

A HUMMER

Carnival Will Be Better Than Last One.

GOOD ATTRACTIONS

A Chinaman Votes for the Queen and Now Wants His Money Back.

The question has been asked a number of times whether the carnival this year would be as good as it was two years ago, and when the question was put to Manager Rowe he replied that everything indicated a vast superiority of this fair over the last one.

Past experiences have been used as a guide in perfecting the arrangements for a big time this year, which of course means many new attractions, better methods of exhibition, a much larger attendance and a more successful event in every way.

Smith B. Hall, advance agent for the Jubour show, is in the city today making final arrangements for the exhibition. He is very enthusiastic over the merits of the show he represents and promises interesting and novel performances.

A communication was received this morning from the Henry the Fourth Cigar Company authorizing the Allen & Lewis Company to make a large contribution to the guarantee fund in its behalf.

Hundreds of people have stopped to take a look at the photographs of the five candidates for carnival queen and the half circle of twenty-dollar gold pieces which forms a beautiful foreground to the pictures in the window of Ridley's gun store, near the corner of Third and Washington streets. A Chinaman, after looking hard and long at the photos and the $50, thought it was a lottery and a good chance to get rich, as he was positive that the picture in the upper right hand corner was a winner. He immediately proceeded to invest five cents in a vote, cast it for that candidate and secure the prize. After casting the vote he learned that the prize would go to the lucky candidate if she would sign not to him, so he hunted up Mr. B. E. Riehl, told him his troubles and implored him to do all he could to secure a rebate on his ballot, which it is more than likely he will not get.

A JOLLY LAUNCH PARTY.

It would be hard to find a jollier crowd than the launching party that went to Vancouver yesterday off the launch Constitution. The crowd visited the Barracks and all parts of interest. For a time it looked as though the garrison would be called out to prevent the girls from kidnapping little Filipino "Pete," mascot of the 11th Regiment. There was a quartet consisting of Miss Thompson, Miss Manning, Joe Thompson and Tom Whyte. Following are the names of those that made up the party: Misses Annie Rushford, Lucy Dove, Mabel Dove, Gertrude Dove, Clara Nakiem, Kerola, Potzel, Elsie Lewitz, Annie Gauder, L. Gauder, Williams, Cecil, Finley, Thompson, Murphy, Sturgis, Crissy, Sedgwick, Lucy Manning, Mrs. Heiser, Mrs. Ritter and Messrs. Tom Whyte, Otto Hoak, Van Crosby, Charles Kriger, A. Crecy, Tom White, Tom Manly, Joe Thompson, S. H. Morgan, Al Bitter, Louis Daringer, L. Muehly, Geo. Baxton, T. Bauline, Jack Heiser and Fred Coles, organizer of the party.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

State and county examinations of applicants for school teachers will begin in County Superintendent Robinson's apartments, at the city hall, on Wednesday. The examining board consists of the County Superintendent, Prof. D. A. Groul, principal of the Mt. Tabor school, and Prof. J. O. Hall, of the Park school. The county examinations will take place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the state on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

THE CLERK WILL CHARGE.

At its meeting today the Board of County Commissioners instructed the County Clerk to charge 50 cents each for issuing tax redemption certificates, 50 cents for canceling tax sale certificates, and 10 cents for noting Sheriff's tax sales. Heretofore 10 cents has been charged for receipts. No charge for receipts will be hereafter made.

BIDS WANTED.

The County Commissioners today advertise for bids for purchasing rods and bolts for two spans of the Madison street bridge and for two trusses and timbers for the same. Team travel over the temporary structure will not be interrupted by reconstructing the spans.

SLUG EACH OTHER.

At the corner of Third and Burnside yesterday two boys engaged in a slug-fight contest without gloves. A large crowd gathered. None of the spectators branded the fight as a fake. Officer Roberts stopped the mill by taking the principals to the station. Chief McLaughlin lectured them on the error of their ways and let them go on a promise to be good.

FIRES UNDER CONTROL.

The fierce fire which has been raging in the brush near Highland is now under control, and the fire department called in. There is no more danger unless strong east winds set in. A number of horses had narrow escapes from destruction.

THE TRACY REWARD

A Spokane Man Says That Outlaw's Widow Is Entitled to It.

