THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL, PORTLAND, SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 26, 1992.

THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL.

JOURNAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Published at s8p Yamisfil Street, between Fourth and Fifth.

INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC

PAPER OF OREGON Entered at the postoffice of Portland,

Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class matter. Postage for single copies-For an 8, 10 or 12-page paper, 1 cent; 16 to 28 pages, 2 cents; over 28 pages, 3 cents.

Telephones :

Business Office: Oregon Main 500; Colum-Editorial Rooms-Oregon Main 250.

1.00	Term	, by Carrier :
THE	JOURNAL,	one year$5.0 six months
THE	JOURNAL	by mail, per year$3.0 by mail, 6 months 1.7 by mail, 3 months 1.0

The Eastern representative of this paper is Albert E. Hassbrook, 91 Times Building, New York, and Hartford Building, Chicago.

When you leave the city or change your ad dress even for one week, don't fail to call at office and leave your order for The Oregon Dally Jounral.

the set for setting of the setting of the setting of SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1902.

and the state of the state of the state of the PORTLAND NEED NOT BE JEALOUS. Fortland need not be jealous of Seattle or other Sound city. Portland need only await the passing of years to witness the demonstration that her location and resources exceed those of any other city on the Coast, with the exception of California.

Two elements enter into the making of great citics-local resources and tribute upon passing commerce. By these tests, Portland stands "principes facilis," and this will be proven in due time.

Local resources .- Of a given tract of land representative of averages near the Cities of Portland and Seattle or Tacoma, the proportion of arable land to the quarter section is much more here than that of the Sound cities.

Passing commerce .-- There is at least no advantage possessed by Seattle or Tacoma in this respect.

Here are truths that force themselves home to the man of normal thought and opportunities for observation. They permit complacency on the part of Portlanders.

Yet, there may be not that sort of complacency that causes the possessor to alt down with folded hands, and put forth no exertion. Natural advantages are not enough to make great cities. There must be industry, life, vigor, push, progress, alertness, ginger, snap and enterprise. There must be wideawake men and women to search out opportunity for advancing the city's interests. Oregon just now pulsates with life, and has begun its forward march. It is here the coming development will occur. Other ave had their periods of extraordinary activity. Oregon has yet had none. That period is at its inception. The coming years will witness such progress as will compensate for the long waiting. Nothing can stop it. It is in the air. And nothing can prevent the wonderful advancement that our position and resources warrant, excepting apathy on the part of the people. And as encouragement for the display of needed enterprise, let it be noted that we of Portland are at no disadvantage over the people of other cities. We need never apologize for what has been placed here by Nature nor for where we have been placed. All is in our favor.

mosphere whenever constitutions are to be framed, and obviate so much of quesflonings of the meaning of such documents. Suppose the Ten Commandments be taken for an illustration. They constituted a system of organic law for the Hebrews, and are perhaps as great legal utterance as ever came from law giver. Yet, there is little doubt of what they mean. "Thou shall not steal."

What plainer law was ever enacted, or what constitutional provision ever required less study to interpret? There is not one of the ten that children cannot understand. In short, the Ten Commandments are ideal organic law, for they say what must be and what must not be, and say it without adulyocation. It may be regarded as slightly face tious thus to cite the laws given on the mountain to Moses to deliver to the Israelites, yet there may be no doubt that they are framed as all constitutional law should be framed. Constitutions certainly should express general principles, not details of governmental matters. Statutes are for that. Oregon's constitution, when reformed, might well be wrought out along this line.

ONLY TWO SITES DEBATED.

There are practically only two sites left for serious consideration for the fair site,

The City Park has been almost finally eliminated from the discussion, and the interest centers upon Willamette Heights and Hawthorne Park.

