

"Where Rolls the Oregon."

OREGON CITY.

(Journal Special Service.)
OREGON CITY, Sept. 5.—The present low stage of water has enabled the Portland General Electric Company to make rapid progress on their addition to the old station. When this is finished the plans will have been completed. The first section was built six years ago and three years later another section was added, and now the time of construction is up to about seven years. The whole building is made of concrete and steel and will be filled with the most modern machinery, making it one of the few first-class stations of the world. A most difficult feat of engineering was performed in the laying of the foundation as a big cofferdam had to be constructed around the work to keep the river out, and then powerful pumps had to be used to keep the enclosure clear of water. These improvements are being made along with other improvements at the substation in Portland, and that means that the entire line of wires running between this place and the metropolis must be rebuilt to handle the added amount of current. This is the company's use; it furnishes power to the Portland R. R. Co. and the O. W. P. & R. Co., and many of the mills in this city. Engineer Sullivan drew the plans and has engineered the work throughout.
 Elmer Mayville, an employee of the Willamette mills, working at Station A, was badly injured yesterday afternoon. While at work a piece of timber rolled on him, breaking the left leg just below the knee and dislocating the knee joint. He was taken to his home and cared for by Dr. Carl.
 Repairs which are being made on the Catholic church will be finished about Oct. 1. In the meantime no services will be held in the evenings, but those of the morning will be held as usual.
 The rider bridge, located on the road between New Era and Molalla corners, is reported to be in danger of burning, as there is a brush fire near by which threatens it. This bridge is not a valuable one, but as it crosses a deep ravine the farmers of the surrounding country would be greatly inconvenienced should it go, as it would mean a four or five miles extra drive.
 Rev. Bollinger, who has been spending the summer visiting his old home in the East, is expected home in time to occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning.
 The Misses Chamberlain daughters of Governor-elect Chamberlain, were visiting Miss Harding yesterday.
 William Ruth, of the Lewis and Clark Valley, is visiting friends in town.
 Mrs. O. L. Stewart returned from Vancouver yesterday after a week's absence.

ALBANY.

(Journal Special Service.)
ALBANY, Sept. 5.—The demand for fruit trees this year has been so great that nurserymen have been unable to supply it. Ex-Mayor C. V. Fawcett, of Tacoma, was in the city this week after a carload of trees but was unable to secure them at present.
 The little son of C. H. Stewart, while playing around a gasoline stove had the misfortune to tip over a pan of boiling water and was quite severely burned.
 Mr. Walter Turrel, a prominent business man of Tacoma, is in this city on business.
 Judge Bean, of Salem, is in the city on legal business.
 Dr. Jos. Sternberg, of Portland, is in this city.
 Mrs. Alfred C. Schmitt, nee Filin, arrived home last evening from a two-years' trip abroad.
 Miss Eva Simpson has accepted a position as teacher of oratory and physical culture in the Puget Sound University.
 Miss Helen Hogue left today for Baker City where she will teach in the High School.
 T. B. Steele, of Indianapolis, Ind., the well-known artist who has been spending the summer with his brother, S. N. Steele, of this city, exhibited at Crawford's gallery yesterday a collection of fine Oregon paintings, views of the Newport beach and up the North Santiam. The paintings are of a high order and are much admired. Mr. Steele was president of the Society of Western Artists in 1898-99 and his paintings are to be found in some of the best known galleries.

AMITY.

(Journal Special Service.)
AMITY, Sept. 5.—David Stoberger died at his home in Amity last night, after an illness of about two weeks. He was born in Huntington County, Pennsylvania, October 13, 1822. In early life he was married to Miss Elizabeth Gleson, who died after a few years, leaving two daughters, Mrs. Lucretia Fisher and Mrs. Mary Gasper, of Chatfield, Minn. On June 26, 1866, he was again married to Sophronia W. Pendergrass, who still survives him. Three children were born to them, Eugene and Frank and Mrs. Julia Coulter, of this place. Deceased was a soldier of the Civil War. After the close of the war he removed to Minnesota, where he lived until three years ago, when he came to this place. He was a member of the Baptist Church. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock.
 H. B. Wolf will commence picking hops in his yard near McCoy tomorrow.
 C. R. Matthis will open a new hardware store here October 1st.
 A lodge of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen was recently instituted here. The following are the officers elected: Past foreman, Rev. C. O. Johnson; foreman, M. T. Henderson; master of ceremonies, Mr. Kidd; correspondent, Miss Ella Thomas; master of accounts, W. G. Graham; physician, Mrs. Nettie Sanders.
 E. W. Rea shipped three cars of new wheat today, the first shipment of the new crop from this place this season.
 J. A. Likens, A. W. Newby and G. E. White have been drawn as jurors from this place for the September term of the circuit court.

GRANTS PASS.

