

ACROSS THE RIVER

New Woolen Mills.
The Ballard Sub-Board of Trade has met April 10 as the day for the public opening of the new Portland Woolen Mills at Sellwood. The board will celebrate the joyous occasion by serving a sumptuous banquet to the people at Firemen's Hall.

The mill building is constructed in what is called the "saw tooth" shape, every part of the building having excellent light and air.
A special room has been set apart by the management of the institution as a lunch-room for the women employees, where they can eat their meals in quiet. Each woman employe of the mill has a separate locker in the room to store their wraps and hats. Charles H. Carter, superintendent of the institution, says that the company believes in treating its employes with the greatest consideration possible, and anything that can add to the comfort of the workers is supplied at once.

The new mill has installed all the latest improved machinery, but as everything is yet new, things are not working as smoothly as could be wished.
The company is employing 50 people at present and it is intended to increase the force to about 125 as soon as the machinery gets in first-class working order. It is intended to run a night force in about two weeks.

The capacity of the mill is about 1,000 yards of cloth a day, and the entire product of the company is contracted for several months in advance. The mill has just started to manufacture a stock of light grade woven goods for the 1908 spring trade.

Y. M. C. A. Improvements.
Tomorrow night will mark the real completion of the new Y. M. C. A. building, and then the association can claim one of the largest and most complete institutions of the kind in the West. This morning a force of carpenters was put to work laying a new floor in the gymnasium and will complete the work tomorrow. The new floor is being laid crosswise on top of the old one.

SUNNYSIDE.
Roy Mosier, residing on East Taylor street, between East Thirty-third and East Thirty-fourth streets, is suffering from the effects of a very sore hand, which he had lanced yesterday. He is resting easier today.

The family of Mr. Hancock have moved to the corner of East Yamhill and East Third streets from the Cascade blocks. Mr. Hancock is employed by the Mayman-Delhart Company, and was formerly a traveling salesman for the house.

Harry Ward, residing at 925 Belmont street, has recovered from a bad attack of the grip.

Aiden, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ehingerford, 108 East Thirty-third street, is recovering from a recent siege of the grip.

The ball given by Sunnyside Camp No. 15, Woodmen of the World, at Sharkey's hall last evening was well-attended.

A large crowd attended the meeting of the Sunnyside W. C. T. U. at the Congregational Church yesterday afternoon.

Sunnyside Assembly, United Artisans, held a very interesting meeting last Wednesday. After the regular business the doors were thrown open and a large crowd that had gathered in Sharkey's Hall was treated to an excellent program, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. F. P. Woodie, wife of the well-known Sunnyside meat dealer, was quite ill last evening. She was convalescing this morning.

C. C. Borzoth was in Kalama yesterday in business connected with his property and the petitioner's husband, C. S. Ferris.

It is further alleged that the interest on a certain mortgage was never paid, and that the instrument was assigned to another party for the purpose of defrauding Margaret Ferris; that expenses incurred were in excess of the income of the estate, and were contracted without the order of the court.

The petitioner seeks to have the account disallowed, and asks that the property be turned over to her free from debt.

Judge Calk overruled the right of Attorney Hiltchings to try the issue of the appointment of the guardian, and the case went ahead on the merits of the objections to the account.

The Ferris property is valued at about $500.

AMONG THE LODGES.
Sabato Moral Lodge, No. 464, I. O. B. B., will hold a literary meeting next Sunday afternoon at their hall in the Selling-Hirsch Building. Rabbi Wise will deliver an address.

The social meeting of Court Portland, No. 877, Ancient Order of Foresters of America, given in honor of Brother A. U. Field last Monday evening was a grand success. Dr. W. O. Manson delivered a beautiful extempore address on "Fraternity" and regrets at the parting of Brother Field were general and sincere. Brother W. R. Hamilton was presented with the beautiful medal given by Brother Field for bringing in the greatest number of new members during his stay in the city. Refreshments were served and the meeting dispersed at a late hour.

GEER WOULD ACCEPT THE SENATORSHIP

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, April 11.—The question as to whether or not Governor Geer will be a candidate for the nomination for United States Senator is causing considerable talk in Salem as well as in Portland and many of the stalwarts of the party in this section of the state are not by any means slow in expressing their opinion that the least the party could do would be to offer him the refusal of a nomination.
When interviewed on the matter by The Journal correspondent yesterday, the Governor said:
"In the sense that I am actively seeking the office of United States Senator you may quote me as saying that I am not a candidate. My present intention is to retire from politics at the conclusion of my term of office. Still, should I be proffered the nomination by the people I will not say that I should refuse to consider the proposal."
As to the candidacy of Mr. Furnish for Governor, he said:
"I hope to see Mr. Furnish elected, for I am a good Republican and believe that it is to the best interests of the people as a whole to continue that party in power, although I must say I do not favor the methods sometimes employed by certain factions of the party. As to there being any likelihood of an organized opposition to his candidacy by any friends of mine who were disappointed at my failure to receive a renomination, I must say that I have heard of no such opposition and believe there will be none and added in answer to a suggestion—"I believe they will take their medicine."
Asked as to whether he would support Furnish's candidacy on the stump, the Governor merely smiled, but as an after-thought added, "At any rate I shall wait until I am asked to do so."
While Governor Geer is naturally averse to saying so in so many words and while he evidently desires to avoid the probable deluge of abuse and vilification which would follow any definite announcement of his determination to retire, there is very little reason to doubt that should the nomination be offered him by the people he would immediately accept, but he has also evidently formed the resolution that if the goal is to be reached only by struggling through the mire of political manipulation that his chances of being Oregon's next United States Senator are but small.

IN JAIL IN FORTY STATES
A Traveling Preacher Says Ours is One of the Cleanest.

"In the 15,000 to 15,000 county jails I have visited in 40 states, there is but one that equals that of Multnomah County," today remarked Rev. Orin, a traveling preacher interested in humanitarian work.
"Of course, there are finer structures than you have here, but in point of strict cleanliness and management, the one at Chicago is the only one which comes out to this one. Cook County, Illinois, has an excellent building, but the interior arrangements and management are no better than here."
"Not 5 per cent of the thousands of jails I have inspected have any religious services, while I was amazed when Jailer Mitchell informed me that religious services were held in the Multnomah County jail during six of the seven days of the week. Think of it! Isn't that grand? I was shown every courtesy by Mr. Mitchell and his wife and spent a very pleasant time with them. Most jails are four-smelling places, reeking with filth, but the one here is bright and clean with whitewash and excellently ventilated. The kitchen is a model one for neatness, completeness and cleanliness. From what I saw I believe that your Sheriff must be a good provider in the way of boarding his charges."
"I went 'alumming' last night, and while I saw many things repulsive to good morals, Portland is no worse in this respect than almost all metropolitan cities. Tomorrow my wife and I are going to make a side trip to Salem by boat and inspect the state institutions there."

The Pacific Mill Company of Honolulu has filed a suit for $23,173 damages against Inman Poulson & Co. for the alleged failure to deliver a cargo of Oregon pine lumber for shipment to the Hawaiian Islands. It is claimed that the Honolulu company went ahead and leased a railroad and increased their capital stock from $12,000 to $50,000 with the understanding that Inman & Poulson would furnish all the lumber for the trade at the lowest prevailing prices. It is alleged that the lumber was not forthcoming at the proper time, and that the Pacific Mill people were compelled to give up their lease and suffer other expense and loss. Ralph R. Dunaway is the attorney for the plaintiffs.
