BRICK SUPPLY

Prospect for Much Building.

Owing to the bad weather and the unusual demand for bricks, the local manufacturers are canceling all new orders for their product, saying the supply they now have on hand for the buildings now under actual construction.

During the past few rainy days no bricks could be dried, and as a consequence the supply on hand would soon become exhausted and cause operations to cease on the buildings now being erected were the new orders filled.

This shortage of bricks is only temporary, however, but until more are manufactured a good many bricklayers will be thrown out of employment.

"In a couple of weeks," said a manufacturer, "there will be bricks for everybody."

Among the large new buildings now under construction and which will require all the present supply of the pressed and burnt clay, might be mentioned the following: Portland Iron Works; Woodward & Clark's building, on Fourth and Washington; the Lewis building, Fifth and Davis; Dan Raymond's Third, between Burnside and Couch.

As soon as the material can be procured, it is said that building operations will be more active in Portland than for many years. Brick and frame structures will be going up at a rapid rate all summer, and the skilled laborer will be in demand at the best of wages.

MEMORY OF RHODES

(Journal Special Service.)
 LONDON, April 10.—The memorial service in honor of Cecil Rhodes, M.P., at St. Paul's Cathedral today with eminent representatives of all fields of human activity, including bankers, literateurs, journalists and political leaders of all parties. An impressive programme of music and eulogistic addresses was carried out.

EUGENE.

(Journal Special Service.)
 EUGENE, April 10.—James H. Graham, a well-known resident of this city, died suddenly from heart trouble at his home yesterday afternoon. He was born in Schuyler County, Illinois, October 20, 1835, coming to this County 19 years ago. He leaves a wife and one son, Harry W., in Eugene, and another son, David J., in California.

At an election held by Company A, Fourth Regiment, O. N. G. Tuesday night, Second Lieutenant C. C. Hammond was elected first lieutenant and Sergeant Charles W. Griffin second lieutenant. The election of second lieutenant was hotly contested, nine candidates being in the field. Mr. Griffin was chosen on the eleventh ballot. A banquet and smoker followed the election.

The Eugene Commercial Club has taken steps to erect a building for clubroom and for an open house. It is proposed to form a joint stock company for that purpose.

John M. Whitney, a brother of J. R. Whitney, Republican nominee for State Printer, and Miss Laura Tilton, both well known in Eugene, were married last night.

A SURPRISE.

Immense Shipments of Cotton From Puget Sound.

(Journal Special Service.)
 SEATTLE, April 10.—One of the most gratifying surprises of Puget Sound export trade is the great growth of cotton shipments from the Southern States received over the Northern transcontinental railroads. For the month of February the cotton exports from Puget Sound ports amounted to $3,010,028 pounds, valued at $600,435, an increase over the exports for the corresponding month of the preceding year of 3,110,880 pounds, or $556,657, or 51 per cent. in amount and 63 per cent. in value.

DRANK POISON

(Journal Special Service.)
 THE DALLAS, April 10.—John F. Root, who has been a resident of this city for 24 years, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon by taking two-thirds of a small bottle of strychnine. Immediately after taking the poison, he repeated his rash act, and telephoned for Dr. Gensdendorff, claiming he had swallowed it through mistake.

Letters were found, however, that proved conclusively that he had suicidal intentions, claiming as a motive that he was tired of life and that no one would console him. He is now lying in a precarious condition with chances of recovery against him. He is a man of a family and is about 60 years of age.

IDEAL PHYSIQUE.

Few Persons Have the Measurements of Proper Proportions.

"The tailor who spends his life in taking human measurements could probably tell an interesting story about the decline physically of men and women," said a man who takes an interest in physical culture and other processes of tending to arrest deteriorating conditions. I doubt if the measurements taken by tailors will show many perfect men and women. Too many men are wearing 34 collars and too many women are short on waist dimensions. I was glancing through Fourman's book a few days ago, and I was struck by the dimensions agreed upon by the best and most authentic authorities for physical perfection in both man and woman. Take the measurements, for instance, of the perfectly proportioned man, with a height of 4 feet 11 inches; girth of chest, 46 inches; girth of waist, 35 inches; length of upper leg, 17 1/2 inches; length of lower leg, 14 1/2 inches; largest girth of thigh, 24 1/2 inches; girth of calf, 16 inches; length of arm, 26 inches; and weight, 190 pounds. Go to the tailor and ask him how many men come up to this standard. I imagine that one would spend much time before finding the perfect physical conditions in conjunction with a single man.

