

JAPAN'S TRADE

Oregon May Have a Commercial Agent There.

A BIG CHANCE FOR PORTLAND

C. Pfounds Wishes to Be Representative to Japan Exposition.

The Board of Trade has received a letter from C. Pfounds, of Kobe, Japan, asking for the position of representative to the National Exposition to be held in Osaka in 1903. Mr. Pfounds writes that, "having had nearly 40 years' personal knowledge of the country and people; being now one of the senior surviving pioneer residents, acquiring command of the vernacular in the early years of my visit, I have long ago dispensed with interpreters and other go-betweens, transacting all business with principals. I will be glad to act as your representative to the Japanese National Exposition and arrange for space, the proper exhibiting of your samples, and display of your advertisements, having translations into the vernacular made and distributed."

Mr. Pfounds also writes that he would be pleased to act as a commercial agent for American goods. In answer to his letter, Secretary Moore, of the Board of Trade forwards to him the following reply:

"Dear Sir: I would be pleased to arrange an exchange business through your agency, providing a reasonable profit could be made. I could supply you with lumber, hides, lead, iron goods, in fact with everything produced in America that you could use, especially farm implements and vehicles."

"If convenient for you to do so, send me a list of American articles now in use in Japan and about the cost price of same delivered in Japan, less any addition of duties."

This is a chance for Oregon to open up trade with Japan and it rests with the Portland jobbers to take advantage of it.

STREETER

Still Leads in The Journal Cup Contest.

In the contest for The Journal loving cup, George H. Streeter, of Portland still leads the list. Several new candidates have entered and will no doubt give evidence of their popularity in a few days. The Journal loving cup is a handsome present, valued at $125, and some one is sure to win it. Out of the coupons and send them so that you may get your Elk friend started in the contest as early as possible. The race closes September 13, and every day means that many more votes for the candidates who have entered early in the contest.

Today's count gives the following results:

George H. Streeter, Portland	3721
Frank Frazier, Pendleton	1440
E. B. Rich, Portland	727
E. B. Merges, Portland	496
F. A. McPherson, Portland	436

SOME BRIGHT REMARKS.

"Co-operation between labor and capital has not been extraordinarily successful in our state," remarked T. E. Robb, a coal operator of Veneta, Pa., who is at the Perkins. "The Pittsburgh Coal Company, one of the largest in Pennsylvania, issued $1,000,000 of stock to its employees a few years ago, but the men still go about their work with seeming indifference so far as the business of the mine outside of their departments is concerned, and in the management they ask no share at all, simply allowing those who have always been in control to do as they had before. The experiment has not met with flattering success."

"I am in this state for the purpose of buying a farm for my two sons, and have seen some excellent land up the Willamette valley near Albany. The price per acre of one place I looked at was $21. Land being as well as that in the Eastern states would be worth $150 to $200."

MORROW IS PROSPEROUS.

"Harvesting is now going on all over Morrow County, and this promises to be the banner year for the wheat crop as far as the yield goes, and we look for a fairly good price," said George Conner, the well known Heppner banker, this morning. "Wool sold well the season just closed, and with cattle bringing a high price our section is experiencing the most prosperous period of its history."

CLOSE TONIGHT.

County school examinations close tonight and state tomorrow evening. It will be a couple of weeks before the results can be known.

NEWSBOYS ORGANIZE

Met Last Night and Elected Officers—Large Attendance.

The newsboys met in the basement of The Journal office last night and organized a union. The following officers were elected: President, Herman Cohen; vice-president and treasurer, Gordon A. Campbell; secretary, Charley Robinson.

W. A. Campbell, Harry X. Marcus and C. E. Short were present and assisted in the organization, each making an address. They told the boys of the advantages of a union, and advised them to get together often to talk over matters which affect their interests. They were advised to be temperate in their demands, and not to adopt any extreme measures.

The speakers further stated that the object of organizing was wholly for mutual benefit.

There was a large attendance and the boys took an unusual interest in the proceedings. One of their number will shortly be sent to Seattle to get all the information he can from the Newsboys' Union at that place, and use the knowledge he acquires in this way for the benefit of the local union.

