QUOTATIONS EVERYWHERE.

(Special wires to Bolton de Buyter & Co.)

Chicago, ug. 29.—Record-Herald: "Commission people say there has been of late some loosening up in the September wheat, suggesting there has been enough liquidation by the big holders to considerably relieve the market. Some corn people are predicting receipts at this market by the end of the next week will be on the average about 150 cars a day, and there are people who are predicting with the present weather conditions uninterrupted for two weeks Chicago will be getting 500 cars per day."

"The people are going short on new September oats," says Davis Lascar. "They must be crazy, unless they expect to get out an injunction when the time for delivery comes around. It is not a matter of being too high or too low, but I cannot see where anyone can confidently expect to get standard oats with which to make a delivery. They are not here now; they are not coming and our advices are that farmers who are threshing from the stack are not getting them."

An expert is going through Illinois for Harris Gates to decide as to when the corn will be out of the way of frost and also as to the amount of old corn left. He is reporting that corn will need from two to three weeks to be perfectly safe, according to locality. He is finding plenty of old corn that will be on sale when the new crop is beyond any risk. Frequent rains have delayed cane in the South and cutting in parts of the Northwest. The movement of new wheat is abnormally light and much of that arriving is damp and smutty.

In Middle States.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—Price Current—Weather conditions the past week were favorable fir growing corn crop and receipts were fully maintained. In Kansas and Missouri the late corn needed rain. Immense crops in those states. Spring wheat threshing is more favorable than last week. Delays by rain have made harvesting and threshing a little late. Winter wheat movement is normal and receipts to grade low, but there seems to be a slightly improved tendency. Oats have been so seriously damaged by rain in Ilinois and Iowa during the last few weeks that the supply has been decidedly reduced. At the same time there will be much low-grade oats.

FRENCH WHEAT.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Opening wheat spot, weak. 55 cl lower; futures 15 cl lower; flour weak.

Argentine shipments of wheat and corn last week, 72,000, 112,000; previous week, 128,000, 184,000; last year, 168,000, 1,360,000.

CHICAGO SALES.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Cash business here was 40,000 bushels No. 1 Northern at 3½ @3¾ over September. There were no sales of corn for shipment, but purchases were reported of 50,000 bushels No. 3, to arrive.

COTTON MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 29.—Spot cotton opened with moderate business sales. 6000 futures opened easier, one to four points off, and at 2:30 p. m. quiet, one off to one up.

LOGAN & BRYAN'S LETTER.

Wheat—Liverpool unchanged to ½ lower. Paris, ¾ lower. Antwerp, ⅝ lower. Bradstreet clearances for week 5½ million, against 6½ million last year. Broomhall cables that Liverpool was depressed by the pressure on spot wheat and brilaint weather. Market here was a little firmer. It is partly due to slightly showery conditions in the Northwest and partly to the firmness in coarse grains. It was a very dull market, however, in every way. Cash demand, slow.

Corn—Liverpool ¼ lower to ⅛ higher. Market very firm and on low temperature in extreme Northwest, which admitted the possibility of frost in the Northern latitudes. Shorts covered. On the whole the weather throughout the West is favorable and the crop, although higher temperatures would be desirable.

Oats—Market was firm partly in sympathy with strength in corn and mainly on shorts covering. With the extremely small stocks of contract oats little or no deliveries are expected on Tuesday next on September contracts. This scattered short interest is September oats may aggregate considerable, but the situation hardly looks threatening.

Provisions—Market is irregular. Pork and ribs are higher and a shade lower. Receipts of hogs, 41,000, against 50,000. Prices at the yards were lower. The pork and ribs were supported by local packing interests. The lard seems to have poor support and the cash demand for lard is slow.

LOCAL MARKETS.

The tone of the Portland market was better and stronger along the entire street this morning, with marked features, especially in groceries and staples, which was expresed by Wadhams in the form that business was decidedly good. Fruits, fish and produce were likewise strong. Prices were generaly unchanged, but shipments and orders were lively.

Malarkey & Co. reported Sound halibut one-half cent higher and movement quite good.

