

GREATER OREGON

This Section to Grow Fast.

FEE IS IMPRESSED

Columbia Southern Survey Is Being Rushed Through— Cheap Rates.

C. S. Fee, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific at St. Paul, Minn., arrived in the city today from the Seaside, accompanied by his family. He will remain here a few days with Agent Charlton and advise as to the ways and means of procuring a greater volume of immigration to the Northwest.

"There is a greater movement here than ever before and it is of a steady nature. People are coming here to make homes. They sell out their farms in Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Eastern states to come into this new country, where they can find an abundance of natural wealth undeveloped. Here they find opportunities that are now entirely unknown in the East.

"People there have the best impression of the Northwest. In many of those sections there has been an immense amount of advertising distributed and people have a most favorable impression of the country. They have heard of the resources from agents and people who have visited here, and I can honestly say that without any doubt they see here greater advantages for not only homes but for chances to invest.

"My own opinion of this country is the highest. I have always considered it the future section of the United States and every day I see those opinions verified. I know of no place where a man can have such great opportunities as here. Were I a young man I would ask for no better place in which to cast my lot than here in the Northwest.

"A great many people who have homesteaded in Minnesota and North Dakota are now selling their lands for the high prices now prevailing and are coming here where land is cheap. As long as the country is as prosperous as today there will be a stream of immigration toward and the Northwest will receive more than its share. This country is helping grow."

NEW EXCURSION RATE.

The Chicago North-Western Railroad announces a new excursion rate from Chicago to the Northwest that is a great inducement to those who desire to see this country before they come here to settle. The new rate is $5.00 round trip, which is but $2 more than the regular rate one way. This rate is effective during September and October and is good for stop-overs west of Cheyenne.

Tickets will be on sale in Chicago Sept. 8 and Oct. 7, and Oct. 21. The time limit coming out is 15 days and the excursionist is given 21 days in which to begin the trip home. This rate is greatly appreciated by Easterners who have a large party to come here and desire to have some one to look over the country and pick out a good place for settlement.

WANTS HOTEL SITE.

R. H. Hall, of the O. R. & N., is receiving all kinds of inquiries about the Northwest from nearly every section of the country. This morning he received a letter from a man in Chicago, who inquires about a hotel site in Oregon or Washington. He has an Eastern friend who has sufficient capital and desires to construct a large hotel somewhere in this section, where there is a good opening. Mr. Hall immediately replied, giving the man a choice of locations and revenues, at the same time promising him that there are some of the best openings here that can be found anywhere in the country. Numerous inquiries are also received for large tracts of land for colonization.

BIG SHIPMENTS TO EAST.

The Northern Pacific freight department is having a rush of fruit, grain and live stock from the entire territory it drains. These shipments are increasing every day from Snake River and surrounding sections. It is also shipping a great number of sheep from Northeastern Oregon and Eastern Washington. On Sept. 4 a train load of 11 cars of sheep was shipped from Eastern Oregon points and on the 5th another 2 cars was started for Chicago.

NUMEROUS REQUESTS FOR ADVERTISING.

The Bangor Exchange Publishing Company feel much pleased at the interest being taken in their enterprise. Scarcely a mail arrives that does not contain letters of requests for copies of the paper. Great interest is evidently being awakened in relation to the Coos Bay prospect. Requests have been received this morning to send papers to numerous people in New York state.

A short time ago W. J. Prendergast, of the St. Paul Commercial Club, visited Portland and from here went to Coos Bay. He said at the time that it was certainly a revelation to him; he had never seen anything like it. A letter was received from him this morning, requesting papers and descriptive matter of the regions he visited to be sent to the Commercial Club of St. Paul. He is enthusiastic and thinks he may be able to interest St. Paul capitalists to come here and invest.

FIFTY MILES SURVEYED.

The Columbia Southern is rushing the survey of the extension from Shaniko to Bend. Already 50 miles of the course has been gone over and laid out, and a large crew of men are at work pushing the survey along as fast as possible.

TRUE TO AMERICA.

Hadji Cheriff Is Proud of His Citizenship.

Hadji Le Mollerode Cheriff, wearer of 45 medals for excellence in skill, original whirling dervish of this country, and above all others a citizen of the United States, and soldier under our banner in the late Indian wars, claims that it is the proudest boast of his life that he can claim America as his home. He is now at the Midway capturing the throngs of people who go there to see his reproduction of the famous dance, mistaking him by his skill in gun swinging and leading the troupe of Arabian acrobats.

Hadji Cheriff has a history as interesting and entertaining as one could read. He talks English fluently and delights to tell the stories of adventure and wars in which he has taken part. Having skirted the earth five times in his quest for a desirable home, he at last cast his lot in this country where he finds the higher civilization and education of the people more to his liking.