TRACY

Plaster Cast Made of His Head.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

SPOKANE, Aug. 15.—Two day sport men secretly made a plaster cast of Tracy's face and bust the night after the body reached Davenport. Three copies were made and show the desperado was abnormally developed on the right side of his head and chest.

UP IN A BUCKET

Twenty and Pretty She Went Up the Flue.

(Journal Special Service.)

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15.—As the result of a dare by Purchasing Agent J. C. Fennell of the Armour Packing Company, Miss Mary E. Bassett, 20 and pretty, was hoisted in a bucket to the top of the Plant's new 355-foot brick chimney.

She there sang the "Star Spangled Banner," christened the stack "Dorothy," and was lowered safely to the ground.

BIG CAMP MEETING

Twenty Tents Already Pitched—Opening Last Evening.

The Free Methodist campmeeting at Sellwood, under the leadership of District Elder Rev. W. Pearce, opened last evening with a large attendance. The camp ground is in a beautiful grove on the river bank at the foot of Tacoma street, and 20 tents have already been pitched. The opening sermon by Elder Pearce was a masterly exposition of the beauties and delights of the Christian life.

Rev. A. H. Stillwell, principal of the Seattle Academy; Rev. A. Beers and wife of Seattle; Rev. H. V. Haslam, pastor of the Free Methodist Church at East Clay and Ninth streets; Rev. J. H. Jellison, a celebrated evangelist of Chicago; and others will conduct the preaching services. These are all earnest Christians and many of them eloquent speakers and able teachers, and from the interest already manifest it is evident that the meeting will prove a blessing to many souls.

Meetings will be held every afternoon and night, closing on Sunday evening, August 24.

COURT NOTES.

The Victor Land Company has begun suit against Lavoretti Stevens for possession of a lot in Garrison's subdivision of East Portland. The company claim the property by virtue of a sheriff's deed.

Cummings Merrill has filed suit against W. T. Stephens to quiet title to 33 acres of land in the Witten donation land claim. This is a piece of property conveyed by the county to purchasers of tax titles, and it is claimed that the county had no lawful right to do so.

Charles Algeheimer, driver of an express wagon, on February 18 last, was unloading lumber from his wagon in front of a front street store. R. J. Stewart and John Winslow were putting up an awning to the store, and, it is alleged, through their negligence a piece of timber used by them fell and struck Algeheimer on the head. He claims to have been severely injured and now sues for $5000 damages.

Alleging that M. C. Banfield and Thomas Rand, three partners of Banfield & Rand, fraudulently purchased for $3000 a one-half interest in the Kaupisch Creamery (defunct for the last two years), on which they paid $2000, Joseph Polco, for himself and several others from whom he holds assigned claims, has sued Banfield & Rand for $3000. Polco and those whose claims he holds are creditors of the defunct Creamery Company. Kaupisch is now in business at Corvallis.

A BIG VOTE

For Queen of the Elk's Carnival.

MISS DOUGLAS LEADS

Only Three More Days—The German Village Will Be a Big Attraction.

In the count of the votes for the carnival queen candidates, today, Miss Douglas again takes the lead and places Miss Walton second on the list.

The count is as follows:

Miss Maybelle Douglas ..... 2301

Miss Grace Walton ..... 2259

Miss Carrie Burgoyne ..... 933

Miss Sadie L. Ridgeway ..... 804

Of the many tickets which were sent up in balloons Wednesday evening a considerable number are being found and reported. Lorne Manion, of 350 Yamhill street climbed upon the top of the Concordia Club roof and got one which fell there. About 20 persons followed a balloon which descended in South Portland only to see it fall into a slough, at Second and Grant streets, but this did not discourage J. H. Cleland.

MISS CARRIE BURGOYNE

Miss Carrie Burgoyne was born in Portland and has lived here the greater part of her life. She attended the public schools in Oregon City, then in Portland and after attending the Portland High School two years, she was engaged in the employ of Meier & Frank Company for a couple of years. Since last March she has been cashier in Fred T. Merrill's large cycle store. She has many relatives in Portland and both her parents are residing in New Era, Oregon. Miss Burgoyne is a bright attractive young woman and among her wide circle of friends she is considered a favorite. When asked what she would do with the prize, if she won it, she replied that there was plenty of time to think of that after she got the money, but expressed a desire to complete her musical education.

who jumped into the wife and got it and one other for his trouble. Albert Rometch waded waist deep into a slough and rescued a ticket yesterday afternoon, while Earl Lovejoy found one on a vacant lot on Claokamas street. All of these people will be admitted to everything on the grounds.

