LOSSES SMALLER

Than Reported to Green Timber

SAYS A LUMBERMAN

Has Inspected Southern Washington and Also Oregon.

E. G. Wason, an Everett lumberman, connected with Clough Bros. Company, is in the city. He has been on an extended trip through Southern Washington, and also to the Rogue River country since the recent big fires. He had this to say about the extent of timber losses: "I do not think there has been anywhere near as great loss to timber as has been reported in the press. Up home we thought everybody had been cleaned out, and that timber operations were greatly crippled. I have seen most of the country west of the Cascades, as far south as the Rogue River, and especially in the Olympic region, and I do not think there has been any great loss to standing timber, unless it is up in the Cowitz. I went well over several miles of ground in the Cowitz region, and I did not see the losses that have been described there. I am talking about the standing timber. There have been large losses of cut timber, where the logs were exposed to dry material in the logging works, without a doubt. The fact is that there is mighty

ENGINEERS RETURN

Will Probably Approve of Captain Harts' Plans.

The board of government engineers who left last Monday to inspect the Dalles returned last night. On Tuesday they inspected the course of the canal as proposed by Captain Harts: This canal will be over a half mile long and will have a lock at the lower end. They then inspected the Ten-Mile rapids and the site of the proposed submerged dam at the Old Mess-house. The canal from this place down to Big Eddy will be about 8,000 feet long. It is impossible to say what the engineers think of the proposed changes as they are, mute on the subject, but it is probable that they will approve of Captain Harts' plan.

INSANE MAN FEARS MURDER

Preaches Long and Loud to the City Jail Prisoners.

A man who gave the name of J. J. Sellers, was brought to the police station last night for acting in a peculiar manner on the street. This morning he began to rave in a violent manner. His hobby was religion. Also, that people were attempting to murder him. He has a megaphone voice, and everyone in the vicinity of the jail had opportunity to listen into his sermons. When examined by the city doctor as to his sanity he stated that he was from Chico, Cal. That since his arrival in Portland two weeks ago there had been fourteen attempts made to murder him. The first one was in a lodging house, where he had secured a bed and gone to sleep.

HEGERTY IS MISSING

After Raising a Disturbance Last Friday.

POSED AS JOHN A. MURRAY

Claimed to Be a Mine Locator—Said He Was Wealthy.

Where is Jim Hegerty, alias John A. Murray? He, as well as his brother Ed, have disappeared from Portland, leaving a few debts behind, after raising a disturbance at the Ryan lodging house on Fifth street.

Murray, or Hegerty, came to Portland in August, claiming to be a locator of mines, and engaged N. Moesohn, whose office is in the Chamber of Commerce building, as his attorney. After staying in Portland about two weeks he said he was sick and would go down to the coast to recuperate. After this eight was lost of him until he showed up at the old St. Vincent's hospital with a case of eczema, after which he became afflicted with asthma about six weeks ago. He stayed in the hospital for about a month, after which he rented a room in the lodging house in Fifth street and brought his brother Ed from Wardner, Idaho, to take care of him.

FIGHT BETWEEN THE BROTHERS. Last Friday morning the roomers in the lodging house were awakened by a fusillade of shots, followed by screams and curses. It seems that the brothers drank more than was good for them and commenced quarreling. Ed finally made an attempt at committing suicide, but was prevented from carrying out his purpose after he had fired a few shots at the wall and slashed himself in the ab-

