ASTORIA.

(Journal Special Service.)
ASTORIA, Aug. 28.—Deputy Game Warden M. F. Hardesty made a remarkable capture of lawbreakers at Seaside about 11 o'clock Monday night. The lawbreakers were four Episcopal ministers of the leading churches of Oregon, who had unknowingly violated the law. The persons were Rev. E. T. Simpson, of All Saints, Portland; Rev. J. E. Simpson, pastor of St. Mark's, Portland; Rev. C. H. Lake, pastor of St. Paul's, The Dalles. Mr. Hardesty found the preachers on the Necanicum bridge at 11 o'clock. They had four fish, all having been caught by Rev. J. E. Simpson. The deputy carried on an amusing conversation with the offenders before revealing his mission and informing them that they had violated the law, and, after arresting them, permitted them to go on their own recognizance, to appear the following morning for trial. As the men were ignorant of the law, only one of them was charged with the violation, and a fine of $20 was taxed against him. Rev. J. E. Simpson was the defendant. The Oregon laws prohibit fishing for trout during that period of the night from one hour after sundown to one hour before sunrise. Mr. Hardesty regretted being compelled to arrest them, but used his influence with Justice Young to make their case as light as possible. The deputy arrested five men in all, the layman being L. R. Kollock.

John Desantere and B. Moro, the two Italians who were brought back from San Francisco, charged with having stolen $300 from George Elco, have brought suit for damages against Elco, each asking $250. The men contend that the published reports following their arrest have damaged them to the amount sued for. The cases will be tried September 1st, before Justice Goodman.

Deputy Fish Commissioner Bjorn has selected a hatchery site on Grays River. The plant will be located on the Birchard ranch, where there is plenty of water for all the fish that may be taken. The cost of building the hatchery will be light, owing to the available location selected. Mr. Burton will visit other tributaries of the Lower Columbia for the purpose of selecting sites for four other hatcheries which the Washington fish commission will establish this fall.

G. W. Lounsbury, local agent of the O. R. & N. Co., is in receipt of official notification of the granting of homesteaders' rates to Astoria. At first the transcontinentals declined to extend these rates to this city, but A. L. Craig, of the O. R. & N., used his influence to good effect. The rates will be in effect from Eastern points during September and October.

At the last meeting of the Astoria Lodge of Elks 14 new members were initiated. The Elks' committee in charge of the coming trip to Portland, September 4th, has chartered a special train, which will leave Astoria at 7:30 a. m., and returning, leave Portland at midnight.

The tug Wanderer, of the Sound, will be in service at the mouth of the river while the Tatoosh is towing the big raft to San Francisco. Captain Eric Johnson has gone over to the Sound to bring her around. The Tatoosh will be assisted by the Holyoke in towing the boom south. It is reported here that the tug Samson will be engaged in the bar service during the busiest months of the grain season, which will make the tug service better than ever before.

The manner in which the two human skulls came to be found near Eleventh street has been explained. The skulls were those of Indians and were found on Clatsop Plains by S. G. Trullinger, who gave them to A. B. Balgity, a medical student. Balgity threw them away, and their discovery by boys caused some excitement for a time.

There will be no formal observance of Labor Day in Astoria. The unions of the city will hold an excursion to Seaside on the previous day, and it has been deemed impracticable to endeavor to get the laboring men together on two successive days.

PERSONAL MENTION.
 A. A. Johnson, the government forestry expert, has been at Seaside for a few days.
 Howard Winter, the Portland cannery man, was in the city yesterday.
 Fish Warden Van Dusen is in Portland on official business. He will shortly visit the Eastern Oregon hatcheries.
 A. S. Reed leaves in a day or two for Pittsburg, Pa., to visit relatives.
 J. N. Griffin and family have returned from their summer outing at Cannon Beach.
 Steward H. W. Dean, of the Commercial Club, is at Seaside.

Wilson & Son, locators of timber claims, homesteads and mining properties of this city, has just returned from a six-day's trip in the region of the Big Sandy, in Multnomah County, where he had been employed to estimate timber for the firm of W. F. Jewett & Sons, of Minnesota, with a view to the purchase by said firm of the timber estimated. Mr. Wilson reports lots of work in the line of locating claims, and says he has at this time seven persons in Marion County, nine in Salem and four in Portland, waiting to be located upon suitable claims.