T. H. Richards will manage the German Village at the Carnival and when seen this morning said he would do his best to make the village the most interesting spot at the fair. Mr. Richards is well known and being a prominent caterer, will undoubtedly give the patrons perfect satisfaction.

The attractions at the village will outclass anything seen in Portland, and will comprise a continual performance of over 30 special artists. The famous Ladies' Military Band, direct from Berlin, consisting of 14 pieces will furnish the music.

The Marions in the thrilling and grotesque land balancing act, Sam Singer, the Oriental magician, the Carlonio cabaret comedians, Halder the magician, Middleton, song and dance artists, the Piel trio of Tyrolean warblers, Lara, wire walker, also a family of famous Tyrolean singers and a number of high class vaudeville artists, will all be among the attractive features of the village.

The following letter was received today by Manager Rowe:

Portland, Or., Aug. 15, 1902.

Illustrous Noble:

Al Kader Temple has accepted an "invite" from the "Elks" to participate with them on Friday evening, September 12th, in their carnival festivities. "Camels," "Elephants" and "Jack Asses" will be furnished for this Oriental occasion, and "Zem Zem" will flow like melted snow from Mount Hood.

Every member of Al Kader Temple, and his neighbor Nobles, must come. Put on your conventional dress, turn out and show these animals of the forest that the Arabs of the desert are on their track and out to capture their Queen.

Meet at your Council Chamber, September 12, at 8 o'clock. All functions free to those in conventional costume.

Judge not a Shriner by the cigars he smokes—they may have been given him by his mother-in-law on Christmas day. Advice to a young man for the Shrine. Sit still; look wise; say nothing. Take the keyhole with you; you may not find it when you go home.

It has been told you. Fall not to report. A good time awaits those who take part in the chase.

I. W. PRATT, Potentate.
S. G. WHITEHOUSE, Recorder.

AMONG THE CLUB WOMEN

If woman's club work never had or never should accomplish anything farther than create an awakening in household economics and domestic science, it would not have lived in vain. While every trade and profession was demanding the best skilled labor and preparation, that of wife, mother and housekeeper was content to rest upon the traditions of the past. The woman's clubs have changed the order of things, and not alone are they giving attention to these subjects by having departments of study and club days for the consideration of it, but a strong demand is being made for a chair in co-educational institutions.

MISS PORTER LEAVING.

Miss Porter who had the desk work at the school of Domestic Science in Portland last winter, goes to the University of Idaho to fill a similar position.

The Portland School of Domestic Science is an outgrowth of the work started by the home department of the woman's club two years ago, at which time the housekeepers of the club gave demonstrations in home cooking to a class of over two hundred.

Mrs. Ellen R. Miller, one of the most accomplished demonstrators and lecturers on the Coast, was then engaged to take charge of the work. Mrs. Miller's first work for the club was at the Exposition last fall where her demonstrations attracted large crowds.

YOUNG WOMEN'S UNION.

A union was then formed by the Young Women's Christian Association and the Woman's Union joining the Woman's Club in the work, and the present school was effected, with Mrs. Miller as demonstrator and Miss Porter for desk work. The school sprung into popularity at once and by its competent work the influence it has exerted has been far reaching and the whole subject of household economics has assumed a dignity it never before held in this community.

THE MAJORITY.

Mrs. Mary Alden Ward, president of the New England Woman's Press Association, preaches a sermon, the text of which she finds in the little story of the boy who told his father of a club they had formed, and upon being asked why the officers were, said, "Jonnie's the president, Tom's the secretary and Willie's the treasurer." "But," said the father, "what are you?" "Oh, I run the whole thing, I'm the majority," Mrs. Ward's moral is: the majority should always be recognized as "running the whole thing," which literally is correct, but another sermon might be found in the tendency of some club women, specially when the presidential mantle falls upon them, to delegate to their one self the functions of the majority, and try to "run it."