To the question "who is entitled to the reward for killing Tracy and Merrill," Patrick Henry Winston of Spokane says: "I am under the impression that under the laws of this state no officer is entitled to the reward or any part thereof. However that may be, I am of the opinion that the widow of Tracy is entitled to both rewards. Her husband killed Merrill, and by that act became entitled to the reward offered for Merrill's death, and the widow, as his representative, is entitled to the money. I understand that when the offer was made of a reward to anyone who would kill Merrill, nobody was barred.

"As to the reward for killing Tracy, his widow is also entitled to that. As in the case of the Merrill reward, so in the Tracy case, the offer was general and nobody was barred. Tracy killed himself, and was entitled to the reward, and his widow is entitled to the reward as his legal representative, unless the courts should hold that Tracy would have to survive, after he killed himself, in order to take it, in which case no one would be entitled to the money.

WANTED HELP

George Allen, of Portland, Penniless in a Strange City.

ASKS THE COUNTY FOR AID

Rode From Fresno to Sacramento by Beating Employment Agent.

SACRAMENTO, AUG. 11.—At a meeting of Saturday's Board of Supervisors, a consumptive young man claiming to be from Portland asked for aid from the county. He told the board his name was George Allen. He came from Fresno, and was trying to get to Portland, where his folks live. He had been in Fresno Hospital for about three months, but had been turned out. They are using the old race track for a hospital, he said, and there are 30 to 50 patients and about 30 old people. He had a dollar of his own, and gave it to an employment agency that was shipping men to Nevada to work on the railroad. They gave him free transportation, with a carload of other men, and he stopped off here, as he wanted to get to Portland.

"Well, you got cheap transportation," said Chairman Dillman.

"Yes," said the young man. "Those agencies do not care where the men go, so long as they get their dollar. No, I did not hear anything about the Sacramento Hospital. What I want is to get home if I can."

It was decided to send him to the hospital for a few days till he could write home and get money for transportation.

A LEG BROKEN.

Dr. A. S. Nichols Seriously Injured by a Fractious Horse.

While on his way to attend a patient at the North Pacific Sanitarium at 12:30 o'clock this morning, Dr. A. S. Nichols had his leg broken. The accident happened at the corner of Nineteenth and Washington streets.

Along Washington street, between Sixteenth and Twentieth, the tracks of the Portland Railway Company are being repaired. When Dr. Nichols had to cross this intersection at the corner of Nineteenth street he alighted from his buggy, took the horse by the bit and intended to lead the horse across, when the horse became frightened at the noise made by the workmen, shied, stepping on the doctor's leg and breaking it between the car and the knee. He was taken at once to the Sanitarium, where his leg was dressed by his brother, Dr. Clarence Nichols, and Dr. Coffey. It is doubtful whether he will be able to walk again for months, as the fracture is a serious one.

ELECTION CONTEST.

The election contest of Kerns vs. Sherrett, involving the office of Councilman from the Eighth ward, is being heard before Judge Sears this afternoon. Sherrett was declared elected by a majority of six votes. Kerns alleges fraud in the count.

On the side it is said that a claim is made that the alleged cheating was done in the interests of the liquor interest of the ward.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Directors Williams, Sliton and Wittenberg are in session this afternoon auditing bills presented against the school district. Directors Warren and Beach are out of the city, and Director Wittenberg leaves tonight for Los Angeles.

TIME EXTENDED.

The County Commissioners have extended until October 1 the time for extending the assessment roll. It was found to be impossible to complete the work before that time.

THE TYPOS

Convened in Cincinnati This Morning.

A JUBILEE SESSION FOR JOURNAL PRIZE

Some Interesting Figures on Strikes -- Big Attendance.

(Journal Special Service.) CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 11.—The International Typographical Union is celebrating its golden jubilee with the largest convention in its history. It is the 50th annual meeting of the organization, which is regarded as one of the strongest and most influential trades unions in the country.

The gathering was formally opened this morning with nearly 30 delegates answering to their names, and an equal number of ex-delegates, with their wives and other visitors were enough to swell the total attendance to 600. Those in attendance represented local unions throughout the United States and Canada. After the usual addresses of welcome had been made and responded to, President James M. Lynch took the chair. President Lynch was greeted with loud and enthusiastic cheers and hand-clapping. When the applause had subsided the president proceeded to read his annual address, which was followed with close attention by the large assembly.

