VETERANS TOUCH ARMS.

Success has already crowned the reunion of the Civil War Veterans at their camp meeting at Pleasant Home. The attendance during the past two days has been very good and is increasing rapidly. Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway delivered a very interesting lecture yesterday afternoon, the subject being, "The Declaration of Independence." The address was delivered with all the old-time vigor of the noted speaker. Under the direction of Professor C. A. Nutley, the Gresham quartet sang several selections which were loudly applauded by the audience. Last evening the grounds were lit up with numerous lamps, Chinese lanterns and camp fires. This afternoon Mrs. Duniway is to deliver her address, "The Disfranchised Citizen."

LABOR UNIONS

Items of Interest Gathered From Various Sources.

The Sand and Fuel Teamsters, who withdrew from the services of the Banfield-Veysey Company sometime ago, claiming that the firm repudiated its contract, have secured work elsewhere, excepting about half a dozen. In time they are confident that the company will be compelled to recognize them. When the boycott becomes thoroughly effective they believe that the company in order to protect its interests will meet their demands. The men will also make arrangements to handle ballast, which is one of the business specialties of the boycotted firm.

The smoker given by the carpenters last night was an interesting and enjoyable event. A program consisting of speeches, comical songs and instrumental music, was rendered. All carpenters producing their August working cards at the door were admitted.

Officials of the Building Trades Council report that the Studebaker building is the only job in the city stated as unfair, and that the members of all the unions in the building line are fully employed. Until recently business was slack with the painters, but at present there is not an idle manipulator of the brush in the city, the last going to work yesterday.

The wood firms down the river report that it is almost impossible to retain a full crew of wood choppers for any length of time, and as a consequence they are obliged to raise the price of fuel.

The merchant tailors of the city have formed an association to be known as the Merchant Tailors Exchange. The following officers were elected: President, W. P. Kramer; first vice-president, John B. Coffey; second vice-president, A. J. Armstrong; secretary, Grant Phegle; treasurer, C. B. Borquist.

The Theatrical Employes will meet Thursday night for the purpose of completing the necessary arrangements to participate in the Labor Day parade. E. W. Quinlan, secretary of the organization, says that they intend to be the winners of the coveted prize.

The Bartenders' League have initiated several new members this week, and have received quite a numebr of applications for membership. The organization is growing each week, and will soon include every reputable bartender in the city.

W. C. Duniway, of the local typographical union, is in Cincinnati attending the anual convention of the international organization.

CEMENT WORKERS

Have Appointed Committees to Confer With Other Unions.

The Cement Workers' Union are considering plans by which the differences existing between it and the Building Trades Council can be adjusted. Organizer Duke gives some good advice upon the subject. He urges the union to confer with committees from the other unions and endeavor to adjust the matter as quickly as possible. After thoroughly discussing the proposition an invitation has been sent to members of the Plasterers' and Hodcarriers' Unions to meet a committee of the Cement Workers with the view of straightening out the difficulties.

The contention of the Building Trades Council is that if they were admitted into that body they would claim work which belongs to plasterers, brickmen and hodcarriers, and as a result there would be continuous trouble brewing, and many jobs would necessarily have to be tied up. Tenders for cement workers' get but 26½ cents per hour, while the hod carrierers receive 43¾ cents per hour. Finishers of cement work get 36½ cents per hour for nine hours a day, while on the other hand plasterers demand 62½ cents an hour for an eight-hour day. This wide difference in the scale of wages makes it impossible, so the Building Trades people assert, to admit the cement workers into their organization.

OSAKA EXHIBITION

Lewis and Clark Fair to Be Represented There.

The Lewis and Clark Fair Executive Committee will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to decide on a representative to the Japanese Industrial Exposition to be held at Osaka from March 1st to July 21, 1903.

This meeting was occasioned by the statement of the Japanese Vice-Consul Takagi, of this city, who in a recent issue of The Journal, said: "If Oregon will not place an exhibit at the exposition in Japan, why should Japan exhibit in Oregon in 1905?"

Besides this, in yesterday's issue of The Journal, Col. H. E. Dosch, Oregon's well-known exposition man, says that before the selection of a site, what is necessary is promotion work, and the first thing to be done in promotion work is to arrange for an Oregon exhibit in Japan.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon and discussed the question of a steamship line to Alaska. It was finally referred to the committee on Alaskan affairs, which is composed of Messrs. Hahn, Jones and Spencer.

By recommendation of the mining committee the following were appointed delegates to the International Mining Congress: J. F. Watson, D. S. Cohen, I. B. Hammond, C. E. Ladd and H. W. Coe. The secretary was instructed to confer with the manager of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company to ascertain whether the company could not give a better local service

The markets are rather quiet this morning and several changes in prices of fruits and vegetables are noted. California fruit is still in the majority, but more local products are expected soon.

Northwest wheat crop conditions are attracting more attention in the Eastern markets than ever before. Prospects are for a comparatively large yield, and the market continues rather weak.

The Pacific Packing & Navigation Company, controling some 14 salmon canneries in Alaska and five or six on Puget Sound, has about completed arrangements to refund its bonded debt of $3,000,000 at a lower rate of interest.

A well-posted salmon authority who has just returned from Puget Sound, says that the pack there will not be more than half this year of what it was last

HAD HIS HAMMER OUT

Henry Haight, a North End Negro, Is Too Strenuous.

Mrs. L. E. Morgan, an Everett street woman, with a complexion of deepest ebony, an automatic tongue and rag-time delivery of language, appeared yesterday as the complaining witness in the case of Henry Haight for assault with a dangerous weapon.

The voluble woman stated that she had hired the defendant to help her clean house, for which he was to receive $3.50 in cash. Haight worked for a couple of hours and then demanded his money before the job was completed. On the refusal of Mrs. Morgan to see things that way, Haight became abusive and with a hammer hit the center table. Upon the landlady remonstrating, he started to make connections between the hammer and her head, and just to show it was no fake fight, made a number of passes, which came so near to hitting the mark, the the woman became apprehensive of harm and sprinted up the street like a hen chased by a hawk. The case was continued.

PORTLAND PRESBYTERY.

The Portland Presbytery will meet on August 21 at 2 p. m. in the First Church to sever the relations between Rev. A. J. Montgomery and the First Church of Oregon City; to act on the call extended by the Third Church to Rev. Montgomery; to receive Rev. H. H. Pratt and bid farewell to Rev. R. McLean.