The manifest inaccessibility of the City Park for the transportation of freight and passengers into the grounds served to quiet agitation for that locality even by those who originally advocated it. The Journal understands that there are almost no persons now insisting that the fair should go to the City Park. There are several other good sites, Hawthorne Park, City View Park, Abrams & Knox tract and University Park. Each one has offered inducements that have caused hesitation before making final decision. The fact that the debate has narrowed to only two sites, for it is the general belief that it will be either Willamette Heights or Hawthorne, is satisfactory to the people of the city. It is worth while to call attention one thing in this connection, and that in, that the fair should go where it will be easiest and most quickly reached by the members of Portland business houses who may have exhibits there and who, will others,

therefore desire often to attend or to take country customers to visit the exposition. It is desirable that the wholesalers and other big merchants of the wholesale district be able to go to the fair with minimum of effort. Of course, this is not sufficient to determine what site shall be selected, for there are dozens of other considerations, but it is worth notice. It is probable that Hawthorne Park offers more advantages than do any of the simple principle that might clarify the atciple-that there be no violence, nor any thing that interferes with the rights of the employing interest. The employer is entitled to full recognition and protection. But, so also is the laborer entitled to recognition of the right to go among his fellows and plead with them to support or reject a certain policy. And anything that proposes to restrict him in this right is subversive of the American idea of individual liberty.

In the appointment of delegates to the Mining Congress at Butte to be held in September, it will be well if men be named who have large experience in pracfical mining. Many excellent delegates have gone from Portland and Oregon heretofore, yet often have gone men who knew about as much of mining as His Satanic Majesty knows about water that has been consecrated. There are men who are actually mining, men who know all about the industry, men who stand as high in the mining world as any in the country who might go from Oregon were they appointed delegates. They should be appointed, and the suggestion is hereby offered to Mayor Williams, as he names his 15 to go from Portland. Yesterday to be a Roman was greater than to be a king; today, no one so humble as to do a Tracy homage. ship the second second second

DIVERSIONS FOR "DESERT" STOCK-MEN.

The real stock range of the Pacific Northwest is called a "desert." It is not a desert, however, for every inch of the soil produces vegetation of some kind, and with water it will produce anything that grows from the ground. The casual traveler through this region is struck with the idea that it is monotonous country, and wonders how the stockmen find diversion from the routine life. Long stretches of country without a human habitation, a cold biting wind in winter and dust whirlwinds in ummer; the days made dismal by the bleating of sheep and the nights made hideous by the howling of coyotes; the long hours of thirst and the poorly prepared meals, are all reckoned in summing up the gloomy side. But the stock range has many diverslons. To the vigorous, searching mind t is an unexplored field. A thousand things are found to interest and instruct

The range of the North Pacific Coast country is one of the most interesting countries in the world. It has more wonders than any section of its size in the world. It is the scientist's and student's paradise. The great historical iandmarks the Indian battlegrounds, the old Government forts, rock pillars that extend high heavenwards, rivers that rise up out of the sands of the "desert," rivers that lose themselves as mysteriously in the sands as they appear, therefrom; great area of lava beds, interesting caverns stored with ice in the very heart of the desert, lakes that rival the world for eauty and lakes that rival the Dead Sea as wonders; game and wild animals that would make the sportman's heart

leap with excitement and fish that would tempt the most deep-seated pessimist to try his luck; hot springs in which hogs are scalded and in which the aboriginies

HORSE SAVES TWO GIRLS.

Agnes and Paluine Bain of Tipton, Ind., aged 14 and 11 years, respectfully, attempted to ford Civero Creek on horseback the other day. The horse's feet became entangled and he threw the girls into the stream. Pauline had sunk twice when her sister caught her by the hair and the horse swam to them.

The elder sister caught the beast by the tail with one hand, and, holding Pauline with the other, they reached the shore safely. The horse started home on a gal lop and neighed as if in great trouble, which attracted the attention of its owne on its arrival. The animal immediately whirled around and went in the direction of the little girls with great rapidity, with the parents in pursuit, and they were met making their way homeward bound. The horse ran up to them, rubbed his head on the little ones' shoulders and nickered as if he was very glad they were alive. Only a short time are Mr. Bain offered the animal to a dealer for $100, but the sale was not consummated. Since the heroic deed of the animal in saving his daughters' lives he refuses any price, and avers that at the death of the animal a monument will mark his grave.-Margaret E. Sangster, in Christian Herald.