SITUATION OF THE MARINE ENGINEERS

F. F. Smith Says That They Will Win.

Speaking of the strike situation this morning, F. F. Smith, business agent of the Marine Engineers' strike, said: "We are perfectly satisfied with the situation. There is no doubt but that we will win. It may require one month, six months and even a year, but we will eventually gain our demands. The benefit funds we receive are ample to carry on a protracted fight. "On what particular point do you base your hope of winning," he was asked. "We are sure of winning because the class of men the owners now have in the engine room are incompetent. They never held a responsible position before in their lives and would not be able to do so now were it not for the fact that the transportation companies are unable to get anyone else. If anything goes wrong with their engines while on their usual runs, it would be impossible for them to discover where the difficulty lies, if the firm, owner or someone else did not show them." "SPEAKS OF INCOMPETENCY. For example, I will cite one instance. On September 14 it became necessary to move the steamer Hassalo from the Almsworth to the Ash-street dock. On board there were five non-union engineers, recent importations from the Great Lakes. Not a man among them knew just what steps to take to get the vessel under full steam and started. The officer finally went to their rescue and showed them how to proceed in the matter. The officer was afterwards employed to give them instructions. "Have you got some new card that you intend to play soon?" "As to that, I do not care to say, but you will be safe in saying that a surprise is in store for someone. We are in the fight to win." The owners outside, of the O. R. & N., say that the strike is not affecting them in the least, and that they are getting along all right.

JOHNSON OPENS UP

Begins His Campaign of "Education."

"JUST TAXATION"

Issues 150,000 Pamphlets Which Will Be Distributed From the Big Tent.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 25.—The Democratic campaign of "education" has now commenced in dead earnest. Mayor Johnson's campaign pamphlet on "Home Rule and Just Taxation," is now being run off by the printers as rapidly as possible. Something like 150,000 of them will be scattered over the state. The pamphlet is adorned on the front page with pictures of Herbert S. Bigelow, Mayor Johnson and Senator Hanna. Above Johnson's picture is the inscription, "Equal Taxes," while above the picture of Senator Hanna is the inscription, "Special Privileges." At the outset are a series of questions put to those who may be intending to vote the Republican ticket. These are followed by a series of reasons why the Democratic ticket should be supported at the polls. Then follows some "important dates in recent history." These dates cover the history of the so far unsuccessful contest on the part of Mayor Johnson to force public service corporations to pay more taxes. Over this information to the voters is the caption: "How the public service corporation, with the aid of Republican party leaders and Republican officeholders combined to prevent justice being done." Then follows a Johnsonian discussion of "Public Franchise and Eminent Right," Senators Hanna and Foraker and "Boss" Cox of Cincinnati are directly accused of using all their power to gain control of the state machinery for their own personal aggrandizement. A discussion follows, captioned: "Are you getting million dollar franchises? Has the tax collector missed you? Do you want to have your public affairs run by a boss?" Mayor Johnson's speech before the Legislature on "Home Rule" is printed in full, as well as extracts from numerous other speeches. The whole is pictorially illustrated. The expectation is that the pamphlet will serve "to drive home the gospel preached from the tent."

M. E. CONFERENCE.

Interesting Meeting of Ministers at Grants Pass.

(Journal Special Service.) GRANTS PASS, Sept. 25.—There are now 150 visiting ministers and delegates in this city attending the Methodist conference, the present session of which is now at its height. The conference is proving to be the most successful one ever held in the state. The meetings are all well attended and the greatest of enthusiasm prevails. The local church made its report yesterday. During the past year it has had a net increase of 48, has paid $500 to charities and $300 for improvements. The growth of the church throughout the several districts of this conference is reported to have been excellent during the past year, and the Methodist denomination bids "Hail" in better condition in Oregon today than it has ever before. Last night the church auditorium was crowded to its fullest capacity. Dr. Oldham, of New York, delivered the address of the evening on the subject of home mission work. The address was an able one.

NEEDED LEGISLATION

Discussed at Editorial Association in Walla Walla.

