A COSTLY OUTING

How Big Chief Devery Captures the Voters of New York.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
NEW YORK, July 30.—Former Chief of Police Devery, who is campaigning for the Tammany leaders in the Ninth district of New York, gave an outing to the women and children of the district today. Ten thousand were loaded on two steamers and four barges, which sailed for Hariton Bay Grove. The excursion cost Devery $5000, but will doubtless establish his popularity in the district so firmly as to make the expenditure a good investment.

PORTLAND GIRL WEDS SECRETLY

Miss Hazel Kline Has a Quick Courtship and Is Married in a Restaurant.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Miss Hazel Kline, the pretty young daughter of Simon L. Kline, a Corvallis merchant, and Frank Lee Gift, of San Francisco, were secretly married at a French restaurant here last Thursday.
The girl is 18. She has been attending the Mills Seminary. In company with her mother she left on a vacation a month ago for Ben Lomond. There she met Gift. It was a case of love at first sight. The marriage was a surprise and disappointment to the girl's parents, who refuse forgiveness.
Simon L. Kline, father of the young woman, was called to San Francisco the other day by telegraph, and he was there informed of the wedding. He is well known in Oregon, and the family resided for a time in Portland. Mr. Kline has conducted a general merchandise store at Corvallis for several years.

IOWA REPUBS. THREATEN TROUBLE

Convention Is Likely to Ask for Tariff Reform.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 30.—The Iowa Republican convention met here at 11 o'clock this morning. It is attended by Senators Allison, Dolliver, Secretary Wilson, and an unusual large number of delegates. Temporary Chairman Smith, in his opening speech, pleaded for tariff reform, urging conservatism, however, in the matter.
It was apparent that the Cummins element, which stands for tariff reform as against the pro-tariff views of Speaker Henderson, would have the advantage in the convention, its committee candidates being victorious. Very little interest is being manifested in the ticket, which is already cut out.

WRECK OF ISLANDER

Found and to Be Raised to Regain the Lost Treasure.

TACOMA, July 30.—The wrecking steamer Henry Finch has located the wreck of the steamer Islander, which is in deep water in Lynn Canal, above Juneau, and has started attaching chains to her. The work was delayed by a collision of the steamer Anna Barren with the Henry Finch at Juneau last week, making a big hole in her bow.
One of the chief objects in raising the Islander is to obtain the large amount of treasure sunk with her.

SANK IN MID-OCEAN

Ocean Steamers Collide in Far Eastern Seas—Details Lacking.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
MALACCA, Malay Peninsula, July 30.—The steamers Prince Alexander and Banning collided off here today while passing through the Straits of Malacca. Just what caused the accident has not as yet been ascertained, but as a heavy fog was on at the time, it is thought the pilots of the vessels became confused and mistook their landmarks.
When the two vessels came together the Banning's bow struck the Prince Alexander with a terrible crash which was almost drowned by the screams of the passengers. Immediately after the shock the Alexander, which was cut almost in half, heeled over and sank, carrying down in her suction a large proportion of the passengers. The Banning's lifeboats were immediately brought into play, and after a few minutes of desperate endeavor succeeded in saving all but 40. A full investigation of the disaster will be held at once.

ALASKA STEAMER

Portland Business Men Will Aid It Materially.

MUCH BENEFIT TO US

Representative of the Miners Says the Men Will Spend Money Here.

Portland may have direct steamship connections with Alaska after all. J. P. Rudd, the representative of the Alaskan miners, who intended to leave last night, did not go, as the support and encouragement he received from the leading citizens of this city warranted his staying.

The Board of Trade has taken this matter up and many of Portland's leading citizens have promised to give it their moral support. The only difficulty at present is the short time open to do business. Secretary Moore, of the Board of Trade will consult with the business men as to whether a suitable ship can be secured for this run, as Mr. Rudd must show the miners that Portland people mean what they say.

"This is a good opportunity for Portland to get the trade of Alaska," said Mr. Rudd, "and it rests with the citizens to make the most of it. From the time when Portland began showing its importance as the metropolis of the Northwest, the people have striven to get the trade of Alaska, but in vain; now an opportunity is open, and if Portland does not get there it never will."