IMMIGRATION WORK.

I. B. Bowen, one of the proprietors of the Baker City Democrat, with his wife and son, is in the city for a few days, thence on to the coast, where they will remain a week or more. When asked about Baker City and county, Mr. Bowen replied:

"Oregon is one of the best states in the Union, and Baker is the best county in the state, The inexhaustible mineral supply makes it the equal of any other county of the state in a sense of wealth, to which must be added our vast for-ests of timber and the agricultural area not excelled in quality anywhere."

Mr. Bowen is an enthusiast in regard to the immigration matter, which is just now receiving so much attention by the railroads and the commercial bodies.

"This is the first business-like effort made by the people here to induce immigration, and I am pleased that the work is being taken up with such zeal," said Mr. Bowen. "There will be 50,000 people added to our population within the next year by reason of this movement. The spirit of progress is just beginning to manifest itself, and the future looks bright indeed."

BACK FROM ALASKA.

O. W. Dunbar, a pioneer newspaper man of this state, who has been in business in Alaska since the gold excite ment first began, passed through the city yesterday for Pendleton, where he goes with a view to locating. Dunbar established the first daily paper in the north-ern country, being the Daily Alaskan, at Skagway, in February, 1898. He afterwards established another daily there. the Budget, but both have ceased to be. Mr. Dunbar says that Skagway has enjoyed the full limit of its greatness, and will no longer be a business point of any importance, more than a mere landing place for the steamers and the cargoes of freight on its way to interior points "The railroad killed Skagway," said Mr. Dunbar. He maintains, however, that Alaska is the wealthiest territory we possess, and that the developmnt of the mineral wealth has only begun. did their cooking; a book full of things should instruct and amuse and NO MONEY IN FISH. all of these surrounded with snow-capped, "The fishing business on the Colummountains, whose sides are covered with bla this year is a flat failure," declared beautiful forests and whose beds are com-Martin Both, of Rainler, to The Journal posed of rich minerals, make it one of man yesterday evening. Mr. Both is in the most interesting countries under the a position to better judge the situation the yery near future. than anybody on the river, and his state Instead of its being a monotonous ments may be considered correct, as he is country it is pregnant with interest, now and has been engaged in the salmon and the man who visits it never forshipping busines for the past 12 or 15 vears. "There is too much competition between the cannerymen and the coldstorage operators, and until they get together neither of them will be able to make a cent," said he. "So far as the fishercompany with a band of sheep on the men are concerned, they are making a winter range, the sheepherder has as good great deal more than any other contingent of the salmon business. They are a chance for diversion as any other phinsman, and while on the range at receiving 6 cents a pound for fish, and as the run this season is extraordinarily good the men are doing well. opportunities every day for diversion, for "As an example of how profitable the business is for the packers it is only necessary to say that on every case of "talls" put up there is a loss of 40 cents. This may seem unreasonable in the face of the fact that the canners continue to pack "talls," but there is some demand for them, and there has to be a certain quantity prepared for the market. This oss is retrieved on the sale of "flats," but not to a degree to make the business profitable." Mr. Both is the representative-elect from Columbia County, and he is looking forward to the work of the next session of the Legislature with the expectation that some good legislation for the benefit of the state will be anacted. One of the particular things Mr. Both is interested THE VALLEY CHANGES. in is the passage of an enabling act granting the people of his county the privilege of voting on the location of the county seat. Such a bill Mr. Both will introduce at the earlest possible moment. tality. On the senatorial question there was an

A. B. Prael is back from Astoria. Judge Webster will return today. R. B. Fay and wife are visiting their parents here. D. D. Neer has returned from a brief visit in St. Helens.

Mr. Fred Joselyn is here for a brief stay from The Dailes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Honneyman have eturned from Seaside.

