"Rise and Fall of Poland." A very large crowd gathered at the University Park Methodist church Tuesday evening to listen to the lecture of the renowned Polish orator Hon. John Sobleski, his subject being "The Rise and Fall of Poland." Mr. Sobleski dwelt at some length on the misery of the Polish peaple and how they were persecuted. His father was the famous warrior king, John Sobleski. In eloquent language he told of the persecution of his mother because she held the same views in relation to freedom as her murdered husband and the constant ordering of the deportation of the entire family.

No Trace of Robbers.

Although some of the best detectives in the employ of the Federal Government are at work on the case of the robbing of the postoffice at University Park, no trace of the robber has been found. It is the theory of the detectives that the robbery was committed by the same person that robbed several of the residences at University Park and Woodlawn. It is not quite four years since Mr Markham inaugurated the policy of encouraging the planting of creameries, a work in which he was greatly assisted by Dr. Withycombe. As the result of quiet but persistent effort, there is now in actual operation 29 creameries, 9 skimming stations and 6 cheese factories along the lines of the company in the Willamette Valley. The aggregate output of these in round numbers, is about $400,000. So. encouraging are present conditions that a still further extension of the dairy industry is probable. Mr. Harriman's discerning eye approves this effort, and it will go on. Recently there was a number of pure-bred , cattle introduced into Oregon and distributed under the direction of Industrial Agent Juson, which will tend to still further aid the plan.

The distribution of pure-bred cattle was not confined to the Southern Pacific, but was also conducted at various points along the O. R. & N. Company, at special sales conducted for the purpose. For years along the lines of the latter road, Industrial Agent Judson has been experimenting in the matter of grasses, with a view of ascertaining what kinds would grow best in the more arid portions of the state and prove valuable forage plants for feeding stock.