"The fact of the business is, that these proportions are the result of idealistic training. A man would be perfect, indeed, physically, who could even show a reasonable approximation of this standard. Our tailor's records would probably disappoint us badly, and we would likely become confirmed believers in the doctrine of physical degeneracy in so far as members of our sex are concerned. Man has been dwindling somewhat even in the range of one's own memory. We need not go to the tailor's nor to the vast wealth of statistics which have been compiled by persons who take a peculiar interest in man's physical aspect. One is conscious of being smaller than one's father, and less robust, and lacking in that hardness of temperament found in the sire and grandfathers. Yet the tailor's record will probably show a few isolated instances where men have preserved the proportions found in the physical measurements of the perfect man. And this, after all, is the goal toward which physical culture drifting. It is not so much a question of larger men in stature, but rather a question of men more perfectly balanced physically—men whose parts will approximate at least the equilibrium found in the perfect measurements of the physical culture doctrine. If one must weigh 190 pounds, and stand up to a height of over six feet, one might as well give up on the start. But one may at least approximate the ideal proportions, and this is what physical culture proposes to do.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE FACT OF THE BUSINESS IS, THAT THESE PROPORTIONS ARE THE RESULT OF IDEALISTIC TRAINING. A MAN WOULD BE PERFECT, INDEED, PHYSICALLY, WHO COULD EVEN SHOW A REASONABLE APPROXIMATION OF THIS STANDARD. OUR TAILOR'S RECORDS WOULD PROBABLY DISAPPOINT US BADLY, AND WE WOULD LIKELY BECOME CONFIRMED BELIEVERS IN THE DOCTRINE OF PHYSICAL DEGENERACY IN SO FAR AS MEMBERS OF OUR SEX ARE CONCERNED. MAN HAS BEEN DWINDLING SOMEWHAT EVEN IN THE RANGE OF ONE'S OWN MEMORY. WE NEED NOT GO TO THE TAILOR'S NOR TO THE VAST WEALTH OF STATISTICS WHICH HAVE BEEN COMPILED BY PERSONS WHO TAKE A PECULIAR INTEREST IN MAN'S PHYSICAL ASPECT. ONE IS CONSCIOUS OF BEING SMALLER THAN ONE'S FATHER, AND LESS ROBUST, AND LACKING IN THAT HARDNESS OF TEMPERAMENT FOUND IN THE SIRE AND GRANDFATHERS. YET THE TAILOR'S RECORD WILL PROBABLY SHOW A FEW ISOLATED INSTANCES WHERE MEN HAVE PRESERVED THE PROPORTIONS FOUND IN THE PHYSICAL MEASUREMENTS OF THE PERFECT MAN. AND THIS, AFTER ALL, IS THE GOAL TOWARD WHICH PHYSICAL CULTURE DRIFTING. IT IS NOT SO MUCH A QUESTION OF LARGER MEN IN STATURE, BUT RATHER A QUESTION OF MEN MORE PERFECTLY BALANCED PHYSICALLY—MEN WHOSE PARTS WILL APPROXIMATE AT LEAST THE EQUILIBRIUM FOUND IN THE PERFECT MEASUREMENTS OF THE PHYSICAL CULTURE DOCTRINE. IF ONE MUST WEIGH 190 POUNDS, AND STAND UP TO A HEIGHT OF OVER SIX FEET, ONE MIGHT AS WELL GIVE UP ON THE START. BUT ONE MAY AT LEAST APPROXIMATE THE IDEAL PROPORTIONS, AND THIS IS WHAT PHYSICAL CULTURE PROPOSES TO DO.—NEW ORLEANS TIMES-DEMOCRAT.