Miss Allen and Miss Dewey contemplate trip to the mountains.

Mr. Couch Flanders has returned from his summer home at Elk Creek.

Mrs. M. J. Creighton has gone to Long Beach for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd, of Pendleton, are expected here shortly for a short stay. Miss Emma and Joe McMahon leave Sunday for Albany to spend a few weeks. The Dierkes have gone to Seattle and on to Victoria, and will be absent a few days.

Mrs. Fairfowl has returned from The Dalles after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Seank.

Mrs. George Holman, of Salt Lake City, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. London, 691 Lovejoy street.

Mr. Eugene Shelby, of Wells, Fargo Company, is expected back from his Eastern trip tomorrow.

Mrs. Williams and Miss Carrie Williams have returned from New York and are at the Hobart Curtis.

Miss Isom, of the Portland Library, will be at home nxt week, after spending some months in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Rosenstein and daughter, Fay, leave today for Seaside. They will stop at the Grimes Hotel.

Mr. Fred Morris and daughter, Miss Morris, 195 King street, have gone to Wilholt Springs for several weeks.

Miss Bell Rosenthal will leave for San Francisco tonight to be absent a month, much to the discomfort of her many customers. Mrs. Mitchell, of New York City, nee Lillian Pfunder, is spending the summer at one of the most fashionable resorts in New York. M. E. Worrell, representing the Record, of Quincy, Ill., with his wife and daughter, are the guests of Mrs. J. M. Cook, Mrs. Worrell's sister. Mr. Paul Wessinger, chairman of the special committee of the Lewis and Clark centennial committee, left this morning for Seattle on private business, and will be gone several days.

The bachelors from the Norton gave a most entertaining launch party Thursday night. Their barge was gorgeously decorated and everything that was to be had was there. Their group numbered about 130.

Miss Mount, of New York City is guest of Mrs. John Temple Grayson, Sev enteenth and Couch streets, will be mar ried shortly to Lieut, Harrison, U. S. A Mrs. S. E. Brown, Mrs. J. F. Dickson's mother, leaves for California next week to spend the winter.

The Artisan Lodge gave a most enjoya ble trolley party consisting of four cars prettily decorated and ablaze with colored lights to their sisters and their cousing and their aunts Tuesday even ing. From the toots of horns and general merriment I am satisfied everybody had a good time.

Mrs. Ben Campbell, formerly of our

Use our PARISIAN TOILET PREPARATIONS. Fall directions for using on each package. BA-BA-LENE SKIN CREME—Soothes and heals the face, cleanses the pores, leaves complexion clear and beau-tiful. Excellent foundation for face powder, guaranteed not to produce growth of hair. Jar, 50 cents.

WILD CHERRY POWDER _____ Purest in the world; leaves the skin soft powder. Box, 60 cents. WHITE LILY SKIN FOOD Revives and restores shrunken tissues, feet"; should be used by all who would regain a youthful look.

TRANSPARENT JELLY ______ Soothing, healing, whitening-finest glove no grease. Jar, 25 cents.

New York Electro-Therapeutic Co. 703 Marquam Bidg.

Letters From the People.

THE LARGER CHRISTIANITY. Judging by statistics from many of its o-called institutions and statements of their mouthpieces. Christianity would eem to be on the wane, but to shake off the delusive artifices of what may properly be termed the religious traffic, and to include in our mental scope all those things now in very active operation for no purpose but to enlarge and improve the religious side of man's nature-institutions, associations and conditions that in their very nature are conducive to real spiritual and soul development-the decline in church attendance and support is no evidence whatever that real Christianity, in every essential that the term implies, is deteriorating. On the conrary it is fast gaining and in its growth s administering a much-deserved onasisement upon a large self-seeking elenent, who, in blind and slavish adherence to the practices of pure business suggession, are, unconsciously perhaps, but none the less truly, barricading against the results of the essential doctrine of the lowly Nazarine. All this may seem a severe arraign. ment of the church, but it is not, nor is it so intended.

