Unknown parties made a bold attempt to murder the entire family of Mrs. Alice Combs at Blackwell, Okla., by putting arsenic in the coffee can. While the family was absent from home, the house was entered and a number of valuable articles taken which were found later broken in pieces—a short distance from the house.

Some interesting relics have been unearthed by laborers employed in excavating the subway at Astor and LaFayette places in New York. Among the lot was a town-crier's bell, made of brass and with an ivory handle; the bit of an officer's sword, and a bronze powder flask. The hilt of the sword evidently had been studded with precious stones. The hilt is of silver, and at its base almost obliterated were the initials "G. W."

OREGON BRIEFS.

Crawford peaches in carload lots are being shipped out of Ashland every day by the Ashland Fruit & Produce Association. It is expected that the shipping will continue for at least ten days.

The wheat crop of Lane County is reported to be so light that it is not probable that there will be any more wheat enough to supply the local demand, and prices are higher in that vicinity now than they have been for several years.

A big shipment of choice goats has been made from Polk County to Seattle, to Judge Benson, of Superior Bench. The price paid was $5 per head.

An Excuse.

"Gusta," said her mistress, "I am sorry to have to say that I am not quite satisfied with the way you've been doing your work lately."

"Thanks."

"Why do you thank me?"

"I've been wanting to leave for a long time, but I couldn't think of any excuse and it just made me sick every time I thought of the way it'd hurt your feelings if I was to quit without one."—Chicago Record-Herald.

SALEM.

SALEM, Aug. 29.—Salem is just now having a building boom, the like of which she has seldom if ever, had at any one time in point of numbers of substantial brick structures.

The one-story brick of Mel Hamilton, on State street, is practically completed and is occupied by a saloon conducted by its owner. The two-story brick of George Bain is also nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy on or about September 1st. It is 48x50. On State street, two large edifices are fast assuming shape. The first is that of M. Klinger, and it is a two-story 66x80 feet. It will be completed about November 1st. It will cost when complete about $10,000.

Adjoining the Klinger building on the west the 60x80-foot structure of S. B. Shriver is at about the same stage as the Klinger edifice and will be completed about November 1st. Its cost at completion will approximate $8000.

Foundation and basement work is about complete on the large brick corner to be erected by the Steusloff Brothers. It is to be a two-story brick 35 feet on Court and 75 feet on Liberty street, with 3-foot basement. It will cost about $5500.

A two-story brick 44x100 is being erected by E. P. McCormack. Excavation is done and foundation and basement work are under way. It will cost about $5000.

The foregoing shows brick building operations in progress now, the total cost of which will aggregate $45,000.

SALEM BRIEFS.

The farmer's trust known as the Rocky Point Grain Grower's Association, sold their pool of oats yesterday to the firm of Balfour, Guthrie & Co., 81 cents per hundred for fall oats and 81 cents per hundred for the spring crop.

This is another of the several instances in which this same company of farmers have realized a substantial advance over the local market quotation by pooling their crops. This year the price paid is about two cents per bushel more than local quotations.

The Salem Press Club, composed of local newspaper men, has tendered its services to the state fair board, and appointed Hon. Frank Davey, one of its members, to act in conjunction with the State Press Association committee in the coming Legislative session.

About 12,000 people witnessed the performances in Buffalo Bill's Wild West show yesterday afternoon.

GRANTS PASS.

GRANTS PASS, Aug. 29.—Labor Day will be observed in Grants Pass with much ceremony and pomp. The local Federated Trades Union has the matter in hand and are sparing no effort to make the day one of the greatest of its kind ever known in Grants Pass. All of the business houses, including the saloons, will close their doors and all factories and mills will cease work for the day. There will be a parade in the forenoon, followed by musical and literary exercises at Bicycle grove. Robt. G. Smith and Father Geo. D. Doyle will deliver addresses. In the afternoon there will be more exercises at the grove, at which the clergy of Grants Pass will take a part. There will also be races and other sports and a grand ball in the evening.

D. A. Cords, founder of the Pine Needle Fiber Industry in America, is in Grants Pass from San Francisco, looking after the interests of his factory here. The factory is in continual operation manufacturing fiber and pine needle oil for the several products they turn out.

J. R. Harvey, manager of the Old Channel mines, of Galice, has returned from his trip East and has gone out to his mines, beginning the work of preparing them for the coming winter's run.

The walls of the three-story Masonic Temple have been laid, and the magnificent structure is fast assuming shape. The building will be the finest structure in Grants Pass when completed, and the best of its kind in the state outside of Portland.