Forty-five years ago Cheriff was born in Arabia, where his childhood was spent amid the wild scenes of his country and where he practiced those arts that afterward made him famous. There he lived for over twenty-five years, engaging in the numerous wars waged by and against his country; he won distinction upon the blazing sands of the desert and does not need to produce medals or deceptive documents to prove it, for upon his brow and in various places on his body he carries marks of conflict that time can never efface.

In the left leg he shows the mark where a bullet entered and by the slightest pressure one can detect it buried beneath the tissue.

In March, 1883, he came to America, with R. J. Austin, with whom he has been ever since, with the exception of engagements with circuses and traveling shows. Several years he spent with Buffalo Bill, where he performed the whirling dance; with Barnum and Bailey, and upon the Midway at the World's Fair at Chicago.

He wears medals for championship in broadsword fencing on horseback, for sharp shooting, for gun juggling and for derwish dancing. He has the record of whirling for two hours and forty-five minutes without getting dizzy and those who are afraid that he will get tired in the several minutes he performs need have no fear.

In speaking of his residence in America, he says: "I am never lonelier here, the people are so good. They make friends with me and I find it the easiest thing in the world to get along with everyone I meet. I was granted citizenship when in the East several years ago and have voted for President since. I can tell you that I think it a great honor to have a chance to be reckoned as an American citizen. Yes, I shall always make America my home because if I should leave here I would want to come back."

In the outbreak of the Indian troubles in the Black Hills he enlisted in the army and fought until the outbreak was entirely suppressed. In this encounter he received a wound and carries the scar today.

He enlisted at St. Paul and upon his discharge went to Washington where he received the papers of citizenship. Proud of the honors conferred upon him, Hadji Cheriff is proudest of all when he shows the last papers of citizenship.

MR. IVEY MAKES SERIOUS CHARGES

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held here some startling statements were made by Dr. Mitchell and former United States Consul, Collector Ivey.

"The 'flag' with the flag" is the cry raised all over Alaska, said Mr. Ivey during his speech, in which he made some most sensational statements regarding the condition of government affairs in the far North.

After telling of how the American government was, as he said, fleeing the people by unbearable taxation and not giving anything in return for it, while Canada, just across the line, was building roads and in every way looking out for her subjects, he launched forth in a tirade of bitter remarks of how the government officials were sitting about doing nothing while Canadians walked off with seals and other American property.

"Why," he continued, "throughout Alaska the people become moody, sour and sulky at even the name of yours and my flag."

"And it is not to be wondered at. The whole of the district is fermenting and seething in anger at the action of the government officials on the government reserves. Look at St. Michael's Island. The government makes it a reserve after the big corporations have gotten it and gobbled up the choicer spots, and now a lone miner, a citizen of the States, can't camp on the seashore awaiting the arrival of a vessel. He must go to a government 'hold-up' hotel and get off."

"That was a terrible case where a man and woman were put adrift last fall because they could not go to a hotel. They were forced out on the rough sea in an open boat by an army officer. This spring the body of the woman and the overturned boat were washed ashore. The man's body is yet to be found."

Was With General Howard.

David D. Garrison, an old-time scout, is in the city from Kalama. Mr. Garrison says that everything is booming on the lower river. "The Mining King mine," said Mr. Garrison, "is proving much richer than expected. The ore is there in abundance and although only worth $2 a ton, can be mined so cheap that it is a very good paying proposition. The company now operates its own smelter."

Mr. Garrison says that fishermen on the lower river had a very prosperous season this year. "The run of salmon," he says, "is wonderful." Mr. Garrison will locate permanently at Sellwood.

East Side Briefs.

COURT OPENED

Grand Jury Has Been Empaneled.

THE POULSON CASE

Other Matters of Interest About the Halls of Justice— Forger Arraigned.

The September term of the State Circuit Court opened this morning with Judges Sars, Fraser, George and Cleland on the bench. The four judges sat in Department No. 1. In the vacation of two months a considerable amount of business has accumulated and the court will be busy from now on. Cases that were at issue were set for trial by Judge Sars some time ago, and in consequence but little time was occupied with preliminaries. The motion docket was well filled and the attention of the Judges is largely devoted to the hearing of argument on the many questions arising in the course of the large number of cases that are before the court. Owing to the large number of criminal cases before the court a larger jury than usual has been empaneled. These to the number of 100 filled the courtroom and overflowed into the corridors. The usual number of excuses were made and quite a number of the jurors were excused.