J. P. Spencer, a laborer who for several weeks has worked for the Salem Nursery Company, attempted to kill himself Tuesday night in a Salem saloon, by cutting himself with a new pocket knife. After having inflicted several bloody wounds, the bartender in charge succeeded tonville, Ark., and Connecticut in a lumbering canvas-topped "prairie schooner." Black, who is independently wealthy, conceived the idea of visiting his relatives in the territory, near here and driving the entire distance, living a gypsy life en route. The family left home in May and headed for St. Louis, traveling from there to Terre Haute, and then to Indianapolis, from which point they journeyed to Wheeling, and then struck straight across the country to the Hudson River.

 The travelers covered about 15 miles a day, and camped at night. Beds, cooking utensils and a supply of provisions were carried. The whole party were in in preventing him from doing further injury to himself until he could summon assistance. Sheriff B. B. Colbach soon arrived and took charge of the man and after having his wounds dressed he committed him to jail until yesterday morning, when he was committed to the insane asylum.

A. L. Brown and wife left Tuesday for Boston. Mr. Brown being the delegate from Oregon to the National Association of Civil Engineers. They expect to extend their visit to their friends and relatives in Iowa.

The difficulty between the firm of Warner & Company, painters, and the Painters' Union, now bids fair to be quite serious. Hopes were entertained by both the unions and the citizens in general that an amicable settlement would be reached the first of this week, on the return to the city of the principal members of the firm, but these hopes were not realized. The unions maintain that everything within their power has been done to effect an amicable settlement with the Warners, but all to no purpose.

VANCOUVER.

(Journal Special Service.)
VANCOUVER, Aug. 28.—The Clark County Republican convention, held here yesterday, endorsed the administration of President Roosevelt, and especially commends his stand against trusts, and in favor of reciprocity with Cuba. The administration of Governor McBride is endorsed, and he is commended for the fearless and independent policy which has characterized his administration. Delegates to the state convention to vote as a unit for Congressmen Jones and Cushman, declared for a railroad commissioner, and for the election of Senators by direct vote. Other resolutions were in favor of a direct primary law, and the limiting of the session of the state Legislature to 40 days. Delegates to the state convention were selected by a committee appointed by the chair, as follows: A. S. Miller, L. G. Allen, John Ellwell, John Anderson, James A. Snodgrass, W. H. Metcalf, James Crowley, Gus Duml, C. D. Bowles, A. H. Parcell, A. D. Ellwell, A. J. Bingham, M. Boulster, L. B. Clough, Donald McMaster, Harry Smith, W. W. Sparks.

OVER THE WIRES.

The way the matter stands at the present time, a new railroad for this section seems a surety. The preliminary survey has been completed, and the final survey from here to Waldo, about finished. The road is to be built through the whole length of Josephine County, crossing the state line at Waldo, and following the north fork of Smith River to Crescent City.

FREIGHT ECONOMY

Experiments Are Being Made by the Illinois Central.
 (Journal Special Service.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Experiments are being conducted by the Illinois Central on a device, which is likely to revolutionize the economy of freight carrying business. The experiments are being made with a box car, the trucks of which are fitted with ball-bearing journals, which make the car run so easily that a single person is able to move it. The fact was easily accomplished yesterday by many persons who were examining the car.

The bearing consists of four races of three-quarter balls. The latter are built to make the thrust of the car when going around a curve. There are 12 three-quarter balls in each journal, each of which will sustain a crushing strain of 75,000 pounds. The smaller balls will sustain a crushing weight of 35,000 pounds. The car in question was loaded with 30,000 pounds of steel casting, and made the trip in New Orleans, where it was loaded with coffee and returned to Chicago.

It is stated that the journals have an average life of seven years, which is much longer than the journals now in use. The most important advantage claimed for them is the great ease with which they can be moved. If practical, train loads can easily be doubled and hauled with the same power now used. This would mean tremendous economy in operation.
