Transcontinental Lines Having Trouble.

The traffic situation along transcontinental lines, from information received here as The Journal goes to press, has not materially changed. Advices received by the Northern Pacific freight officials from St. Paul headquarters are very mea-ger indeed. General Freight Agent Moore says in a telegram that the trou-ble lies at McKenzle, N. D., where the company's tracks are deeply buried under ble lies at McKensie, N. D., where the company's tracks are deeply buried under water. Mr. Moore's telegram rather conveyed the idea that if was indefinite as to when through trains on the main line would be operated.

Arrangements have been completed whereby all fish shipments in carioad lots will be routed via Billings, Mont., and the Burlington & Missouri River Road for Chloago and other points East. Official authority has been received for this routing and has already been found effective, as reports of cars of fish shipped in this way are beginning to come in. For the time being the Northern Pacific has settled its difficulty, for it fish can be shipped this way undoubtedly other classes of freight can be.

The Great Northern trains are not so readily extricated from a similar difficulty. The Moore River is out of its banks, having a good time near Minot, N. D., and the Red River is having a little rampage of its own. There is a bad gap in this line where the tracks are washed out and in some places the tracks are reported to be 16 feet under water, it will probably be necessary to build tracks around the opening if a feasible outlet can be found in this way.

The freight situation is serious and no mistake.

CONTRACTOR'S SUIT

Contractor G. J. Vanderhoof commenced suit in the State Circuit Court this morning to foreclose a mechanic's lien on a house and lot's at Sixteenth and Washington streets belonging to L. J. Schell. Vanderhoof contracted to put up a building for $10.450 in a specified time, and to forfait $7 per day for every day required to complete the structure beyond that time. Schell concluded that he wanted adamant used instead of plaster, ofter Vanderhoof had commenced work and sub-contracted the work to other parties. Vanderhoof claims that he was delayed no much as a result of this change in the plans that he could not complete the job according to the terms of the contract. When a settlement was called for Schell wanted to deduct the full amount of the forfeiture; a mechanic's lien wasfiled on the premises as a result of the disagreement, praying for judgment in the su mof $514.28 and $250 attorney's fees, with interest.

ANOTHER CASE.

Smallpox Contracted in the Old Globe Hotel

Isaac Jenkins, an aged laboring man, appeared at the police station this morning and informed the police that he thought he had the smallpox. A glance was sufficient and he was hurriedly hustled out and required to stand on the corner until Dr. Zan arrived.

The physician pronounced it a mild case and questioned the man as to where he contracted the disease. Jenkins replied that he lived at the old Globe Hotel, in the North End, and that a laborer brought it in from the country. He was sent to the pesthouse.

Dr. Zan immediately placed the Globe under strict temporary quarantise and vaccinated all the inmates. After this the premises were thoroughly fumigated. Speaking of the smallpox situation in general, the doctor said:

"I expect to, have the disease stamped out in a couple of months. With the coming of warm weather the cases will be less and those we'do get hold of will be less, and those we'do get hold of will be easier handled. Were I in a position to enforce a strict quarantine on every place where a case developed I could rid the city of the troublesome disease in very snort order, but this we cannot do here with our inadequate facilities.

"During the past three or four months we have handled on an average of 39 to 40 cases per month, and have not lost a patient so far. There are in the aeighborhood of 39 patients at the pesthouse now and some of them are quite severe, but we do not anticipate any fatalities."

THE BAKER.—The popularity of the vaudeville attractions at the Baker Theater is amply attested by the growing attendance. The bill for the present week is one of the very best yet selected by Manager Baker. Harris and Walters, lately with Tony Pastor in New York, kept the audience in a continual roar of laughter last right with their jokes and sailles of wit. Three recalls are not common, but they got them.

O'Brien, Jennings and O'Brien did exceptionally clever work in their singing and dancing specialties. The Cycle Whirl is still on the boards and is as popular as ever. Sid Baxter's performances on the slack wire show many new features. Rose and Jeannette are excellent dancers and possess'a showy wardrobe. Camille Walling's songs were well received by the audience. Albert Hawthorne's fine base shows itself to good advantage in his choice repertoire and the efforts of Richard A. Wild in song and story proved enjoyable.