The following were empaneled as a grand jury: James Closset, J. R. Gilstrap, George Spring, Phil J. Kerrigan, John Emery, M. E. Wakeman and Edwin J. Taylor. James Closset was appointed foreman.

Since the law was passed providing for prosecution of crimes by information there has been but small need for grand juries. It has been deemed best to investigate the workings of the several public offices and the present grand jury has been drawn for this purpose.

POULSON CONTEMPT CASE.

Judge Sars this morning decided the contempt matter against Julian Poulson, for failure to answer in obedience to a subpoena before a notary public. He overruled the motion for contempt, holding that a corporation cannot be reached by a subpoena under the Oregon statute. The matter grew out of the attempt of Attorney Duniway to take Poulson's deposition in the case of the Pacific Mill Company vs. Inman, Poulson & Co., for $100,000 damages, caused by a breach of contract.

FORGER ARRAIGNED.

The arraignment of C. H. Williamson, alias J. Williamson, who is arrested for having forged a $1200 receipt on Wells Fargo & Co.'s Bank, was held before Judge George this morning, July 23, 1902. Williamson presented a receipt to the bank, purporting to have received $1200 from the Anglo-California Bank, Ltd., of San Francisco, and signed the receipt John A. Bunting. The defendant was allowed until tomorrow morning to plead.

The witnesses examined for the state in this case were Elmer Barnes, J. D. Leonard and E. D. Matthews. J. D. Leonard, J. B. Keenan, James Hughes and Chester Harvey were arraigned before Judge George this morning. They are charged with the crime of larceny from the person and having stolen $5 from William Cunningham on August 25, 1902. J. H. Hitchings appeared as counsel for Harvey and he pleaded not guilty. The two others were allowed until tomorrow morning to arrange for counsel and to plead.

DASHED ON JAGGED ROCKS

Leona Met With an Accident Yesterday in Clackamas Rapids.

The steamer Leona, of the Oregon City Transportation Company, met with an accident yesterday, while coming down from Oregon City with a full passenger list of excursionists. The wind was blowing a pretty stiff gale, and when the rapids were reached the boat was switched around throwing her wheel against the rocks. The force was so great that the big wheel was dashed to pieces and drifted away with the current. Fortunately the boat was near the shore and was beached with little difficulty. Had the accident occurred in mid-stream it is very probable that there would have been some disastrous results. The passengers behaved bravely and instead of getting in the craft safely anchored. The boat was afterwards towed down by the Altona, and a new wheel is being made to replace the old one. It is expected that she will be ready to take her regular run tomorrow. The Altona was also delayed by the tiller rope attached to the rudder breaking. One of the passengers was a Portland man, who has resided in this city for the past 22 years. He was returning from a trip to Oregon City for the first time. He is a lover of home and said that he had never been to Vancouver or down towards Hillsboro, although he had lived almost in sight of them for a quarter of a century. Yesterday he was seized with a burning desire to go to Oregon City, and says that if he had stayed at home he believes the accident would never have happened.

"After this experience," he said, "I will exercise a little sense and stay at home. Lots of dead people would be alive today had they adopted the same policy."

ACROSS THE RIVER

Activity in Supple's Yard.

Warrant Issued for Arrest of Mrs. Nettie Craven.

Activity seems to be the watchword around the East Side shipyard of Joseph Supple. At the present time there are four boats on the ways, three of them undergoing repairs and the other being constructed.

The gasoline launch Iris, belonging to Frank C. Barnes, the canneryman, is having her hull recaulked and receiving general repairs.

The frame work for the new tender being constructed for the Government has been completed and work on planking the hull will be begun at once. The boat is being built for use in transporting supplies between the various forts on the lower river.

The Anita a sailer-coaster is being generally overhauled. A new shoe is also being constructed.

The launch Saddle B will have a new shoe constructed and her hull overhauled.

The tug Cruiser is being overhauled and additions made to her machinery. The Cruiser was built 16 years ago and has never had a thorough overhauling.

An examination of her frame work shows the original ribs to be as solid as when they were first placed. The ribs are made of cedar grown at Fort Orford in Southern Oregon.

Building East Side Shops.

The Oregon Water Power & Railway Company has a force of men employed in building the boiler room for its new power station and car shops south of the Madison-street bridge.

The power house will be 50x125 feet and 20 feet in height. At present the company is installing a large engine, the cylinder being 28 inches in diameter and the length of the stroke 48 inches.

The three Babcock boilers have already been set in position and the walls are being built around them. The boilers will have 150 H. P. generators will also be installed in the power house, one of them being already in.

The fly wheel for the engine is already in place and is so large that it can be seen for half a mile. The wheel is 18 feet in diameter, with a width of 50 inches.