The first Eastern and Southern Oregon watermelons were reported, California having ruled to this point. Rogue River sent the first southern cargo, a 1500 car, received by the Portland produce and commision houses. The stock is fine in size and color, indicating a good crop. Initial figures are $2 to $2.50 per dozen. Glafke reported the first car of Payette, Idaho, cantelopes, nutmegs, being the Rockyford variety, initial price, $1.50 to $1.75 per crate.

The peach supply is short, Ashlands being pretty well cleaned up, though there is considerable supply of Myrtle Creek and Merlin now due.

Oregon Hen Depot reported chickens from two to four-bits lower per dozen, but did not change the general prices.

General quotations remained little changed through the entire list as below.

PROBLEM OF TANKS

Before Council Committee Today.

A LIVELY SESSION

Remonstrators Fiery in Their Arguments---No Action Taken.

Probably the liveliest meeting of the present Health and Police Committee of the Council took place this morning. There was really only one question before the committee, and that was the remonstrance of a large number of property-owners of Albina against the petition of the Standard Oil Company for the privilege of erecting immense storage tanks in their midst. There were about a dozen remonstrators present and they were very emphatic in their verbal protests. Manager Flanders of the oil company was also present to explain and why it so desired this special location; also to answer any questions which might be asked of him.

The petitioners, who represented all the way from one house and lot to 300 lots, by Dr. Swain had many reasons to offer why the petition should not be granted. First, depreciation in the value of property, which they placed at 50 per cent; loss of tenants who have already given notice that they will move; danger to life and the cancellation of all insurance policies in the neighborhood. Some maintained that their little and large holdings in many instances represented the saving of a lifetime and that it would not be fair and just to reduce the value of a $4000 house to $2000.

CAPTAIN HOGAN SAID

that his children had already expressed their fears and that he would certainly have to move and rent his residence for what he could get. Another had two cottages now bringing him in $15 per month, each of which would not be rentable at more than $6 or $7, should the tanks be located as proposed. His tenants had already notified him that they would vacate if the oil came. Samuel Connell, one of Portland's substantial business men, if not the loudest raised objection, was the most logical. Others were almost carried off their feet by their vehemence in addressing the committee.

Mr. Connell, who is president of two manufacturing concerns in Albina, said:

CONNELL'S OBJECTIONS.

"While I am very friendly with Mr. Flanders, self-interest and the interest of the district, compells me to strongly object to the Standard Oil Company's petition being granted. Now, as a starter, take the insurance question. I have been paying 7½ per cent which is all I can stand. It is not only this but the insurance people have already cancelled three of my policies and will not give me insurance even at a prohibitive rate.'

Chairman Sigler: "Were the reasons given for cancelling the policies that the oil tanks were coming there?"

"Well, not exactly, but if the petition had not been filed and aired in the press I am satisfied the investigation would probably never have occurred, or at least not at this time. Shortly after the news came out an insurance man visited our district and made a secret investigation. The cancellation of the policies followed immediately. Of course the immediate cause of the action of the insurance people was the lack of a fire boat and the inadequate water supply. I don't blame the O. R. & N. Company for petitioning the city for a better water supply. I can turn on a stream on the ground floor of one of my factories and beat the water to the roof."

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Flanders then arose and addressed the committee, being interrupted many times by remonstrators who lost their temper and were very fiery in their remarks, both direct to Mr. Flanders and among themselves in under-tones. The speaker's argument was in the main almost the same as he has uttered before. He said he had tried to secure river front sites on the West Side clear down to Linnton and on the East Side from the present plant to St. Johns, but could find no available one except the one petitioned for. He said in explanation of the water front proposition that to land fuel oil here by rail it would cost the consumer as much as wood at $3.50 per cord but that if tank steamers could be utilized he could compete with wood at less than $2. Mr. Flanders answered all the questions put to him in a mild and logical manner, but his position was several times anything but pleasant.

After all no action was taken, and upon vote the petition was tabled.

SHOT BY ACCIDENT.

J. Jensen of Linnton is at the Good Samaritan Hospital as the result of the accidental discharge of a gun. Jensen was out hunting when the gun became wedged in some thick brush, and in trying to get it out, the trigger was pulled and the weapon disharged. The wound is not serious.