The force of Ingersoll's attacks were not against Christianity as an ideal, but against the hypocracy which he mistook for Christianity, and it is true today, and ministers and church members know it, that far too large a portion of the energy of modern religious teachers is wasted in trying to prove that their church is nearer right than some one else's church-or that man is improved and saved by vir-seeseseseseseseseseseses felt in the church as in every other branch of human thought and society.

> It is through a gradually expanding comprehension of the truth of the essentially divine and perfect plan of an infinite power and intelligence, superinduced by a careful study of the examples of universal justice and ultimate progress, that one is able to appreciate what may correctly be termed the larger Christianity, and to know that we live in a universe that despite all details which may seem to the contrary, is truly growing better and better. The forces that cause it to grow are impossible of subjugation or alteration. Man suffers only through his own proneness to cast himself into the "mills of the gods," or to regard the natural resistance which alone makes progress possible as an actual force equally potent for retrogression. The devii, therefore, is pure resistance, whom to resist is to honor and to crown, hence the admonition, "Resist not evil."

Rather give your energies to the doing

HIS WAY OF PUTTING IT.

It is a well-known characteristic of the Highlander, particularly when he is under judicial examination, that he never commits himself to a definite statement of any sort involving himself or his friends-if he can help it. This Celtio trait, which is often amusing in its effects, is illustrated afresh by a new story told of the late Dr. Stewart, of Nether

A stranger had been staying for some time with a man whom the doctor knew.

and he wished to find out what kind of a character he was. When an opportunity

R. A. HARRIS

All hail the larger Christianity.

Salem, Or., July 24.

of good.

Lochaber.

FUTHER STREET . CAR EXTEN-SIONS.

It will be gratifying to the people of the city to learn that the City & Suburban Company propose to extend their lines and build new branches in various parts of Portland. The company will thus aswist to provide what must be given to modern cities, in affording transportation to suit the needs of expansion.

The trolley car has been of paramount importance to the latter-day city. It has brought localities outlying within reach of the business district, and practically makes the suburbanite a resident of the center. As the transcontinental road is to the nation, so is the trolley road to the municipality.

The City & Suburban Company proposes additions to the service already given, and the additions will do much for Portland. Bealdes the expenditure of money for the improvements, the existence of the new lines will operate to increase Portland's territory that is available to the stores and offices, and there will be benefit to both company and people.

CONSTRUCTION OF ORGANIC LAW.

The Chicago Journal pertinently observes that something is wrong when so much court machinery is required to interpret constitutions. Another writer hinks that there should be no new constitution for the state of Illinois. for the reason that an amount of labor has been expended in securing interpreive rulings on the instrument, and that, t there ware a new one, all of this wealth of judicial lore would be value-

The Oregon Journal believes there is a ALASKA'S PURCHASE. The presence in Portland of Mr. Frederick W. Seward, son of the late William H. Seward, revives the history of the purchase of Alaska. It was through the advocacy of the Secretary of State, W. H. Seward, who served in Lincoln's Cabinet, that Alaska was bought. The sequence has vindicated that advocacy.

The United States has been compensated beyond the claims of Seward, and the Secretary's move is conceded now to have been wisely conceived.

The Peninsula of Alaska has produced millions of wealth, and its resources have scarcely been prospected. The fisheries alone have fully paid for the cost of purchase, and that is but one of many industries that have been developed. Few people not personally acquainted with the region itself have adequate ideas concerning the vast territory comprised within the limits of Alaska. It is large enough to be a continent, and furnishes field for investigation for scientist and scholar. The stampedes of the past few years have brought to light the possibilities of the territory, and from this time on there will be rapid progress in the work of development. This work will earry the territory to a stage which will mightily exceed the most extravagant dreams of the man who insisted that this country make the purchase.

LABOR AND INJUNCTION.

