PORTLAND IS STRONG

Lively Local Features --- The Trade Very Heavy -- Notes and Points.

A good, strong market, with lines equally balancing, receipts and sales compensating, was the Front street situation today. "It is the best situation for some time," said a dealer. Following are a few of the sallent Front street features:

The expected grapes had arrived from California, and a car of Sacramento tomatoes. Also, of the latter article, the first shipment of Yakimas was received, reported by Mark Levy & Co. Price lowered at little to 40% 60c. The first shipment of Denver celery came in, a small lot, selling at $1 per dozen. The Yakima tomatoes were fancy and this arrival is a little later than last year. A car of Rogue River water melons was received, and the first shipment of melons from The Dalles is due by tomorrow. A car of new bananas was also in. The sweet potatoes expected, showed up, and are very fine, and selling at $2.25. Chickens were settling down to better conditions, as Turner & Co. put it, "We are cleaning up better than for a long time." And they also said of eggs: "Re ceipts and shipments are balancing up nicely, otherwise there would be a slump in prices. For receipts of fresh eggs are larger than I ever saw." The incoming hop harvest was affecting prices a trifle. While it is difficult to get exact quotations, in the 'complications regarding contracts, the tendency was to fix the price considerably under what it has been supposed to be, probably close to 22 cents. Dealers on the street said that reports come from all their correspondents regarding the fires, but it was not affecting business, The day's quotations stand:

LACK OF

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 12 .- The cotton picking season is at its height in Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee, the season having begun fully two weeks earlier than usual. In view of the rapid opening of the crop there is a general shortage of labor and the problem promises to be a serious one for the planters.

Some of the largest growers of cotton declare that they have never seen a time when there was such a scarcity as there

The indications are that the picking season will be short this year. The fact that the crop is so much earlier than usual and that the weather has been so hot is accepted as a sure sign of this.

Some of the crop authorities are predicting that the entire crop will be gathered before the Christmas holidays and that the bulk of it will have been harvested by the end of November, if not considerably earlier. This fact of itself tends to omplicate the labor question still more, and should there come bad weather, the result would be very damaging because of the large amounts of cotton that

Harriman's Plans Will Necessitate an Expense of $40,000,000.

Messrs. Taylor, in their review of the financial condition of the Southern Patific Railroad, in the Railroad & Banking Review, make an elaborate statement in regard to the improvements made and the methods used by the road.

The property is unique in that it is being modernized by the use of net earnings, and that there should be some help from capital outlet is probably to be supported by the directors of the company, who it is understood, are to issue bonds of a convertible type for the large outlays which Mr. Harriman has found to be necessary.

The report says: "By an examination of the property recently made, it is estimated that it will require an expenditure of $40,000,000 to completely modernize it; that is, to make it one of the best equipped and constructed railroad properties in the country.'

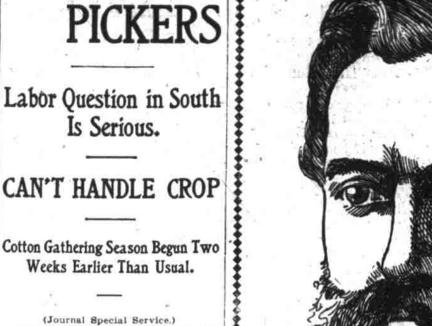

Some of these improvements will make saving in the operating expenses of the road. It is pointed out that with the ise of oil as fuel the company will be able to save $4,000,000 a year, or equal to per cent on the capital stock.

The following table will show the expansion in the earnings of the road in five years, covered by the report:

Total Receipts $18,362,493 14,280,878 8,461,598 7,424,983 7,851,765 The increase in the expenditures for additions and betterments and for new equipment is as follows:
