(Journal Special Service.) BEAUMONT, Tex., July 24.—The Guffey Company's well, No. 2, came in with such strength that it wrecked the drilling outfit, demolishing the derrick, and left itself free to spout a 200-foot column of gas, sand, water and oil.

ELKS' BIG CARNIVAL

Five Hundred in Gold for the Queen—The Project Is Booming.

At last night's meeting of the Elks' Carnival Association, Chairman B. B. Rich, of the committee on ways and means, proposed making the award of 500 in gold to the successful candidate for Queen of the Carnival. His suggestion was adopted, and this amount in double eagles will be exhibited in some prominent show window in the business part of the city.

The board feels very much encouraged at the vim with which the local merchants are taking hold of the matter of exhibits. Present indications are that the $2,000 will be very easily raised, and perhaps even more.

Contracts have been made for many special attractions, and the midway promises to be bigger and better than it was even at the memorable gathering of 1900.

The encouraging report was made by General Owen Summers, who is in charge of all the parades that will gladden the eyes of the sightseers during the coming carnival, that Portlanders alone were not the only ones who were taking an interest in the event.

The sub-committee to the general committee of the Elks' Carnival Association have all been appointed and are as follows:

OELRICHS' WEDDING

Elaborate Ceremony Was Held at Newport.

(Journal Special Service.) NEWPORT, R. I., July 24.—Miss Lily Oelrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Oelrichs, and Peter D. Martin of San Francisco were married shortly after noon today in old St. Joseph's church.

The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away. The bride's gown was of the heaviest ivory-white satin, covered with white chiffon, except in front.

The bride's hair, upon which rested also a wreath of orange blossoms.

The spectacle as the bridal party passed up the aisle was most imposing, and presented one of the most beautiful pictures ever seen in the historic old edifice.

The musical service was elaborate, including selections by the church choir and the Casino orchestra.

After the ceremony the guests went over to the cottage of the bride's parents in Kay street, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served by Sherry.

Very pretty gifts were made to the attendants. The matrons of honor received dainty gold purses and the ushers and best man scarves of gold and pearls in the form of a horseshoe.

The bride of today is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs, and a niece of Mr. Hermann Oelrichs, who married the rich Jessie Fair of San Francisco.

Though her parents are at the top of the social ladder, they are not wealthy, comparatively speaking.

Mr. Martin is, however, possessed of great wealth in his own right, which is in the form of valuable real estate in California, ranches in the West and gold mines in Colorado, all of which came to him from his deceased father, Edward Martin, who was one of the early pioneers of California, and president of the First National Bank of San Francisco.

ORIGINAL BOWL

Used by Boston Tea Party and Purchased by a Banker.

(Journal Special Service.) PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 24.—The famous punch bowl of history from which the members of the Boston tea party drank has come into the possession of Marsden J. Perry, a Providence banker.

The bowl, it is understood, was held at a large figure by a Boston dealer in antiquities, and a large sum was paid, therefore, by Perry, who then turned it over to his wife as an embellishing ornament for the immense dining-room which is now being finished at a cost of many thousands of dollars.

Mr. Perry's house, known as the old

LABOR DAY

Ten Thousand Men Join in the Parade in Portland.

"Ten thousand people will be in the Portland Labor Day parade" is the announcement made by G. Y. Harry, president of the State Federation of Labor.

The following men have been appointed as a committee to make the preliminary arrangements for the event: Messrs. Harry, Steiner, McDonald and Gold-

At an effort will also be made to secure speakers of national prominence, and taken altogether the indications are very favorable that the celebration will be a red-letter day in the history of Portland.

The committee is visiting all the merchants, asking them to close their places of business in honor of the day. This has been the general practice in nearly all the large cities of the United States for the past few years, and it is quite probable that Portland will also fall in line this year.

A BIG DINOSAUR

Skeleton of Prehistoric Monster Dug up in Wyoming.

LARAMIE, Wyo., July 24.—Dr. C. Knight, of the State University, has returned from the mountains in the vicinity of Medicine Bow, where he has had a force of men at work all summer digging out fossil remains. He says that during the past few days over 50 bones have been taken out, and that the university has now secured the complete skeleton of the largest dinosaur in the world, the collection making the most valuable and most complete known.

A week ago the workmen uncovered the tail and neck of a huge dinosaur, which must have been 90 feet long, and weighed 15 tons. Heretofore specimens of small dinosaurs have been secured, but this is the largest skeleton that has yet been uncovered.

INDIAN DANCES

Barbaric Ceremonies Forbidden Upon the Reservation.

The Omaha is the only dance now practiced among the Sioux; the war dance died with the accession of peace; the sun dance has long been frowned upon by the Great Father, and the ghost dance has been pre-emptorily forbidden ever since the trouble springing from it in that unhappy fight at Wounded Knee in the early winter of 1890.

But the Omaha, danced frequently upon the reservation, has not been actually forbidden, although the Indian agents in general disapprove of it, and so far as possible discourage its perpetuation.

It is primarily a social function, with this unqualified disadvantage, that it tends toward the continuance of that state of society known to the Indians during their days of barbarity; that it emphasizes uncivilized delights and that it has nothing in common with the civilization toward which we are trying to lead the red man.

Every time the Omaha is danced the dancers are drawn more closely to the old lives and the old ways, a reverence for the customs of their ancestors is kindled within them, and whatever refining influences of civilization may have hitherto impressed them are, for the time, utterly forgotten, and eventually much weakened. It is the great social reflection of barbarism, and its influence cannot be for good.

Big Cattle Movement.

During the past two months the Burlington has handled thousands of cars of cattle from the sun-parched ranges of Texas to the Northwest. A Denver paper says that this is the greatest movement of Texas cattle to the plains of Montana and British Columbia ever known.

Up to noon yesterday the Colorado & Southern had hauled to Denver and turned over to the Burlington 3003 cars of cattle from Texas. The Burlington took these cars through to Billings. There are 700 more cars to be shipped. Each car will contain 50 yearlings, or 25 2-year olds. Some of the cattle are driven as far as 600 miles onto the ranges of British Columbia, but the majority of them have gone to the Montana plains, ranging from the British Columbia line to the Missouri and along the tributaries of the Missouri River.

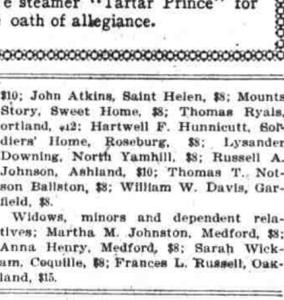

One firm alone has shipped 40,000 cattle and Col. Hughes, of Denver, has shipped 25,000 head. The transportation of these cattle has drained the Colorado & Southern roads of cattle cars and has compelled the running of solid trains of empty cars from Billings to points in Texas.

Spiritualist Dying.

(Journa's Special Service.) MIDDLETOWN, July 23.—Luther R. Marsh, the spiritualist and noted jurist, seems to be at the beginning of a general breaking down of his constitution.

His age being over 90 years, chances for his recovery seem slight. He has not yet taken to his bed, but declines in a court in the library of his home. His intellect seems to be unimpaired, but his vitality is steadily weakening and physicians consider this his last illness.

JULIA ARTHUR

JULIA ARTHUR

Julia Arthur's return to the stage is again mooted. Her retirement was due to bad health, but she has just submitted to a surgical operation which was entirely successful. It is said that an announcement that she will play again will soon be made. She is the wife of Benjamin P. Cheney, a millionaire of Boston.

VERMONT DEMOCRATS.

(Journal Special Service.) BURLINGTON, Vt., July 24.—Democrats of Vermont assembled in state convention here today, and were called to order by R. S. Childs, of Brattleboro. A full state ticket is to be named. Indications point to the selection of F. W. McGettrick, of St. Albans, as the gubernatorial nominee.

OPPOSITION TO WHITE.

(Journal Special Service.) WEST LIBERTY, Ky., July 24.—There is a lively contest on in the Democratic congressional convention of the Tenth district in session here today. Congressman Banford White is a candidate for renomination and is opposed by Judge Amos Davis, of Morgan, and Frank Hopkins, of Floyd.

Now is the Time