The several Grants Pass camping parties who have been away in the mountains, have returned. This week a camping party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Croxton and daughter, Miss Oysth, Miss Madge Marshall, Miss Edna Parker, and William Ireland, returned from Crescent City, where they have been spending several weeks by the seaside. Another Grants Pass party to the same region, comprising Prof. and Mrs. F. E. Young, Rev. and Mrs. McDougal, and Mr. and Mrs. Cobbs, returned home Wednesday evening. All report a pleasant trip.

EUGENE.

EUGENE, Aug. 29.—J. L. Page, who has been in the grocery business in Eugene for 22 years, has sold out to W. L. Dunlap and Chas. Ostrander, recently from Atlantic, Iowa.

D. M. Prince, aged 73 years, died at his home here Tuesday, and was buried yesterday. He came to Eugene in 1897 from Missouri.

Council H. B. Miller and family arrived home today, after having spent a few days in Portland. They express themselves as glad to get back home.

THE DALLES.

THE DALLES, Aug. 29.—The business men of this town are making great preparations for the carnival that is to be held here the first week in October. They are very enthusiastic over the outlook and say that it will surpass anything that was ever held here in former years.

An attempt was made at an early hour Wednesday morning to burglarize the house of George Johnson, on Third street, but the burglars were frightened away by the unlooked-for appearance of Officers Cate and Moquist. Two suspicious-looking negroes who had been seen around town are suspected of the crime, as they were seen prowling about the house early in the evening. Another thing that seems to warrant this suspicion is the fact that they have suddenly left town.

The marriage of William L. Saling, of Heppner, and Miss Mattie Strou, of this city, was performed at the home of the bride here on Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Saling will make their future home in Heppner, where Mr. Saling holds the office of County Assessor.

The teachers' institute has opened here with an attendance of 75.

Mr. Tolmie, who was formerly connected with Pease & Mays of this city, together with his brother-in-law, Herbert Travers, has determined to remove to Eugene and open a dry goods store in that place.

IN BILIOUS GREEN.

Protests are arising with what might be called "considerable unanimity," if we are not particular, against the adoption of olive green as the color of the army uniform. "The wife of a distinguished army officer" is quoted as saying: "We have learned to think and speak of the army as the boys in blue. Now we are to behold those whom we love and honor attired in a bilious green uniform which, has no sentiment, no durability and no beauty." Looking at it from this standpoint, it may be well to consider whether or not a single mistake is being made in changing the color of the army uniform. How much do we owe to art and how much to utility? The object in adopting the olive green tint is to make our soldiers less visible to the enemy and insure a greater percentage of them against the enemy's bullets. But if the genuine desire for effective outdoor color schemes is to be thwarted and overridden, perhaps we should pause. It may be a harsh measure to outrage the sense of the beautiful with a stalwart line in "bilious green" rather than one in blue, and if the fair ones prefer to see "those they love" in a shade in which they are more easily shot, the secretary of war may be persuaded to give way and permit the extra slaughter to go on. But no one had thought that an emotional attachment for "sentiment, durability, and beauty" had quenched a humane, not to say an affectionate, desire for the safety of "those we love."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

W. Abbot, of Fisher's Landing, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. E. A. Staun, of Seattle, was in the city yesterday on her way to Astoria.

C. E. Thompson was a business visitor today.

Mrs. A. M. Wilson, of Oakland, Cal., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ed. Bailey, of this city.

BARRACKS NEWS.

The orderly room of company H, Seventeenth infantry, was broken into Wednesday night, between the hours of 1 o'clock a. m. and daylight, and the locker taken out. It contained $27 in cash, belonging to the library fund, of which Sergeant Dixon is treasurer. The locker also contained Sergeant Dixon's clothing and private papers relating to his entire military career. Private Symington lost a nice civilian suit, coat and hat, from his room, Corporal Potts and Private Brenner, were also relieved of some of their wearing apparel. They have found a clue to the guilty parties.

The Eighth Battery, under command of Capt. Henly, First Lieutenant H. B. Mitchell and Second Lieutenant L. L. Lawson, returned yesterday from a six weeks' practice march through Northern and Western Washington. The boys enjoyed the trip very much, and were the recipients of many compliments along the line of march. It is estimated that forty-five thousand people assembled to see the battery drill the first day in Tacoma. They will go to Big Sandy for target practice on the return of the Twenty-sixth battery, which is at target practice, and expected to return Sunday.

