STREETER WINS CUP

Given by The Journal to Popular Elk.

HIS MAJORITY 32,641

Large Vote Cast on the Last Day of the Contest Gives Him the Lead.

George E. Streeter has been chosen by his brother Elks as the most popular member of their order in the State of Oregon, and wins The Journal leving cup with a handsome majority.

On Saturday morning Mr. B. B. Rich looked like the winner, having over 16,000 votes of a lead. However, there are two times in this life when one is certain of nothing,-one a horse race and the other an election. Mr. Streeter's friends must have been working hard the last few days, as they flooded the ballot box before the poll closed. Mr. Rich's friends were not idle, many votes being added to his already large list. Pendleton was heard from with a large vote at the last moment, but not enough to materially alter the standing of the candidates.

When the ballots were counted it was found that Mr. Streeter had obtained 82,-548 votes, over one-half o the total vote polled, giving him a majority of 82,641 over the next highest candidate and a plurality of over 7000.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the contest just closed, the friends of the different candidates doing noble work. all hoping to win the cup for their can-

The final count for the leading contestants stood as follows: George E. Streeter

THE SCHOOLS ARE OPEN.

It was a pleasing sight to see the thousands of school children, many of them brown as berries after their vacations, hurrying to their different places of instruction this morning. At 9 o'clock 28 schools threw open their doors to receive the youngsters.

After seeing their schools properly or ganized, the different principals went to Robbers Fail to Secure Any Booty tne City Hall, where they held a consultation with City Superintendent Rigler, and the situation was talked over for some time. It is thought the public school attendance will be about 14,000 this term.

"What!" exclaimed the commander. 'Does a brave soldier fear to risk his life in the service of his country?"

"It isn't the fear of death that restrains us, general," replied one of the officers, holding his head proudly erect. "It's the fear that we may be unfortunate enough to live through it, be proclaimed heroes, and then be abused and ridiculed, and caricatured by the newspapers all the rest of our days. We couldn't stand that general!"

Whereupon the commander ordered a general advance, as being the safest thing for all concerned.-Chicago Tribune.

COUNTY'S DEFENSE

Hume and Hall's Claim Against Multnomah.

IS IT A VALID ONE

District Attorney Chamberlain Denies Liability and Files a Counter Claim.

On September 3 Hume & Hall filed a suit in the Circuit Court against Multnomah County, claiming $1530 for services rendered and money advanced.

They allege that at the special instance and request of the county they had a brief printed, for which they paid $30, and that they proceeded to Washington, D. C., and defended the county in a suit in equtiy, wherein the German Savings & Loan Society of San Francisco was

They set forth that they won the case for the defendant, and that a reasonable fee would be $1500. Wherefore the attorneys demand $1530, with costs and disbursements. This was sometime in 1897, the exact date of which is not given.

MR. CHAMBESRLAIN'S REPLY. On behalf of the county, District Attorney Chamberlain filed an answer Saturday, in which he makes the surprising denial of all claims made, but on the other hand puts in a claim on behalf of the defendant for $668.96, alleged to have been illegally drawn from the county reasury by Hume & Hall

Mr. Chamberlain says that he has no knowledge of any such work as plaintiffs claim to have performed, or any money they advanced, but that he does know that on the 22nd day of July, 1895, Hume & 'Hall entered into a "pretended" contract with H. H. Northrup, then County Judge, under which they agreed to colect the delinquent taxes of 1892 for a certain percentum. They were to receive 0 per cent of the first $10,000 71/2 per cent of the next $25,000 and 5 per cent of all moneys above $35,000.

At the time the alleged services were performed by Hume and Hall, Mr. Chamberlain claims that the former was district attorney and that Hall was chief deputy under his law partner; that the district attorney received $25 for each acion he prosecuted for the county and that under the law he was entitled to the ee but no more in the way of extra compensation. Therefore he scouts the idea of them being entitled to $1530 or any part thereof, as Judge Northrup had no legal right to enter into any such contract on ehalf of the county."

Then the answer avers that in September, 1895, John Hall, Hume's (partner, presented the defendant a bill for $668.96 for taxes collected, which was allowed and paid. Mr. Chamberlain claims that inasmuch as any such contract as set forth at the time was invalid, the plaintiffs owe the sum $668.96 to the county, wherefore nus judgment against Hume Hall for that amount.

At the time Hume & Hall were district attorney and deputy, respectively, the office was variously estimated as being worth from $20,000 to $22,000 per year. The same day that the district attorney filed his answer Hume & Hall filed a motion to strike out about all its essential parts. This matter was to have come up for argument this morning under stipulation, if convenient, but as Mr. Chamberlain was out of town and Deputies Manning and Spencer knew very little about it, the matter went over for a day.

Hydrants Are Placed.

