

OCEANO DAMAGED.

Steamer Crashes Into Ship Barmbek.

(Journal Special Service.) ASTORIA, March 28.—The British steamship Oceano, which was anchored in the lower harbor with a cargo of lumber for the Orient, dragged her anchor this morning and swung across the bow of the German ship Barmbek. The Barmbek had nearly all her head rigging carried away and the steamship was considerably damaged on deck. To repair the vessels will cost several thousand dollars. The fate seems to be following the Brit. is steamship Oceano, as this is the second serious accident that has befallen her in the past few days. On Monday, while going down the river, she ran against the Sylvia de Graves reef, and at the same time ran into and sank two barges which were used by Hale & Kern in removing the reef. The damage sustained by the Oceano was not so great as at first believed, and after undergoing a careful examination by Lloyd's surveyor, she was granted permission to continue her journey.

Brown, defendant. The Crown Cycle company secured a judgment for $5.35 against Brown in the State Circuit Court. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court in '31 and the decision of the lower tribunal was affirmed. It is claimed that the garnishee company has property belonging to the defendant. BONDSMAN WANTED

J. P. Mock Withdraws From Supervisor Hart's Bonds.

J. M. Mock of University Park appeared before the Board of County Commissioners this morning and asked to be relieved from Road Supervisor Hart's bond. Mr. Mock stated that Frank Walker had promised to go on the bond with him, but had not yet done so. He seemed to think that he had been induced to sign the bonds by misrepresentation, and for that reason desired to be relieved from further responsibility. The board refused to allow the withdrawal until another bondsman could be secured.

RESIGNATION SIGNIFICANT

The fact that W. G. Pearce, General Manager of the Northern Pacific Railroad, has resigned will give color, in the opinion of some of the members of the local railroad world, to a significant fact. Gossip is always interesting, whether founded on truth or not. Speculative theorizing will often do as well as anything else in discussing railroad matters. Sometimes these rumors come remarkably near to the truth. Boiled right down to the narrowest possible limit, certain ones see in Mr. Pearce's resignation a confirmation of their belief that the plans of President James J. Hill regarding the Northern Pacific's status in the Northern Securities Company merger, are assuming definite shape.

COUNCIL IN SESSION

An adjourned meeting of City Council is in session this afternoon. The lawmakers are considering an ordinance amending the present law regulating plumbing. This matter has been under the consideration of the Committee on Health and Police for several months, but no report had been made on it. Plumbing Inspector Hume is anxious for the plumbing ordinance to be amended, as some of the terms in the law as it now stands are ambiguous.

SERIOUS.

The Barbers' Union of this city is investigating serious charges against the official Board of Barber Examiners. The charges are in the hands of a committee which will probably report at the meeting next Tuesday night. Sam Howard, president of the board, is absent from the city and other members of the board are reticent, but the affair is being discussed with more or less freedom by the individual members of the staff. It is charged by some that the board received for an applicant for a certificate a larger fee than the law permits. Should these charges be sustained the union will ask Governor Geer to remove the members of the board who were implicated. It is understood that the union as a body is opposed to the law regulating the business, and the next Legislature will probably be asked to repeal it.

OPPOSED TO SALOON.

There is at present one saloon at East Twenty-first and Powell streets. At one time there were two saloons there, but one of them went out of business. An application is to be presented to the City Council for a license for a new saloon in the building formerly used for that purpose, and in opposition to this will be presented a largely signed petition praying that such license be not granted. Mrs. Captain Kerns presented this remonstrance to the Clinton Kelly Board of Trade last night, and it was signed by all but two of those present. The person conducting the present place keeps what is known as an orderly, law-abiding saloon, where minors are prohibited from drinking or loitering about, and it is not so greatly objected to.

SHE HAD NO LICENSE.

Captain "Bob" Holman got "up against it" this morning when an Arabian woman was brought before him to be booked on a charge of peddling without a license. "What's your name, madam?" he asked. "Nothing but a blank stare rewarded the official. The genial bluecoat tried all his persuasive powers, for which he is noted, but in the end was compelled to book the woman simply "Arabian woman." The woman has been peddling notions on the street for some time, but neglected to take out a license. It is not known whether she can speak good English or not, but it is suspected that she is shamming with a view to pleading ignorance of the city ordinances when she gets into court.

SUDDEN DEATH.

(Journal Special Service.) EUGENE, March 28.—Vincent Straub, son of Professor Straub, of the Oregon State University, died at 1:15 this morning while sitting in a chair. His death was unexpected and was a great shock to his family and friends.

DULL COURTS.

After disposing of two or three minor matters in the State Circuit Court this morning, Presiding Judge Fraser adjourned further proceedings until next Monday. Judges George, Sears and Cleland did not appear on the bench. There is an almost unprecedented dearth of legal business being transacted in the courts at this time. No jury trials have been had for two weeks, and none will occur till April. A good share of the work is at parts.

SCORCHER ARRESTED.

The police have started another crusade against bicycle scorchers. Archie Hooker will have to answer a charge in the Police Court for scorching. He was arrested by Officer Childers.