Lieutenant Wood, who has been transferred to the Twenty-fourth infantry, left today with his family for San Francisco, where they will take the first transport for Manila.

A detachment of 18 recruits, in charge of Lieutenant Cheston, left today for Fort Lawton, where they have been assigned to company M, of the Seventeenth infantry.

Sergeant W. W. Biggers, with a detachment of 14 of the signal corps, arrived at the post today, from Alaska, and have been assigned to companies C and H.

ASTORIA.

ASTORIA, Aug. 29.—Manager F. P. Kendall, of the American Can Company, stated yesterday afternoon that the local can factory would be removed to Portland just as soon as practicable. For some time it was thought that the factory might be operated here for another year, but Mr. Kendall says he expects the new Portland factory will be in operation by January 1. The plans for the buildings are now being prepared, and as soon as they are approved the work of construction will be commenced. The company has purchased a site in Portland. Mr. Kendall says the removal of the factory to Portland is due to better facilities offered there, as Portland is the center of the can trade. The local buildings will be stripped of their machinery and sold.

The Portland-Alaska Packers' Association ship C. F. Sargeant arrived yesterday afternoon from Bristol Bay, Alaska. She brings the pack of the cannery for the present year, 35,000 cases, and the entire cannery crew, about 150 persons. She had a fine passage of 14 days.

There seems to be a determination on the part of the salmon packers of the Columbia River to engage in fall fishing this year. The 2,000,000-case shortage in the world's supply affords the cannery a splendid opportunity to speculate with their fall packs, but the price to be paid for raw material has not been decided upon. It is expected some of the cold storage plants will be operated to supply the Eastern markets, in which event the price of fish will probably be fixed at a much higher figure than the cannery would offer.

While the steamer Bailey-Kistner was on her way down the river Wednesday night Nicolai Peterson and wife boarded her at Puget Island with their 3-year-old son, who was to be taken to Astoria for treatment. Soon after going aboard the child was attacked with a vomiting fit, during which it died.

Several substantial improvements are to be made along the Astoria waterfront. The Astoria Exchange Company is to erect a large dock and warehouse on its property between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets. The wharf will extend 50 feet north of the railroad track and on it will be erected a warehouse 50x100 feet. The new dock will be especially adapted to the accommodation of small steamers. The O. R. & N. Company has let the contract for the driving of its big wharf. L. Lebeck will do the work.

The Puget Sound tug Richard Holyoke arrived here last evening and will, with the tug Tatooch, leave out shortly for San Francisco with one of the tworafts built at Stella by the Robertson Rafting Company. The start will be made within a day or two and it is expected the tug will reach San Francisco in 10 days, if the weather is favorable. The larger raft is 70 feet in length and will be towed south by the steamer Arctic. The ability of the vessel to handle her big is doubted.

The Troy Laundry Company has bought from ex-Mayor Bergman the property at Tenth and Duane streets and will put in a $15,000 plant there. The property brought $4000.

BAKER CITY.

BAKER CITY, Aug. 29.—Mining circles here were considerably stirred up today over the purchase at public auction by Hon. C. A. Johns, the well known Baker City attorney, recently a candidate for Governor at the hands of the Republicans, of the celebrated and very rich Belsley-Elkhorn mine, for $4000 cash, at Sheriff's sale, to satisfy judgments obtained by one of Mr. John's clients, the Heilner C. & Co. The purchase is subject to a mortgage of $34,000 and about $20,000 floating debts against the property.

There is a movement on foot amongst mining engineers and prospectors to have some change made in the Oregon mining laws. They say that Oregon is the only state in the Union so lax in its laws protecting titles to mining properties and protecting prospectors and mine owners. It is 50 years behind the times and operators who are accustomed to working under the English, Canadian or New Jersey laws become disgusted when they go up against the situation here. They say Oregon is unique and occupies a place by itself in the entire world when it comes to mining.

Manager T. S. Kennerly, of the Gold Coin mine in the Greenhorn district, today purchased from the Caldwell Bros. Company, Seattle, a four-drill compressor plant, which will be installed at once and active development work pushed forward. Several British engineers who are spending some time in Eastern Oregon declare that the Greenhorn is the coming mining camp of the Northwest.

A movement is on foot to form a good roads and push club in Baker City for the purpose of inducing immigration, irrigation and the establishment of good roads in Eastern Oregon. It is expected to send delegates to the good roads convention to be held in Portland in October.
