Storey has some friends and some enemies in the delegation, and the mention of his name precipitates wrangling. Mr. Storey will be satisfied with the office of Sheriff if that is given him, but others also want this job.

A caucus of the one hundred independent delegates will be held tomorrow, and it is likely that all these battles will be fought then, although there is considerable talk of an "open convention." In fact, the Independents virtually pledged themselves, after the nomination of the Legislative ticket, to give the regular organization a fair division of the offices.

State Senator C. W. Fulton of Astoria is in the city. Mr. Fulton is a prominent candidate for the United States Senate. He was asked about his prospects. The Astoria statesman replied that he could not truthfully tell of this without apparently blowing his own horn. The Senator did not like to do. At any rate he is sanguine, satisfied and seemingly solid with the situation.

Judge Stephen A. Lowell, the Umatilla County jurist, scholar, statesman and Utopian politician, who is also a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, is in the city. Judge Lowell says his candidacy is just where it always was—in the hands of the people. He does not take any interest in ward politics or factional fights, and believes that he will develop considerable strength in the convention.

The Democrats are having almost as much trouble over who shall run for Mayor as their Republican brothers. Much pressure is being brought to bear on State Senator R. D. Inman, but so far he has refused to allow his name to be mentioned in connection with the office. W. E. Robertson has many followers, and so has John Lamont. Mr. Lamont is understood to be the choice of Mr. Inman.

The Democrats apparently will have a Kilgenny cat fight over the struggle for the nomination for County Judge. The latest avowed aspirant is Judge Thomas O'Day. Other candidates who will make a fight are Oglesby and Young, L. B. Adams, E. B. Seabrook and C. J. Snabel.

The Democratic nomination for Sheriff is apparently conceded to John Driscoll.

PASSED AWAY.

Thomas H. Strowbridge, whose serious illness was mentioned in these columns yesterday, died at St. Vincent's Sanatorium in the afternoon.

The funeral will be held from his late residence at Kenilworth at 2 P. M. on Thursday, Dr. Edgar P. Hill officiating. Interment will be at Lone Fir cemetery. The news of Mr. Strowbridge's illness was a great surprise to his many acquaintances throughout the city, where he was born and raised and so well known. Few knew of his sickness, or that he ever had been afflicted with heart trouble, and were quite unprepared to read that he was lying at death's door. Mr. Strowbridge was a man of fine education, a genial companion and a past-master in the art of persuasive business conversation. He was 42 years old.

WILL NOT ADMIT IT

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
LONDON, March 25.—Government officials will not admit that a general armistice has been effected in South Africa pending negotiations with General Schalk Burger looking toward a peace movement. The absence of all war news, however, gives color to the report that an armistice exists. The British press and public are very optimistic regarding the cessation of hostilities.

STREET CONTRACTS.

The Board of Public Works will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock and award the budget of contracts for street and sewer work that were opened at the last meeting. The board will also consider the purchase of a steam street roller. This purchase has been provided for by Council and it is thought the roller will create an innovation in street work. The roller will cost $5,500.

TROOPS ARE ORDERED HOME

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
WASHINGTON, March 25.—A long conference was held this afternoon at the War Department between Governor Wood and President Palma and Senor Quesada with reference to the transfer of United States troops now in Cuba. It was decided that all soldiers there, with the exception of three batteries of coast artillery shall be ordered home on May 20. The official order will be promulgated tonight.

NO NEWS.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
LONDON, March 25.—In the Commons today Balfour announced that no further information from South Africa has been received since yesterday.

MRS. FORD DEAD.

Mrs. Ford, wife of Detective H. P. Ford, died this morning at 3 o'clock at the family home, 729 Johnson street. Mrs. Ford has been an invalid with heart trouble for some time. The body will be taken to Hillsboro tomorrow morning for burial. Detectives Snow, Kerrigan, Day, Weiser, Condon and James Roberts, brother officers, will act as pallbearers.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
SEATTLE, March 25.—Frank Huntley, the hero at Santiago, of the United States Battleship Oregon, fell down a ladder on the battleship today and broke his neck. His death was instantaneous.

STEAMER LIBELED

Contractor Daniel Kern of this city has filed a $500 damage suit in the Admiralty Court against the British steamship Oceano, on account of injuries received in a collision with the libellant's scow at Astoria yesterday. Kern is under contract with the United States government to remove a portion of the Sylvia de Gras Reef at Astoria. He had two work scows, provided with machinery, anchored in the stream. The Oceano, commanded by Captain McIntyre, ran into one of them and cut it in two, doing considerable damage to the machinery. The Oceano at the time was bound out with a cargo of lumber and it is charged that she was carelessly handled and responsible for the accident. The Oceano is owned by Andrew Weir & Co. of Glasgow, Scotland.

THE CUBAN THIEVES

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
WASHINGTON, March 25.—Governor Wood has received a telegram confirming the press report regarding the sentences of Neely, Reeves and Rathbone, and stating that the defendants had taken an appeal to the Supreme Court of Cuba. In high official circles the sentences are quite generally applauded, but Rathbone has many friends here who claim that he was guilty of nothing more than extravagance.

LAVIGNE IN TOWN.

Billy Lavigne arrived in town yesterday and will look after Mike Donovan in his bout with Dutch Thurston (tomorrow night at the Exposition building. Both seek excellent help of condition and seek fairly confident of winning. The winner will probably be matched with Al Neill.

SOCIALIST GAINS.

STOLE CURIOS.

Searle Whitehouse, an English sailor, who recently arrived here, was arrested by Officers Day and Welner for stealing an overcoat belonging to the Rev. Dr. Blackburn. He also stole some Filipino curios from Rev. Dr. Gilbert and another coat from J. Fenton. Whitehouse has confessed and most of the property has been recovered by the police.

TRIP POSTPONED.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
LONDON, March 25.—The Queen has postponed her trip to Denmark to attend her father's birthday celebration, owing to the gales along the coast. The storms are of great energy.

CHARGED WITH INSANITY

N. H. Richardson is being held by the police pending an examination as to his sanity. Richardson has been working in the Villard House for a few weeks. He is not violent, but last night seemed to have lost his reason entirely.

VETERANS MEET.

The anniversary of the battle of Malabon will be celebrated at 25 East Tenth street, the residence of J. W. Kinney and wife, this evening. The event will be conducted under the auspices of Gilbert Camp No. 26 and Gilbert Auxiliary S. A. W. V., and all Spanish-American war veterans are invited to attend. All visiting members and their friends will be tendered a reception. A formal toast will be drunk to all survivors of that battle. Short stories and reminiscences will be related by the participants, and refreshments will be served. Just before adjournment a solemn toast will be drunk to the absent ones who fought and fell at Malabon. There will be also appropriate songs and recitations.

The gathering this evening marks the third annual meeting of its kind. It was originally intended to have Harrington Hampton and Gilbert camps unite in the commemorative exercises, but it was found impracticable this year, so Gilbert Camp took up the matter.