With the exception of one hydrant at East Oak-street and two in the vicinty of the Standard Oil Company's plant, all the large hydrants for the new 14-inch muin on East First atrest have been set. The main starts at the corner of East Twelfth and East Market streets and runs down to East First street and then to East Oak street. Altogether there are hydrants connected with the main. Work on the jarge 20-inch main through Sunnyside is progressing rapidly. The trench for the main is being dug along Margaret avenue and the pipe has all been distributed. The 20-Inch main will start at Margaret avenue and Division, then go down the avenue to East Thirtyfifth street, then down Thirty-fifth to the Base Line road, down the Base Line to East Twenty-eighth street and down that street to its junction with the Sandy oad. The main will probably be extended through to Irvington and Albina in the near future

In Justice Seton's Court.

A suit has been instituted in the East ket Company for the sum of $108.45, al leged to be due on a lot of cheese delivered to the market. Costs of the suit and interest from November 1, 1901, at 6 per cent are also asked for.

J. A. Strowbridge, Jr., has filed a suit against Stefano Allegrani for the sum of $250. Strowbridge claims the money on account of acting as agent for the defendant on some land which the Oregon floult and dangerous job, and few who Water Power & Railway Company desired to purchase, and for legal advice given.

CARNIVAL IS ENDED

Last Hours Passed in Galety and Mirth.

CITY BEING FAST DESERTED

Total Paid Admissions for the Two Weeks--Pony Cart Uncalled for.

It is over. The long heralded, brilliantly conceived Eiks' Carnival ended Satur day night in a shower of confetti mingled with condensed smoke, a din of horns and the follest reverly ever seen in the city. Rarely if ever have the people of Portland smiled so approvingly on a public function, or shown so much interest in a local affair. All sorts and con ditions of men, women and children min gled in the great throng that josseled and laughed in fun and merry making. Everyone went regardless of age, color, or pre vious condition of servitude, and every one tried to fill other people's mouths with confetti and feather dusters.

Saturday night the spirit of democracy was in the air, everybody was good-natured, and out for the best possible time, and no one went home disappointed. Maryetti threw confetti at Johnietti and vica versa. No one waited for an introduction but showered a rain of paper onto everyone around until Carnival City looked like a big slice of a rainbow.

The masques and suits were grotesque. There was everything represented from the simplest dude to a king. Little -bo Peep was there after her sheep; Hamlet came to find his ghost; Romeo hunted around after Juliette, whom he rescued out of a pile of confetti and received a frown as his reward. It was the grandest and most successful event seen in these parts for years. Exhibitors prepared for it by removing perishable stuff to a safe distance and the show men smiled upon the rollicking sons of revelry.

Many of the masqueraders were gorgeougly dressed, while others appeared as clowns, but the most favorable outfit was the "Pike" Davis type of rustics. It was a flood of costume and gayety; an ocean of sport. It was without limit from the time the gates were opened until the last light was turned out and the great blaze of galety that had lasted for two weeks was at an end.

The Carnival has been a success from every point of view. Better weather could not have been provided had the Elks themselves operated the weather-making machine. Crowds of people have wandered the street and Midway every time the gates were opened. Rowdyism and trouble have been unknown.

"We are thankful of one think and that is, we can point to two weeks of big crowds without a single arrest and no damage from malicious sources." said Manager Rowe, this morning; "we all feelvery thankful to the people of Portland for the interest they have shown and the support they have given us."

While Manager Rowe is thankful to the public, the people are grateful to him and he assistants for giving them a successful and clean show. The Elks have worked hard for the results and no one feels but they deserve everything they have received. For novelty in entertainment and beauty in appearance, this year's Carnival will be remembered QUEEN MAYBELLE

Now lays down her sceptre to become one among her former subjects. She has endeared herself to the little kingdom over which she has ruled for two gay and happy weeks, and showed herself a queen of majesty and goodness. Were all rulers as graceous and all subjects as willing. the crown would rest more lightly upon the heads of nobility, but, alas, the kingdoing of contentment are few.

"The past two weeks have been most enjoyable to me." said Her Majesty, "and shall long remember them. Any evicen could but be exceeding happy to rule over subjects as considerate as mine have been and I cannot express my feeling in thanking all for the courtesied shown. The many souvenirs of my feign shall always be charished by me as the choicest of my life."

The Carnive; management this morn ing reported PAID ADMISSIONS o the main gate, 43.896 paid adult admissloas and 4266 children's tickets at the Mdway. This shows an average attendance of nearly 8000 per day for every day f the fair and speaks well for the interest taken by the citizens in the Carnival. The person heiding the lucky pony and art ticket has failed to call for the articles and Manager Rowe announces that unless he does soon, there will be another rawing.

Carnival City presents a picture of desolation and by the middle of this week it will exist only in memory.