WOMEN IN LAW SCHOOL.

The Columbia Law School has within the year thrown open its doors to women after persistently keeping them closed for years. At a recent meeting Bevel Lockwood, in introducing Mrs. Bailey, said: "In her you see the first woman admitted to the Columbia Law school. In me you see the first woman rejected."

POTTERY CLUBS.

It will be a matter of regret that the pottery department of the Woman's Club has been dropped, as many clubs are forming such department, and several large cities, among them Denver and Louisville, have pottery clubs which seem to be giving a great impetus to the work. The Denver club does practical and actual work, often meeting large expenses for exhibitions, literature and other things by contributions from the members.

FUNDS FOR CLUB CHARITY.

The Ladies' Literary Club of Grand Rapids has a box at the door of their club house, where pennies may be dropped in. The collections are added to a fund started some years ago in memory of Miss Henry, a most devoted teacher in the

MITCHELL IS VOLUMINOUS.

"I have had four typewriters at work three days on a letter I am preparing for Mayor Williams calling attention to the apathetic state in which the matter of raising funds to purchase a sword for Captain Clark, of the battleship Oregon, has fallen," says Col. R. W. Mitchell. I have a list here of the medals, awards, watches, love and drinking cups, etc., that have been presented by other grateful cities and states to their favorite naval heroes, and lest we forget, it is time something was doing here."

KILLED UNDER A BOX CAR.

While crossing the track of the Terminal company by crouching under a box car, 11-year-old Frederic Schlegel was yesterday killed by the moving forward of the train near the Albina ferry. One arm was severed near the shoulder, and the other badly mangled. He was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital in the ambulance, and died on his arrival there. The lad leaves a widowed mother at 337 Albina avenue. The body is now at Finley's undertaking establishment. At an investigation this noon a verdict of accidental death was brought in.

THE SLABWOOD CASE.

The case of M. C. Banfield, of the Banfield-Vesey Fuel Company, for the obstructing of sidewalk with slabwood was again aired in the police court yesterday. Mr. Banfield stated there was no question about the wood being there, but it had been placed on the walk without his knowledge, and before his arrest he had not been notified to remove it. The court took the case under advisement.

INCORPORATED.

The Anchor Fence Company, N. E. Alger, George T. Merton and S. B. Lintzheim, directors, was incorporated today. Its capital stock is $100,000 in 2,000 shares of the par value of $50 each.

public schools. The fund now amounts to $1,054, the interest of which is used for buying shoes and clothing for poor children. The fund has lately been augmented by a gift of $500.

OSWEGO GUILD.

The Congregational Guild of Oswego, which is a member of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs, held its last meeting for the year a few days ago. At this meeting the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. G. H. Pettinger; vice-president, Mrs. H. T. Evans; secretary, Mrs. A. T. Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. J. Gardner. The Guild has done much active church work during the year. Their study has been parliamentary law, using Mrs. Bethel's question book.

WOMAN U. S. MARSHALL.

Many will be surprised to learn that Mrs. Geo. Spencer, at one time a prominent member of the Woman's Club of Portland and well known in musical and dramatic circles, is at present enjoying the novel distinction of filling the position of Deputy United States Marshall of Idaho. Mrs. Spencer received her appointment direct from President Roosevelt. She is said to fill creditably every requirement of her office except placing the hand cuffs, and when this becomes necessary she is furnished with a deputy to perform the delicate task.

CLUB PERSONALS.

Mrs. Theodore Sutro is said to be, with the exception of the Princess of Wales, the only English speaking woman privileged to sign the degree "musical doctor" to her name. The degree was conferred by Dr. Ernest Eberhard, president of the Conservatory of Music of New York.

To an American woman, Anna E. Klumpke, fell the lot of painting the last portrait of Rosa Bonheur. It was a striking likeness and the canvas was one of the notable pictures of the salon. Miss Klumpke is a native of San Francisco, but has lived a long time in Paris where she ranks among the first of the American-French painters. She has been a frequent exhibitor in the salon, in 1889 being awarded a bronze medal. Miss Klumpke has been represented in a number of annual exhibitions of American paintings at the Art Institute.