Work on the company's dock, which will replace the one recently destroyed by fire, is being rushed. As soon as the dock is completed the company will begin the erection of a large freight depot. It is not definitely known whether the company will build their car barn on this tract or not. The company has recently purchased a number of acres near Sellwood and it is said that the barn will be located at that point.

Can Cuts Face.

While playing with some other boys at Woodlawn the other day, Carl Lyie was struck a hard blow in the face with a can thrown by one of his companions. Young Lyie's face was badly cut by the rough edge of the tin can. His wound, however, is healing rapidly.

RACIAL HATRED

Slovaks' and Magyars' Attitude Is Threatening.

(Journal Special Service.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—Hungarian politics have been transplanted to the United States and the racial hatred between the Slovaks and the Magyars is finding expression here with the prospect of involving embarrassment to the administration. The trouble arises over the fact that a delegation of Magyars is now on its way to the United States, bringing a banner with the inscription: "Be dauntlessly loyal to your fatherland, old Magyar." The intention is to present this flag to the Hungarians living in the United States.

The coming of this delegation has acted like a red rag to a bull to the Slavonic society of the United States, which has about 13,000 members. Its President, Anthony S. Ambrose, has sent letters to President Roosevelt, Secretary Shaw and Secretary Hay, protesting against the object of the delegation, saying that the gift of the banner was prompted by the Hungarian Government, part paid for by Government officials, and that its object is to remind the American immigrants from Hungary that they are citizens of the United States, and that they should remain true to their country and loyal to the Magyar tongue.

At the same time a notice has been sent to the various bodies of Slavonic organizations warning the members not to participate in any of the celebrations and reminding them that they are now citizens of the United States, and "do not desire to be traitors of our adopted country that gave us liberty and bread."

SURGEON RETIRES

General Farwood Has Reached the Age Limit.

(Journal Special Service.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—After a long and distinguished military record, covering a period of more than 40 years, Surgeon-General William H. Forwood of the army, was placed on the retired list yesterday by operation of the age limit. General Forwood succeeded to the head of the medical department of the army three months ago on the retirement of Brigadier-General Sternberg. He is a native of Delaware and a graduate of the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. In 1861 he was appointed a surgeon in the regular army, and his service in the civil war was marked not only by his skill and devotion to his work but by dash and gallantry that won the admiration of all those with whom he served. His coolness under fire was remarkable, and it is said of General Forwood that he administered to the wounded when shot and shell were falling around him with as much skill as though he were behind the walls of a hospital.

At the battle of Gaines's Mill, Virginia, Lieutenant James F. McElhone was shot down by the enemy outside the Union lines. Dr. Forwood saw him fall, and, marking the place by a huge tree that stood near by, determined to bring back his comrade's body at the first opportunity. When night came the young surgeon, with two volunteers, crept across the enemy's lines, past the pickets on guard and to the spot where McElhone fell. He was not dead, as they supposed, but seriously wounded, and with great difficulty and at the risk of capture they succeeded in getting the suffering officer back to camp. His recovery was tedious, but he was finally restored to health, and lived many years to tell the story of his dramatic rescue by Surgeon Forwood.

HEAVY GAMBLING

Over $13,000,000 Was Bet on the Saratoga Races.

(Journal Special Service.)
SARATOGA, Sept. 8.—Thirteen million two hundred thousand dollars is the most conservative estimate given by experts of the amount wagered at the Saratoga race track during the season which has just ended.

Senator Patrick H. McCarren is of the opinion that at least $20,000,000 a day, on an average, has been placed with the bookmakers. Bookmaker Joe Ullman, who handled $129,000 one day last week, declares that on certain days nearly or quite $2,000,000 has been wagered.

These figures do not include any private bets which may have been made. The Times and the "Pittsburg Phil" have hit the bookies so hard that fifteen of the 60 odd men who have done business for the 22 days have not reaped the harvest some of them expected.

The biggest individual winning on a single day was scored by "Pittsburg Phil" when he cleared up $50,000. John W. Gates, who has made miserable every bookmaker whenever he went down the line, achieved the distinction

AT THE STATION.

J. F. Kennedy and John Wilson are held by the police for attempting to rob an old man named William Jabitz, at Third and Davis streets. He claims to have lost $30 during the evening and is of the opinion that the men under arrest took the greater part of it away from him.

Fred Goldenberg, a 17-year-old boy, is charged with robbing telephone boxes by the use of skeleton keys. He was caught in the act at Third and Gleason streets, in a fruit store. These petty offenses have of late been numerous about the city.

John Morgan, John Gill, and Chris Young are charged with being drunk.

Rose Baker, Hazel Garrison and Reine Pierce are under arrest for vagrancy.