(Journal Special Service.)
GRANTS PASS, Sept. 5.—Jefferson Gibson, who was tried for murder at the last term of Josephine County Circuit Court, and sentenced by Judge Hanna to hang on September 12, will not hang on that date. The case was appealed by Gibson's attorneys to the Supreme Court, and a stay of proceedings has been granted. The case will be pleaded by the defendant's attorneys, R. G. Smith, of this city, and C. Blyden, of Eugene, at the October term of the Supreme Court.
 Considerable complaint comes from the Althouse mining district, of Western Josephine County, of the wholesale taking up of mineral lands by the so-called "timber sharks," and who are in reality Eastern capitalists who are getting possession of timber lands under the timber and stone acts. "Dummy" locators are being hauled in by the wagon loads and timber tracts are being taken up on steep hillsides where scarcely a tree can be found. It is reported that in many instances bald hills are being taken up, that not enough timber on them to fence them, the sole object of the locator being to get possession of the mineral lands and veins they contain. The whole district is a highly mineralized one and undoubtedly contains many valuable mineral veins and ledges that have not yet been discovered, and which cannot be discovered if the prospector is shut out from them, which will be the case if the whole territory is taken up by the "timber sharks."
 In this district a rich copper ledge has just been discovered. The newly-discovered vein lies on the divide between Tiger and Kelly creeks and extends to the east into Grayback Mountain where lie the wonderful great Oregon caves. The ledge is of great width and carries copper values ranging from 11 to 90 per cent. Aside from this it also carries from $2 to $3 per ton in gold. A number of claims have been located.
 Building operations are at full swing in Grants Pass at the present time. Over a score of handsome residences and a number of large buildings are being built. The only drawback in this respect is the difficulty to get material. Since the burning of the Sugar Pine mills, the temporary method substituted have not been able to supply the demand. The new mills recently started up, but they are so far behind with their orders that they will not be able to catch up for some time to come. There is also a scarcity of workmen. Every carpenter in the city is busy and a number more could be used if they could be had.

SALEM.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, Sept. 5.—Miss Emma L. Murphy and Mr. Frank M. Brown, very popular young Salem people, were married Wednesday in Portland at the residence of Rev. T. A. Elliot, who officiated. Miss Murphy is one of Salem's best stenographers and Mr. Brown is an employee in the planing mills of Otto Hanson.
 Salem rejoices over the victory of her team of Elks at Portland yesterday. Among those carrying off first honors yesterday were: C. L. Dick, captain; Harry Albert, manager; P. H. Strodt, D. R. Yantis, R. A. Hoff, Fred Palmer, W. A. Irvine, W. P. Campbell, C. F. Lansing, R. W. Holman, S. W. Thompson, Ed. Lampert, C. A. Molden, Jordan Purvine, C. A. Knight, C. L. McNary, T. L. Poujade, A. M. Southwick, J. J. Dalrymple, G. E. Waters, J. F. Steelhammer, J. G. Evans, Claude Hamilton, F. P. Talkington, M. L. Hamilton, A. Cornoyer, L. M. Haines, Frank Hughes, D. C. Minto, Paul Vanderpool, C. E. Bier. Many other citizens went down to watch them do it and to "root" for the Salem team.
 Carpenters are at work extending the stable room at the fair grounds in order to accommodate the enlarged number of fine racing and other horses to be in attendance. Six carloads of fine horses, mostly track animals from the Seattle races, arrived yesterday, and among them was the celebrated Zombro, owned by Brecker, of Portland. Forty new stalls will be added, and demands for stall room being the largest in the history of the fair. A platform over 100 feet in length is being constructed along the railroad siding to accommodate horsemen and stockmen, and two new turnstiles are being constructed on the west side of the grounds or the passage of visitors.
 New corporations filing papers since last report are: Rapid Transit Steamboat Company, Rainier, $40,000; Portland Tannery, Portland, $20,000.

Water System for Dallas.
 The City Council of Dallas has accepted the proposition of H. V. Gates to furnish that city with a first-class waterworks system.

THE DALLES.

(Journal Special Service.)
THE DALLES, Sept. 5.—Wednesday evening a burglar broke into the millinery parlors of Mrs. Christian, on East Second street. The timely arrival of Officer Mosbus, however, frustrated his plans and he left without securing anything, going out the back door as the officer came in the front one.
 The Glades has been busy for the past two days transporting about 5,000 sheep, belonging to John Little, of Antelope, from Lyle to The Dalles. They will be shipped over the O. R. & N. and Northern Pacific to Chicago, where it is expected that they will bring a very good price, as they are in the very best of condition.
 Dr. Taggart, of St. Paul, is in town looking over the agricultural advantages of this section of the country. He says that from Minnesota alone about 75,000 people will come to Oregon and Washington as a result of the low rate, which has been made for this section of the country.

ROSEBURG.