(Journal Special Service.) WALLA WALLA, Sept. 25.—The meeting of the Washington State Press Association has passed and many of the editors who attended have left the city. Those still here are enjoying a day of sightseeing and pleasure. A visit to the state penitentiary and an excursion to the grave of Marcus Whitman was planned by the local committee for today, and the arrangements are being carried out. Last night the event of the meeting occurred in the annual banquet, served in Odd Fellows' hall, the only building in the city large enough to accommodate the crowd. Plates were laid for 175. The gathering was a most representative one, and the banquet proved one of the most pleasant and successful in the history of the city. Yesterday the business of the convention was hurried through. A number of interesting papers were given, and the election of officers took place. As the next place of meeting, Victoria, B. C., was selected unanimously, a pressing invitation having been received by wire from the Mayor of that city. The discussion of needed legislation occupied much of the time of the convention, and a legislative committee was named to prepare needed laws and amendments and press their passage before the next session of the Washington Legislature. The committee consists of L. M. Wood, of Seattle; L. W. Pratt, of Tacoma; Thomas Hooker, of Spokane, and S. P. Weston, of Seattle. In addition to the matter of public advertising in county and municipal contracts, and the necessity of other forms of public notice in which the public is interested. Along this line several able addresses were made. The work of the convention was quite practical, more so than most of the previous conventions. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—Will A. Steel, Nome Daily News, Seattle. First vice-president—Arthur F. Statter, Union, Walla Walla. Second vice-president—Edwin A. Smith, Spokan-Review. Secretary—Grant C. Wood, Journal, Shelton. Treasurer—Lovett M. Wood, Trade Register, Seattle. Historian—B. W. Price, Capital, Olympia. Orator—L. W. Pratt, News, Tacoma. Poet—Frank Teck, Tidene, Fairhaven. Delegates to national association—F. B. Cole, Tacoma; Orno Strong, Spokane; E. D. Clason, Riverview; L. W. Pratt, Tacoma; C. W. Gorham, Snohomish; Thomas Hooker, Spokane; F. D. Schnebley, Ellensburg; Miller Freeman, Seattle.

SWEDISH BAPTISTS' JUBILEE

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 25.—A religious gathering of more than ordinary interest opened in Chicago today, the occasion being a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the First Swedish Baptist Church in the United States at Rock Island, Ill., in 1852. The celebration will continue through the week, several churches being used for the anniversary meetings. The attendance runs up into the thousands, the visitors coming principally from Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan, though the East and other sections of the country are represented. The programme of the exercises calls for addresses by several persons of wide prominence.

FINANCIAL TOPICS DISCUSSED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 25.—The second day's session of the State Bankers' Association convention was opened this morning with prayer by the Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper, D. D. The features of the day were two addresses, one by James H. Bekels, former Controller of the Treasury, on "The Government's Relation to the Citizens' Business Affairs," and the second by A. B. Hepburn, vice-president of the Chase National Bank of New York, who took as his subject, "The Financial Situation in Europe." Prior to adjournment late this afternoon new officers will be elected and the place selected for holding next year's convention.

little good standing timber but what the underground is so dense and green that it is impossible for fires to get going enough to kill timber. It has no doubt occurred that fires have burnt dead timber in among the green trees, and the appearance, from a distance, of a forest running up such trees, would be that the forest that was doomed. I have seen hills and miles of that kind of timber burnt in the sections reported as having been swept over. In such cases the fire has really been a benefit, for it has cleared out the dead stuff, lessening the likelihood of worse fires. "I think you will find, when the whole situation is known, that green timber losses, on the west side of the mountains, have been comparatively small. On the other side they amount to nothing, in my opinion. The woods there are too open and clear for fires to run. Immediately on the Columbia River there has been considerable standing timber ruined, and immense lumber losses. But in general I am sure that our Washington and your Oregon standing timber is comparatively safe."

POLICE COURT.