Mrs. Ellen R. Miller gave a delightful lunch on Tuesday to a number of her club friends. Portland women who have been such attentive pupils of Mrs. Miller, at the cooking school the past winter, will envy those who were fortunate enough to be her guests.

The many friends of Mrs. Miller are looking forward with pleasant anticipations to the resumption of her cooking class in the fall.

Mrs. J. C. Card, first president and one of the organizers of the Woman's Club, is seriously sick at the home of her niece on Willamette Heights. Mrs. Card had recently returned from an extended trip abroad, where she enjoyed excellent health until shortly before her return she contracted a heavy cold in Paris from which she has never fully recovered. Her many friends however hope she will soon open again to have her able to resume her place among them.

Mrs. Leese, wife of Rev. J. Leese, of St. James' Lutheran Church, after a visit to the Coast which did not have the beneficial results wished for, has gone to the mountains, hoping the change will improve her health which has been somewhat impaired of late. Mrs. Leese is a valued member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. Grace Watt Ross, the very popular ex-president of the Woman's Club has been spending a month in her cottage at the beach.

Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, the newly-elected director of the Woman's Club, after spending a week with her Lord, in Salem, has gone to Mehama for a month's outing.

Mrs. Barnard, of the Woman's Club, is visiting her son in Seattle and will remain over the month of August.

LABOR NOTES.

G. Y. Harry, president of the State Federation of Labor has gone to The Dalles to install a Federal Labor and Carpenters' union, which have just received charters. Mr. Harry also attended a big labor mass meeting which was held at The Dalles last night.

The Retail Clerks' Union has met and appointed an additional committee to assist in making the necessary preparations for Labor Day. It is the intention to have a street tournament as possible to take part in the celebration. The lady clerks will participate in the parade.

J. F. Shea, one of the master plumbers who is not affiliated with the Master Plumbers' Association, says that business in his line is progressing smoothly, and that he is not experiencing any trouble now in securing men. He also says that some of his former union employees, who joined forces with the "combine," are becoming anxious to resume their former cordial relations with the independent firms.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Alonso G. Barker, general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, who has been to Puget Sound points this week, returned last evening.

E. J. Seymour, of Chicago, assistant general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern Company, arrived last evening to spend three or four days in the city.

A half dozen boxes of strawberries, the very latest thing of the season, were seen on the market this morning. They were raised by P. D. Lang, the veteran Mt. Tabor grower, almost within the city limits. Portland epicures occupy an enviable position so far as the length of the season is concerned. In fact it is hard to tell just when they begin and end, and at almost any time an order for the ordinary fruits or vegetables is generally sure to catch 'em either coming or going.

The finest pianos that money can buy are Chickering (of Boston), Weber (of New York), and Kimball (of Chicago). Of course these great pianos are sold by Eilers Piano House. Nothing in the world could be more natural. The address is 351 Washington Street, opposite Corday's Theatre.

ACROSS THE RIVER

WANT WATER SUNNYSIDE GROWS

Montavilla's Liquid Supply Becomes Very Scarce.

Scarcity of water has caused the residents of Montavilla to put on their thinking caps and do some very loud thinking of their own accord. With the advent of warm weather there has been a decided scarcity of the water supply from the Mount Tabor Water Company. Montavilla people especially are loud in their protests against the action of the water company in shutting off the water supply after 6 p. m.

The water company has given orders that no one will be allowed to take a bucket of water from his neighbor without permission of the company. Even those residents who have troughs to water their horses and stock will now have to keep their troughs closed so that stock not their own will not be able to refresh their thirst without first notifying the company and paying for the privilege.

This action of the company in refusing to allow the free watering of stock is causing great indignation among the Montavillians and they say that they will retaliate. Low murmurings have gone forth from the residents for some time on account of the water company's action and now an effort will be made at the next meeting of the State Legislature to pass a bill that will annex the district to the City of Portland.

The school question, too, is one of the causes of the unrest among residents of the district. Although the school facilities of the district are much better than the average suburb of Portland the people are not satisfied and say that they want the same educational advantages for their children that the younger generation in the city receive. Anyway, Montavilla people are not going to let the grass grow under their feet.

Veterans in Camp.