There is involved in the matter of court injunctions against labor leaders who strive to influence men to cease work for a given concern and go out upon a strike, a principle that is greater than the technicalities of law. It goes to human liberty, and calls in question the right of men to go among their fellows and talk with them regarding what is their wisest course. It affects personal independence.

It is not the purpose here to reflect upon an court decision, and it cannot be argued that none of the injunctions is sued against laborers for the cause mentioned have been good law.

That is, good legal interpretation of existing law. But, there is something wrong with the law when it is possible for a court to inhibit intercourse between men in the manner referred to, and, if such decisions are good law, then the law should be altered.

There should be this determining prin-gets it and longs to visit it again. There is not an hour that the stock man may not find a diversion from his work, and not only enjoy it but find instruction in

Outside of a few months of solitude in this season of the year he has, hourly, his life, instead of being a monotonous one, is filled with excitement; the distant band of antelope flashing like mirrors in the desert sun, the skulking coyote ever ready to pounce down upon his band, the ever faithful dog ready to do his bidding; the stories with the camptender at night, the game of cards after supper, the disturbed sheep and the coyote howl at night, furnish him all the diversion that the bright student of life needs and all men this day and time are or should be nothing more than students of the wonderful surroundings that are so interesting to all who have eyes to see and brains to comprehend .- East Oregonian.

The conditions in the Willamette Valley are changing much faster than is generally supposed, and the change is sure to go on with much greater rapidity in the near future. The dairying industry is partly responsible for this. Although the number of good cows properly fed and milked has enormously increased in the Willamette Valley of late, the growth in this department of diversified farming (the most important part) may be said to have only fairly commenced. Every creamery in the Valley is prosperous. Every one of them is increasing its output, and many new ones are projected. It is time now for the beginning of packing houses in Portland, 1f the farmers can be assured of having a ready and reliable market for their hogs, at top prices, they will naturally prepare to raise more and better hogs. The packinghouse period is about here, and the sooner the packing-houses are provided the soon er will there be plenty of hogs raised here to keep them running .- Salem Statesman,

HIS OBSERVATION. She (at the reception)-Have you no ticed any new faces here tonight? He-No: but I have noticed a number of old ones that their owners have at unwillingness on the part of Mr. Both to be communicative, but enough was said to indicate that he will support State Senator Fulton for that high office.

GARLAND'S ABSURD POSE.

Contemporary critics have frequently poked the pen of ridicule at Hamlin Garland for his recent wild and wobbly tales of an impossible West, but photographic evidence of that writer's tumble into absurdity is but now going the rounds in the form of a half-tone picture of the posing author seated in a real Indian tepee, clad in the toggery of a defunct savage and smoking a yard-long Indian pipe. Nothing further is needed to demonstrate Mr. Garland's truckling to tinhorn idiocy for love of parade. It would be less removed from the absurd for Mark Twain to pose for a picture, "neces-"Sweet recreation barred, what does ensarily for publication," attired in the scanty garments of Huckleberry Fin, or But moody and dull melancholy. for Edwin Markham to pose as the hos-Kinsman to grim and comfortless despair, man-either would at least lend the right And, at her heels, a huge infectious troop color to the senseless impersonation. Our of pale distemperatures, and foes of 10-year-old, healthy confidence in Garland. tempted to make over .- Indianapolis Sun. is very, very ill indeed-Fairhaven Times.