President Lynch opened his remarks with a characterization of the International Typographical Union as the grandest international labor organization on the North American continent.

The president then reviewed the history of the organization to date, also the home at Colorado Springs, the shorter workday, record for the last year, the annual scale report, typesetting machine data, relations with the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, the Typothetae, arbitration, a plea for better workrooms, autonomy of the trades, the allied crafts, the union label, a new organizing system, affiliated unions, benefits, finance, apprentices, contracts and agreements, eight-hour day agitation and the Typographical Journal.

The annual report of Secretary-Treasurer John W. Bramwood covered the receipts and expenditures, membership, charters issued, revoked or lapsed, finances and membership of local unions, the cost of transacting the business of the international body, its bond investments and the annual scale reports. The report showed the total membership to be close to the 40,000 mark. During the year 113 charters were issued, making a total of 53 local unions subordinate to the international body.

Twenty strikes, involving 25 unions, took place during the year. In these strikes 388 members took part, of whom 145 returned to work when the disputes in which they were interested were settled, 56 were displaced and 187 are involved in strikes remaining unsettled.

The convention will be in session a week or longer. There is much business to be attended to, though there are few questions of very great importance to receive attention.

FIGHT WITH ROBBERS

Grung Has Nose Broken--Officer Hoare's Bad Aim.

The robbers who tried to hold up Chris Grung at the Stockholm saloon on the corner of Sixth and Flanders, early yesterday morning, are still at large. Grung objected to being robbed and had his nose broken by a blow from the revolver of one of the hold-ups. Adolph Peterson, the proprietor of the saloon, engaged the second robber in battle, who, however escaped.

Officer Hoare gave chase and fired several shots at one of the men as he was sprinting down Sixth street, but his aim was bad, Policemen Bailey and Gibson later joined in the search but were unsuccessful.

DIED FROM GUNSHOT.

R. L. McClean, age 35, who accidentally shot himself in the lung last Wednesday, near his home in Columbia County, died this morning at one of the city hospitals, where he had been brought for treatment. His injuries were deemed fatal from the first.

PAWNSHOP ROBBED.

At an early hour this morning the Holman Bros' pawn shop on the corner of Ash and Third streets was broken into and robbed of $1000 worth of goods.

Hitched to Plows.

An Iowa traveler just back from the new Northwestern frontier, tells of some of these hardships: "I saw a colony of Gallinules in Saskatchewan," he said, "and they gave me the most extraordinary exhibition of human patience and fortitude I ever beheld. I saw from two to fifteen women hitched two and two on an 18 inch breaking plow, and they marched right ahead through the tough ground with that plow, tearing up five acres a day on an average. There was a man holding the plow. The work these people did was as effective as could have been done by horses or oxen. The women seem to take their hard labor as a matter of course.

The coupons must be cut out from The Journal and the name of the person you wish to vote for filled in the blank space. The Elk voted for must be in good standing, and the one receiving the most votes will be awarded the cup, which is valued at $25. All coupons should be plainly addressed to the Contest Editor, care of the Oregon Daily Journal.

To save the trouble of cutting out the coupons prepaid subscriptions will be credited in the ballot as follows: One month, 60 coupons; three months, 180 coupons; six months, 360 coupons; 12 months, 720 coupons.

Senator Mason's Belt.

"Have you seen Billy Mason's new 'surcingle'?" is the question of interest about the Senate wing of the capitol. Rumors of the fame of Senator Mason's sartorial defiance to the gods of heat have spread to the House of Representatives and today several delegations of representatives went over to the Senate to catch a glimpse of it.

Senator Mason is inventor and patentee. Nature has constructed the Senator upon a plan which renders it imperative for his comfort that he wear in hot weather as little raiment as possible.

In other words, the diameter of the Senator is equal to his vertical measurement.

During the summer Senator Mason discards his waistcoat. Heretofore he has replaced braces with a leather belt, but this year he discovered that his roundity had so increased that the only thing in the shape of a belt that would fit him was a trunk strap.

In this crisis the Senator's creative genius awoke. From the bottom of his trunk he resurrected a disused evening waistcoat. He cut away the upper part of the garment, leaving only the three buttons and the pocket in front and the buckle behind. Turning in the top edge and stitching it, the Senator was ready for the worst.