(Journal Special Service.)
ROSEBURG, Sept. 5.—The Pioneers' Reunion opened at Olalla Wednesday morning with a large crowd in attendance, possibly 2000 people, and tents are in evidence all over the grounds. Col. J. G. Day introduced Hon. W. R. Wells, who delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Sylvester Rice. Hon. J. C. F. Fullerton, delivered an oration on the Oregon Pioneers, after which a grand barbecue was announced, the meats consisting of two beef, two hogs and two sheep. The site is an ideal one, the grounds being located on the shady banks of the Olalla, not far from the famous Olalla battlefield, on which pioneers and Indians battled many years ago. The sports consist of horse racing, foot racing, bicycle races and dancing. The crowd is good natured and orderly and a general good time is assured.

EUGENE.

(Journal Special Service.)
EUGENE, Sept. 4.—At a meeting of the Eugene Gun Club tonight arrangements were made for a grand blue rock shoot to be held during the Eugene Street Fair and Carnival September 24-27. Purse to the amount of $100 have been hung up and prizes for amateurs will be offered. Invitations will be sent to marksmen at Portland, Salem, Albany, Roseburg and other places to take part in the shoot.
 The officers are looking for someone who has set fire to a house and barn during the last two nights about three miles northeast of Eugene. The barn was burned Tuesday night and the house which was just across the road from the barn was burned last night. No one was occupying the premises, hence the fires are known to have been of incendiary origin.
 The Southern Oregon Pioneer Society held a reunion at Jacksonville yesterday.

ASTORIA.

(Journal Special Service.)
ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 5.—County Judge Trenchard said this morning to The Journal representative that the matter of building a new courthouse would be thoroughly discussed already. The "backbone" element is out with a remonstrance against the proposed improvement but that the tax will be levied seems certain. Judge Trenchard says he is not opposed to roads but he believes a court house is more of a necessity than magnificent highways to obscure parts of the county. He favors the building of a structure that would cost from $75,000 to $100,000 which could be used jointly by city and county. He states that the debt of Clatsop County is $75,000, and announces his intention of obliterating it. He is very much opposed to the warrant system now in vogue, expressing the opinion that the county ought to do business on a cash basis and save 3 per cent interest on warrants. His extensive reform ideas, which have caused somewhat of a sensation, are in keeping with the promises made to the people by the Democrats of the county in the last campaign.
 The new North Pacific Brewing Company, made up in the main of wealthy Pennsylvania brewers, has taken over the brewing establishment of John Kopp, which has long been one of Astoria's best industries. Mr. Kopp while retaining an interest in the concern, retires from active management, being succeeded by Emil Schimpff. The other Easterners interested are Charles Robinson, Victor Koch and John Benore. Mr. Robinson is president of the Pennsylvania brewers' combine and his Astoria enterprise has caused some speculation here as to whether or not it is the purpose of the combine to operate extensively in the West.
 Fully 1000 Astorians were in Portland yesterday to view the Elks' parade and incidentally to applaud Astoria lodge as it passed in review. The city was very quiet in consequence of the exodus.
 A Justice's Court jury has returned a verdict for the defendant in the cases of John Demetrio and B. Mora against Geo. Elco for damages. The men were arrested by the San Francisco police for alleged larceny of $300 from Elco but were found not guilty. The damage suits followed.
 It is reported here that a Michigan millman has bought out the Neacum Spruce Lumber Company which operates a small mill at Seaside. According to the statement made by an interested party, the Michigan man bought the mill and a large tract of timber land, the whole worth $150,000. The new owner is said to have made arrangements to put 12,000,000 feet of spruce in the water this winter. Frank Patton, one of the members of the lumber company denies that the deal has been consummated.
 The Republicans of Wahkiakum County, Washington, have selected the following legislative and county ticket: For Representative, J. G. Megier; Auditor, J. W. Faulstich; Treasurer, Jesse Baker; Clerk, George F. Hanigan; Sheriff, M. S. Hagen; School Superintendent, Maude Kimball; Coroner, Dr. C. W. Boyles; Commissioners, John Canaris and The Barr. Delegates were chosen to the state convention as follows: J. G. Megier, L. C. Burton, George F. Hanigan, Frank Smalley and C. L. Silverman. The platform indorses the Roosevelt administration, lauds Governor McBride, demands the appointment of a railroad commissioner, and in every other respect upholds the present state administration. It is said the platform was framed at Olympia.
 C. G. Palmberg has been awarded the contract for the construction of a $1000 school house at Svensen.
 The Astoria Ministerial Alliance of Astoria has elected Rev. Henry Marcotte, of the First Presbyterian church, as president, and Rev. Harold Oberg, of the First Methodist church, as secretary.

BELGIUM STEEL RAIL.

The ship Cypromene, Master Roberts, is discharging her cargo of steel rails landed on the 2d inst. by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., for the City & Suburban Street Railway. The rails are of the grooved pattern and are for the relaying of the Third-street line.
 Speaking of this cargo, which was 240 days out from Antwerp, Balfour, Guthrie & Co., who are also shipping the Belgium rail for the Columbia River & Northern, state that it is a mistake to say that the cargo for that road now on route is overdue. It is not due until within another month. This is 64-pound rail, also from Antwerp.