city, now of Chicago, thinks so much some empty and senseless forma of the far Norin and its surroundings ity. that she sent her children, all of them together with maid, to spend the summer While a majority of the shining lights at Hood River. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell of the church are thus sparring for adexpct to visit Portland and old friends in vantage the soul of true religion is leaving their once hallowed sanctuaries and the fair name of the church is fast be-The city seems apparently asleep. Everybody who can get out of town has coming a synonym for something worthy gone to seek the quiet of the seashore only in its antiquity. and indulge in the pasttime offered them. Meanwhile are the vital life forces There is positively nothing doing, sowhich found truest verbal expression cially I mean, aside from launch and through their personified instrument, the barge parties, which I have already told Christ, in any way losing their potency? you about. It seems to me the Willamette Not at all. Let us look for our examples has never before been so popular, for just of real Christian work, however, in other as the day is over the way you can see directions than those whose real estate crowds of girls and men seeking a boat primarily embodied the germ of every of some kind to enjoy the cool breeze one. Let us search the records of our and lovely scenery of our beautiful river. secret and fraternal societies, labor or-Quite the most unique and recherche ganizations and every other association party for many moons was given by that has made for the improvement of Miss Fanny Brown, on Everett street. conditions for all the children of men. to her most popular friend, Miss Maylita Christianity, if it shall mean anything in Pease, of San Francisco, Wednesday the future, must recognize and perform evening. The house was beautifully decthe practical work contained in the meanorated with palms and sweetpeas. The ing of the golden rule and every other veranda hung full of greens and lanterns, essential utterance of its founder instead tables scattered here and there where of confining itself to the task of merely ices were served. On the lawn was strung securing a daily or weekly profession of garlands of evergreen from post to post. bellef in and love for God. All this be-Hanging between was the beautiful star llef and love must have far greater exwhich has shone upon so many of our pression than words and that expression brides, studded with our brilliant electric is in evidence in many an association tolight, under which ping-pong was inday which could quite properly have been dulged in. There were many cozy corborn in the church but instead has had its ners where sweets to the stweet were inmost strenuous opposition. Some churchdulged, and all about that beautiful workers complain that fraternal societies lawn were dotted even more beautiful, are a menace because they are doing a the young women in their dainty gownswork that belongs to the church. A sorry sweet in the rosebud garden of girls. The German band furnished the music all situation, truly, when the church misses its greatest opportunity and then comevening, after which a most dainty renast was served to Miss Brown's guests. plains because others attend to it. About 40 young people enjoyed her hospi-Some will say we should not talk so or we shall be set upon as heretics and blasphemers, because we will injure the prospects of the church. If the price of Christian virtue and the growth of the soul of man is the extermination of what A document relating to the sale of land. we call the church, let us exterminate it and that quickly.

> But such are not the conditions. The world is becoming cognizant of a larger Christianity and the church itself is in the position to reap the-largest possible results. Like those of the pure maiden, its misteps must be magnified, though it has not committed the unpardonable sin. nor been guilty of anything worse than that which has permeated all society. We mistake greatly when we regard the church as intended to be a positive ideal or a perfect portrayal of essential Christian doctrine. Like the entire world, it is but a school, and it is composed of scholars of every trait and propensity. A realization of the larger Christianity. which is fast taking possession 'of' the race, and universe, and which is a result of the conspiracy of the real virtues of every human organization as personified instruments of the vital and iniversal forces of life and progress, must needs be felt, and are truely being came the doctor inquired of a neighbor what he thought of Dugald, the stranger giving an opening with the remark that he understood he was a rascal.

After due deliberation the doctor's cautious friend replied:

"Heaven forbid, doctor, that I should ay a bad word of anyons, especially of a leighbor, but this I'll confess-if you were to gather all the rascals together on one hillock, I should say the number was not complete if Dugald was not in that com. pany!"

your experience of dentists has been here-tofore, if you have dental work to do come to us. Our method is absolutely painless. Our offices are the best equipped on the coast. Our operators are graduate dentists of high tanding. Our work is guaranteed. Our plan is to do only best work.

dated 1592 and signed by Guy Fawkes, was recently sold in London for $505. British Columbia grew the world's record apple last year. It was 16 inches in circumference and weighed 1 pound and 3 ounces. The Austrian parliament has resolved to abolish the army practice of tying refractory soldlers up to hooks and binding their hands and feet. Swiss ornithologists declare that cats have become so numerous in Siwtzerland as to threaten the extermination of all the birds in the country.

ODDS OF INFORMATION.

OUT OF DOORS.

-Comedy of Errors.

sue

life?"