Yesterday's attendance at the reunion of the Civil War Veterans at Pleasant Home was the largest since the camp was opened. In the afternoon Mrs. Albina Scott Dunway delivered her address on "The Disfranchised Citizen." She spoke of the several states in the West which gave women the same chance to register their votes and take the same interest in their government as the men. Mrs. Dunway wanted to know how long it would be before the grand state of Oregon would give the women who pay taxes, some representation in the state government.

The program for this afternoon will include a lecture by John F. Caples, late United States Consul at Valparaiso, Chile. Mr. Caples will talk of his observations while in the Southern country.

Flashed a Knife.

Bad blood has been a barrier between Motorman Wickersham, of the Upper Albina line, and Conductor Spencer, of the same line. Trouble between the two men was started a few days ago in the waiting room at the end of the line, in which it is alleged that Spencer has an interest and where Wickersham claimed to have been over-charged for a meal. The two men met in the waiting room Wednesday, and after some words it is said that Spencer pulled a knife on his opponent. No one was hurt, however, in the bloodless duel of words.

Fire in Hotel.

An alarm was turned in last evening from box 321 for a fire in the Globe Hotel on Railroad street, Lower Albina. The hotel building has been deserted for several years and the entrances to the structure are boarded up. The blaze was discovered by a man named Fitzgerald, who turned in the alarm. The department soon arrived and the blaze was extinguished. The loss to the building, which is owned by Henry Weinhard, amounts to about $250.

Rev. H. H. Pratt, pastor of the Forbes Presbyterian church, in Albina, is in California, where his father is reported seriously ill.

Cement Walks and Other Improvements Made.

Improvements are all the go in Portland's beautiful residence section—Sunnyside. New residences and store buildings are going up in nearly every section of the district and still there is not an empty house to be found.

A large amount of concrete walks are under course of construction and many more are contemplated. The following are now ready to put in the walks in front of their property: John Jones, East Thirty-fifth and Belmont; H. M. Barrett, superintendent of the carrier service in the Portland Postoffice, East Thirty-fifth and Belmont; Henry Lawson, East Thirty-fourth and Belmont; Dr. Pett, East Thirty-fourth and Belmont; F. O. Weeks, Belmont between East Thirty-fourth and East Thirty-fifth streets.

T. S. McDaniels has begun the excavation work for his proposed new two-story brick store building on Belmont street east of Station "C." The structure will be 35x55 feet. The ground floor will be divided into two storerooms, the upper section being used for offices. Work on the addition to the Sunnyside School building is progressing rapidly. Carpenters are now busily engaged in completing the shingling of the roof. The plaster work was commenced yesterday.

For Free Delivery.

When will the Postal Department give the residents of the Montavilla district a free daily mail delivery is the question that is asked by nearly every resident of the district. The petition for the carrier delivery was sent to the department at Washington several months ago and is said to have been favorably passed upon by the Postmaster at Portland.

Montavilla is growing very rapidly and the residents say that they can see no reason why they should not be given a free delivery of their mail, as the Mount Tabor residents receive.

Postmaster Burdett of Montavilla says that he has not heard anything concerning the matter from the Postoffice Department at Washington, the only news he has received being through the newspapers. Patrons of the office are making life a burden for him, as they ask about the prospects of the department granting the district free delivery every time they come into the office.

Montavilla Briefs.

Montavilla assembly, United Artisans, held a very interesting meeting at their hall Tuesday evening. Several matters of importance were settled and a number of new candidates elected.

Mrs. Captain H. Schneider has returned from her outing at Moffett's Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dahl of Duluth, Minn., are visitors at the residence of Mrs. A. E. S. Olsen. Mrs. Dahl is a sister of Mrs. Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Flood and family are at the coast.

L. D. Knight, accompanied by his family, have left for their vacation at Tillamook. They expect to stay about a month.

Mrs. Brison and family have returned from an outing in the vicinity of Mt. Hood.

Messrs. Kellogg and Higgins accompanied by their families have departed for a trip to the mountains.

Floyd Phillips has purchased property on Ebese street and has moved there with his family.

The Anderson family, late arrivals from Minnesota, have purchased a residence from J. H. Barringer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Manley, well known Albina residents, will leave tomorrow for a few days' visit on their farm at Hood River. They will also visit several cities in Eastern Oregon.
