POPULAR ELK

Will Be Given a Handsome Silver Loving Cup.

JOURNAL WILL AWARD PRIZE

Contest Is Open to Members in Oregon and Washington.

In another column will be found the offer made by The Journal of a loving cup to be presented to the most popular Elk in Oregon and Washington. The cup is a beautiful piece of the silversmith's art.

The Journal has arranged to have the matter decided by popular vote, and will print, from day to day, coupons for the purpose. The contest closes September 13, and the conditions are easy to comply with. The coupons must be cut out from The Journal and filled out; the Elk voted for must be in good standing to become eligible, the Elk receiving the greatest number of vote will be awarded the cup, which is valued at $125. All coupons should be plainly addressed to the Contest Editor, care of The Oregon Daily Journal.

To save trouble of gutting out coupons prepaid subscriptions will be credited in the ballot as follows: One mouth, 60 coupons; three months, 180 coupons; six months, 300 coupons, 12 months, 720 coupons.

The antiered monarchs are most exthe head and front of every public enterbrise. An Elk in Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane or any other Washington town stands just as good a chance as though he resided in Portland, Astoria, Salem or any community in Oregon. The Journal feels that it is high time that the merits of this popular order should be recognized. This is a way to do it, and the best man will win. The contest la now open, and the friends of the Elks throughout these two splendid states will do all they can for their favorites.

splendid energy with which the Elks have taken hold of the Portland Street Carnival will carry that venture through to a glittering success, order has some member upon whom this valuable souvenir is bound to be bestowed. Perhaps the friend of the reader of this may be the one. It is a trophy certainly worth working for. Pour in your votes, the more the merrier!

IS IT A BOYCOTT?

Could the work of the league be regarded as a boycott? It is the exact opposite of the boycott. The boycott implies injury to its + object, while it is the aim of the league to give moral and commercial + support to the merchants who afford humane conditions of employment; + + and to manufacturers who protect the health alike of their employees and + of the community by providing clean and wholesome workrooms. Is the movement gaining strength? Indeed it is, the third annual report is exceedingly encouraging. One of + the most satisfactory fields of work the past year has been in the universities and colleges. The co-operation of professors of economics at Harvard, Yale, Columbia, + + Cornell, Michigan, Chicago and Pennsylvania, in serving as honorary + presidents, has been of great value in silencing criticism alike of mer- + + chants, manufacturers, philanthropists, and in giving them confidence in the soundness of the basis upon which the league is founded.

In various states Chautauqua assemblies have given the topic prominent + place. Leagues have been formed in many of the prominent colleges of That the Consumers' League is a movement in the right direction, no

Tenement-made clothing and sweatshop goods are a menace to the + homes of our land, and even though we have little or none of the sweatshops actually here, still the danger from Eastern manufacturers is just + as great. What is a Consumers' League?

An association of persons who strive to do their buying in such ways as + to further the welfare of those who make or distribute the thing bought. What special evils is the league endeavoring to correct?

Grave evils exist especially in the manufacture of clothing. By a methnd of contract and sub-contract, wages are forced down and hours of la-+ bor are unduly lengthened. The prices paid to home workers are pitifully small, even in the city of . Boston women are making children's dresses at 25 cents per dozen. How does the league propose to correct these evils?