The cases against Thomas Hislop, J. H. Black and J. H. Carrington, charged with violating an ordinance relating to the laying of sidewalks, were yesterday dismissed. At the time of his arrest, Hislop drove the officer from his premises at the point of a revolver. Edward Judson was sentenced to ninety days yesterday for vagrancy. The man is a morphine fiend, and it was thought that the long term would cure him of the habit. Robert Patterson, the keeper of a North End dive, forfeited $10 for playing music after hours in his place. An Indian named Edward Collins was fined $5 by Judge Hogue for assault on Captain Mountain. The red man was drunk at the time of the battle. G. W. Roberts, who caused some commotion several weeks ago by mysteriously disappearing, was yesterday arrested and is being held as a witness in an assault case which is before the municipal court. Gus Lange, who was found last night in a butcher shop on the east side, will have a hearing for trespass today. A jury has been called to try one of the gambling cases this afternoon. It is composed of the substantial business men of the city.

HARTFORD MONUMENT DAY.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 25.—"Monument Day" was observed in this city today by the dedication of a monument in commemoration of the Civil War record of the First Connecticut heavy artillery. The monument consists of a mortar mounted on a granite pedestal suitably inscribed and is located in a corner of the state capital grounds. Military organizations from several parts of the state participated in the dedicatory exercises which were of an interesting character.

FORGER SENTENCED

Geo. F. Young, of Grants Pass, Given Two Years at Salem.

(Journal Special Service.) GRANTS PASS, Sept. 25.—Judge Hanna is still hammering away with the Josephine county circuit court work. Yesterday George F. Young, a man 25 years of age, was sentenced to a term of two years at the penitentiary for forgery. Young forged several notes in Southern Oregon this past spring, but a recount of the respectability of his parents he was allowed to go unpunished. But when he attempted to pass a note at the First National Bank in this city, bearing the signature of G. F. Billings, of Ashland, the signature of which was found to be a forgery, the joke was carried too far, and Young was arrested. He was recently married. His parents are respected Southern Oregon pioneers. When the judge pronounced his sentence Young broke completely down and had to be carried from the court room to his cell. GRIFFIN MURDER TRIAL. After a long period of tedious work the jury to sit for the Griffin murder trial was at last selected yesterday afternoon and today the court has been at work examining the witnesses for the defendant in the case. The case is one of the most interesting in the city, bearing the signature of G. F. Billings, of Ashland, the signature of which was found to be a forgery, the joke was carried too far, and Young was arrested. He was recently married. His parents are respected Southern Oregon pioneers. When the judge pronounced his sentence Young broke completely down and had to be carried from the court room to his cell.

Seattle Will No Longer Ship Portland Flour.

It is given out on high authority that all differences between the Portland Flour Mills Company and the O. R. & N. have been patched up, and as a result no more flour will be sent from Portland by rail for shipment to the Orient. It is alleged that trouble arose some time ago between the two corporations over a cargo of flour which got damaged, and until the past few days were not on the best of terms. One who is on the inside, but objects to having his name used, says: "The Northern Pacific will carry no more flour from Portland to Seattle for shipment to China and Japan. From now on the O. R. & N. Oriental liners will take care of all the business from Portland. This will be bad news to Seattle, but will materially aid to the shipping business of Portland."

COTTON PLANTERS' RAILWAY

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 25.—The latest railroad enterprise for Mississippi is a cotton growers' railway, an electric line 20 miles long, which will penetrate the richest section of the Delta, and connect line Southern with the Illinois Central at Greenwood. The primary object of the road is to reach one of the largest and finest beds of gravel in the South, but incidentally it will be of great benefit and convenience to the large planters of that section who at present find considerable difficulty in getting their product to market.

LAWYER SURPRISED

Mr. Moesohn was seen by a Journal reporter this morning and expressed himself as follows: "I am very much surprised at what you tell me. Hegerty came to my office some time in August, introduced himself as John A. Murray, said he was a mine locator and requested me to act as his attorney at a stipulated salary. I drew up a contract between us and he commenced to advertise in the local papers. About two weeks later he told me he was sick and was going to Long Beach. After that I did not hear from him until about two or three weeks ago, when he sent his brother to me asking me to come to his room. I did so and there I found him to be quite sick. Since then I have visited him about six times."