The belt looks unlike anything that was ever seen about the capitol. The Senator drapes his watch chain from pocket to pocket, which gives the outfit an air of elegance, and at the same time renders it difficult for the observer to accurately determine the status of the garment.

Among the old-timers the creation is reminiscent of the blue silk "cosh" that Tom Reed used to wear when the temperature was high ten or a dozen years ago.—American.

As to Woman's Vanity.

"Yes, I admit that vanity is the common weakness of my sex," remarked the attendant in the waiting room of a big department store. "This place is supposed to be a haven of rest for weary shoppers, with its comfortable rocking chairs, its couches, its electric fans, and all the other appliances designed to allure women. But I am afraid its mission has gone astray, for it is merely a place where women come to prink up. The mirrors are the main attractions, and there is always a scramble to get in front of them. If one woman takes up too much time while others are waiting there is bound to be trouble. Some women who use make-up carry their materials about with them, and they have the queerest places to hide them. I have seen a powder bag pulled from the inside of a hat, from a glove, even from a stocking. Sometimes it's fun to watch them."

Little Sermons.

A great many persons give advice, and are vexed when their generosity is not lauded.

The surest sign of weakness in argument is to know wrathful and holy.

Many persons are in such a hurry to express themselves that they cut the tails off their words.

The person with the introducing habit should be snubbed. Every woman, especially, has a right to say whom she shall know.

If we only wish for things ardently we'll find a hundred excuses for getting them.

THE ANTLERED HERD

FILL SALT LAKE CITY

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 11.—While officially Elk week does not begin until tomorrow, official Elkdom is all in town today in readiness for the annual grand lodge session and reunion. Grand Exalted Ruler Charles E. Pickett of Iowa and the other officers have established headquarters and have been busy all day receiving the thousands of the "Best People on Earth," who have been pouring in from every direction. Among the early arrivals today were delegations from New Mexico, California, Texas, Montana, Washington and Minnesota. The preparations for their entertainment have been completed and the business session of the city is a mass of purple and white, the colors of the order. The programs for the week embrace the four days' session of the grand lodge, which opens tomorrow morning in the assembly hall of the Mormon tabernacle, and unlimited entertainment for the members

People Talked About.

The Crown Prince of Germany has developed into an automobile expert. He knows every piece of the machine, and the other day when his automobile broke down the Prince himself alighted and repaired the damage.

The wife of Wu Ting Fang will be greatly missed in Washington. Many Oriental women have resided there who are pleasantly remembered, but none of her sisters from the East succeeded in making an impression on society such as Mrs. Wu has made.

Thirty-five secretaries are constantly engaged in coping with the enormous volume of letters which daily pour into the Vatican. Pope Leo receives more letters and newspapers than any other ruler in the world, the average number being something like 20,000 to 22,000 daily.

An Iowa judge and his daughter were among the callers on Mayor Löw of New York the other day. In the course of a chat with Mr. Löw the young woman said artlessly: "We are here to see the sights, and so we called on you." The Mayor's habitual poise was somewhat shaken for a moment, but he saw that the remark was intended as a compliment and bowed his thanks.

Measured Mystery of the Sea.

The transparency of sea water has been measured by Herr Luksch, of the Austrian Pola, in the Levant, Aegean and Red Sea by submerging a white disc until it became invisible. Transparency and color of the sea vary with temperature, wind, salinity or saltiness, altitude of the sun, etc. Transparency is favored by blueness, great salinity, depth of water and low temperature. It is least in summer, and for low altitudes of the sun it is in general 33 meters in the Eastern Mediterranean, 31 meters in the Aegean and 21 meters in the Red Sea. The maximum depth at which the white disc could be seen was 45 meters, or some 25 fathoms. These experiments open up a question as to the best color for submarine boats to hide them from an observant enemy, say, in a balloon. Apparently a color assimilating them to the sea water is desirable, and it might be worth while to make experiments for this purpose.

New Card Cases.

Very beautiful are the card cases of old art brocades with gold mountings shown by a fashionable jeweler. One, for example, is covered with an exquisite silk in coral pink, with a design in green and black, having shimmering gold threads interwoven. The mountings of rose gold harmonize exquisitely with the "tone" of the brocades. The gold is wrought into a large butterfly which stretches its wings with the grace of nature on the top of the case. The wings are delicately studied with baroque pearls.
