ST. LOUIS FAIR MAY BE POSTPONED

will be held at St. Louis in 1903 was the main conclusion to be drawn from an interview tonight with former United States Senator Thomas H. Carter of ntana, president of the United States nmission of the Louislana Purchase Exposition.

He had arrived from St. Louis, where everal sessions of the commission have been held recently.

"The main topic of conversation in St. Louis just now is whether to postpone the world's fair until 1804," said Mr. Carter. "In ten months work has progressed in the site to the extent of making some excavations. There are only it more months in which to get ready the greatest fair ever projected."

Some one recently said that the only work so far done toward building the exposition was the cutting of a few trees and the digging of a number of ditches. Senator Carter did not use this expression, but it could be easily gathered from the tone of his conversation that he believed it was erroncous to expect the fair to be given next year. He said the Federal Commission was awaiting word from the directors before any recommendations were made 40 Congress.

The directors had not yet decided the matter of postponement, but those who favored opening the show in 1908 were becoming less and less venement in their declarations that it would be ready on time. The public, he added, would not be greatly surprised by an announcement of postponement.

It is pointed out that the world's fair in Chicago was held a year later than originally planned: Italy has given notice that its display win not be ready in 1903 and several of the Western States have yet to make appropriations.

CHINESE EXCLUSION

WashingTon, April 4.—The House in committee of the whole today began con-sideration of the Chinese Exclusion bill. sideration of the Chinese Exclusion bill.

Congressman Kahn of California made the first important address on the measure. The speaker discussed at length the undestrability of the Chinese as residents in this country. He contended that as a near they are known for their duplicity, which characteristic had rendered necessary the tightening of the loophole whereby the Chinese have been evading the exclusion law. He quoted from official reports to the effect that 5000 Chinese have been admitted into New York and Yermont alone upon perjured testimony, and he could safely say that 90 per cent of the cases refused admission were those in this country.

faking up the question of the exclusion law upon our trade with the Orient,

Mr. Kahn thought the possibilities of that trade have been largely exaggerated, but that, in any event, as shown by increases in recent years, the exclusion laws did not stand greatly in the way. In conclusion, Mr. Kahn said:
"Our exclusion laws have been of greatgood to the laborers of this country. They ask us to continue this law and feel that there is not a patriotic, liverty-loving American who does not desire to see the workingment of this country protected against this unequal competition."

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Senate this afternoon also took up the Chinese Exclusion bill, and Senator Mitchell of Oregon is making an extended speech, stating that coolie exclusion has been one of the established policies of this country, is no offense to China, and the measure is entirely constitutional. The right to exclude foreigners is one of the highest attributes of American sovereignty. He warned the Republicans that failure to pass the measure would result in the overthrow of the Republican party in the Coast States.

FIRST THROUGH TRAIN.

The first through train to run entirely on the lines of the Northern Pacific from St. Paul without transfer arrived here this morning. Conductor Upson of the Pullman Company, who came in with the train, says that the reports sent out as to the extent of the inundations of the Northern Pacific tracks in North Dakota were most grossly exaggerated. The press dispatches stated that the tracks were buried under a lake fully ten miles in area to a depth of many feet. As a matter of fact, the "lake" was about two miles in area and the average distance to which the tracks were submerged was not more than 16 inches,

It is urged that the railway magnate should be shown the great resources of Portland and vicinity, and the Board of Trade is willing to do anything in its power to assist. A banquet, where the business men of Portland could meet Mr. Harriman and tell him a few things, might be arranged with little trouble.

OREGON CITY, April 4.—Petitions are being circulated to secure 2300 signatures to legalize the nomination of B. F. Ramp, the Socialist nomines for Congress in the First District. When the district convention was held in Oregon City there was not the required 100 delegates to make the Congressional nominee of a new party legal, but there were 140 delegates at the county convention a few days previous.

Michael Mulvey, a prominent resident of this city, was buried today from St. John's Catholic Church. He was 59 years old and left a family. A supposed malicious trick was done at the dock where the French bark Asie is being repaired, which might have been attended with faral results, and the responsibility for the mishap is now trying to be determined by the police.

Two large shears or derricks had been raised on the dock for the purpose of placing the masts in place and to do other heavy lifting in the work now in progress in making require on the Asie. Some one, it is believed with malicious intentions, unicosened one of the guy royes holding one of the derricks in place, and it came down with a cause that responded throughout the whole dock, demolishing the holiting works and knocking, down a second derrick.

As it happened the men were working at the other end of the dock and therefore escaped injury. They had just got through working where, the derrick fell, and thus, several of them, at least, escaped instant death.

The Willamette Boller Works have reported the matter to the police for investigation, with the hope of locating the culprit. Sa far there is no clus. City Attorney J. M. iegal advice before letting the money go out of his hands. The opinion, which justifies the Treasurer to comply with Mr. Smith's request, reads in part as follows:

"Section I provides that the board of directors shall organize and elect a president and such other officers as they may deem necessary, make and adopt by-laws, and they shall have exclusive control of the expenditure of money collected for the library fund, and the supervision, care and custody of the rooms, and such money shall be turned over from the treasury to the proper officer ppon the properly authenticated voucher of the board without being otherwise audited."

"It is very plain to me from the language used that, upon the presentation to you of the proper voucher from the borad, it is your duty to turn the money over to such officer as they may designate, as the act says that the money shall be turned over from the treasurer to the proper officer upon the proper authenticated voucher of the board without being otherwise audited.

"I am therefore of the opinion that when this hoard has organized, and elected its proper officers, and issued a proper voucher which you are satisfied comes from a proper officer, and issued a proper freeting you to turn over the funds to an officer named, this voucher will be your complete protection, and it will be your duty to deliver over to the library funds received by taxtalon."