What Mr. Rudd wants is the guarantee of the Portland business men to get a vessel, so that when he returns to Nome he can commence selling tickets to Portland at once, also, take orders for merchandise to be sent to Alaska by Portland's jobbers. Vancouver, B. C., has offered to run a steamship to Alaska, but the miners prefer Portland, if proper inducements are made.

"We have 2000 miners in Alaska ready to spend the winter in the United States. If there were steamship connection with Portland, they would come to your city, make their purchases of clothes, etc., preparatory to going home and in the spring they would return to Portland, buy all their merchandise here, and return to Alaska ready for work. Look at the harvest Portland jobbers and hotel keepers would reap, and look at the harvest the steamship would reap. It will be immense. This is Portland's opportunity; let the people take it."

It is very difficult to get a suitable steamer at present, as the Pacific Coast Steamship Company controls most of the available vessels and some time will be necessary in accomplishing the desired end.

STORY IS A CANARD

No Combine Between Oil Magnates of Europe and America.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

NEW YORK, July 30.—The officials of the Standard Oil Co. here today made an emphatic denial of the story printed in the London Mail to the effect that the three monster oil interests of Rockefeller, Rothschild and Noble have entered into a working agreement to control the world's oil supply. The story was characterized as an invention with the view of hurting the Standard Company. Wall street placed little faith in the story, though it is freely admitted that all three oil interests are friendly.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

The engine and two mail cars are in the Conemaugh River, and the engineer, the fireman and two mail clerks are killed.
Later—as a result of the collision between the "Waukesha Scott" and a west-bound freight on the Milwaukee road at 8 o'clock this morning, Dennis Connell, the engineer, and a passenger were killed, Fireman Thomas Chamberlain, Will Day and six other passengers were more or less injured. (Journal Special Service.)
BAKER CITY, July 30.—The largest real estate cash transaction made in Baker City in a number of years was closed this morning by Lack and Schmitz by the sale of the Henry Rust brewery property to a local Baker City syndicate composed of Louis Sommer, Miles Lee, and Carl Adler, for the sum of $25,000. The property is 100 feet square on Main street opposite the Geiser Grand hotel square and is at present occupied by the old brewery. The new owners will erect a large business block on the property in the near future, which will be occupied by the wholesale and retail dry goods store of Baer & Sommer. Mr. Rust, who is a pioneer in Baker City, and has been foremost in the development of this district and who is getting quite old, will retire from business.

In Shenandoah a big mob bombarded the West Shenandoah colliery but were dispersed by their leaders. The companies are hurrying more deputies here, as the outcasts are believed to be the forerunner of serious trouble.

FLOODS IN TEXAS

Paralyze Business and Cause Enormous Damage.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
DALLAS, Tex., July 30.—The heavy rains and floods in Texas were renewed today, the downpour extending from San Antonio to Texarkana. The Arkansas Pass Railroad is so badly damaged by washouts and the loss of bridges that traffic has been suspended for the time being.
The flood situation continues to be as strenuous as during the past 72 hours, and reports from all sections of the southern part of the state indicate that thousands of acres of fine cotton are under water. The town of San Marcos was flooded last night, and is under three to five feet of water, inundating the state's fish hatchery and causing much loss of property.

RIOT IN GOTHAM

Desperate Fight at the Burial of Head Rabbi Josephs.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
NEW YORK, July 30.—The funeral of Rabbi Josephs, the head of the orthodox Jewish church in America, occurred here today. All business in the lower East Side was practically suspended and fully 50,000 Jews took part in the ceremony. The procession, composed of several hundred carriages, stopped five minutes at each synagogue where prayers for the dead leader were recited.
As the Rabbi's funeral cortege progressed a riot was caused by the employees of the Hoe Press Company throwing missiles at the mourners who attacked the building but were unable to reach it. Two hundred police were called out but the Jews continued to bombard the building. The Hoe Company's men finally drove them away by turning on the hose. Several Jews were badly hurt in the police charge.
