

LOST IN WOODS

Unpleasant Experience of Mayor Humes.

MET WITH ACCIDENT

Sprained His Ankle and Was Exposed to Forty-eight Hours' Drenching Rain.

(Journal Special Service.) SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—The searching party that left Seattle early this morning found Mayor Humes in an extremely bad condition in a dense woods three miles north of Bothwell. He had fallen and was suffering from a badly sprained ankle, as well as being completely exhausted from his long tramp in the woods and his exposure Thursday night, Friday and Friday night in a drenching rain. When found he had secured scant shelter under some logs, and was in very bad shape. Mayor Humes left his summer camp at Lake Washington Thursday afternoon, on a hunting trip, in company with his son. They discovered some bear tracks, and the two became separated, the Mayor entering a densely wooded country, after promising to meet his son at a point about a mile and a half distant. The Mayor failed to keep his promise, and after waiting a short time, his son began a search, in which he was joined later by a second son. The two continued the search all of Thursday night, and yesterday the Mayor's brother joined them. No trace of the missing man was found, and three big searching parties left this city this morning, with the result as stated above. Mayor Humes was more familiar with this country than almost any other man in Seattle, having hunted through it repeatedly as far as Lake McAleer. Had he not met with the accident he could easily have found his way out of the woods. He had gotten on the trail of a she-bear and followed her several miles. With proper nursing and nourishment, it is thought the Mayor will soon recover from his unpleasant experience. He is about 60 years of age, but it remarkably well preserved and of rugged constitution.

BLAZING FURNACE

Receives Head of Fiend's Victim.

A HORRIBLE CRIME

Brute Decapitated and Dismembered Body Which He Was in Act of Cremating.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A most horrible discovery was made in the cellar of the Empire Restaurant here this morning. On going into the cellar of the Empire Restaurant here at an early hour this morning the police discovered the body of a well-dressed man who had been most foully murdered. The corpse was terribly mangled and dismembered, which indicates that the fiend who was the perpetrator of the foul deed had intended to make away with the body by burning it in a large furnace. On confession of a bartender the police arrested the proprietor of the restaurant. Who the victim is no one knows and every effort to identify the remains has proved useless. BARTENDER CONFESSES. NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A bartender named McEnerney, at the Empire Restaurant and hotel, where the murder was committed, has confessed to the police that he saw Manager Tobin commit the crime. He cut off the victim's head with a cleaver, stripped the body, threw the head into a roaring furnace and was in the act of disposing of the body when the police arrived. The police first learned of the crime by a mysterious telephone message, the informant declining to give his name. They immediately went to the scene and were horrified by the stench and when they threw the door of the furnace open they saw the blazing head. Other portions of the body were on the floor of the basement. Later they found Tobin crouching behind a barrel. Tobin is now in the sweatbox. VICTIM IDENTIFIED. Later, Tobin's victim has been identified by papers found in the basement as James Craft, Deputy Supt. at Glen Cove, Long Island. Tobin is non-committal, having a sullen and hangdog manner. According to witnesses Craft was seen to display a huge roll of bills in the cafe last night, which led to the belief that he was killed for money.

RELIEF WORK IS STILL ON

Much Good Is Being Done by the People of Portland.

Money for the fire sufferers is coming in right along. This morning about $300 was brought in, making a total of $460.64 in the hands of the treasurer. About $4000 have already been spent by the committee in relief work. The executive committee met this morning and heard reports from various burn-out districts. All showed much improvement in the situation of the people. The committee has decided not to meet every morning, as they have been doing for the past week. They will now meet twice a week. More money is expected, as the Salvation Army has promised to send in more, and the proceeds from the Athletic benefit have not as yet been turned over to the committee. BENEFIT LAST NIGHT. The athletic exhibition for the benefit of the fire sufferers, given last night at the Multnomah Athletic Club's gymnasium, was well worth seeing. There were all kinds of athletic feats, including tumbling by the Turn Verein boys, juggling by James W. Duff, a wrestling match by Joe Aeton and Alex De France, boxing by Hood Butler and Billy Debye and by Tracey and Denney. All did their turns in an exceptionally good manner. The Letter Carriers' Band furnished the music.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Harry Rose, stage manager of the Warwick Theater, who has been with the Frohman production many years, and is widely known in theatrical circles, this morning attempted a reconciliation with his wife, whom he found in bed with his chum, Samuel Adams, a prominent business man, night before last. Rose had never suspected his wife of infidelity.

READY TO BUILD.

East Side Mill Company to Begin Work at Sellwood.

Workmen were engaged in preparing the foot of Spokane avenue, Sellwood, for the new East Side Mill Company's saw-mill. An old mill was located at this point and the workmen are engaged in removing the debris. The East Side Mill Company is composed of C. P. Hogue, J. P. Miller, J. M. Nickum and A. C. Mowrey. It is the intention of the promoters to build a mill at Sellwood at the cost of about $35,000. The work of construction will begin the latter part of next week. The company owns four acre soil land at the foot of Spokane avenue. J. P. Miller, one of the promoters, said yesterday that the new mill will have a capacity of 35,000 feet of finished lumber at each shift. At the start only 50 men will be employed, but it is the intention to increase the number to 75 as soon as the machinery is in good working order. The company expect to begin operations about January 15. The mill site is one of the best in the city. On one side of the mill is the Willamette river, and on the other the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company has secured a right-of-way for a trolley line to run into the city. The mill will be able to ship its lumber both by rail and water. The mill company has purchased a block of land fronting on the river between East Ash and East Pine streets, and when the mill is ready for business a lumber yard will be located on the ground. Work on the building of the lumber yard will be begun about the first

GOMPERS ASKS AID

He Wants Contributions From All Unions.

IN NEED OF MONEY

Which if Furnished Strikers Can Win the Day—Advises Assessments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—As has been expected by almost everyone interested in the anthracite coal strike, President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has issued an appeal to organized labor for financial assistance. In a lengthy review of the strike situation President Gompers has issued an appeal to organized labor for money to help the miners carry on their strike. He says the miners will stand firm, but they are very much in need of financial assistance from the outside. He urgently appeals to all unions to raise funds and forward them continually until the end of the strike. Where it is possible, he asks them to donate from the treasury and to voluntarily levy assessments. He thinks that if the unions enter into it there can be plenty of money raised to carry the cause of the strikers to a successful end.

ELOQUENT SERMON.

"The Life of Israel During the Past Year" was the subject of last night's sermon at Temple Beth Israel. Dr. Wiseman mentioned the fact that anti-Semitism has reached Belgium although it was on the decline in nearly all other countries. Among other things the doctor stated that there is a Jewish colony in Shanghai, which has been in existence for many centuries, and although many Jewish principles were lost by them yet they had preserved their identity. "This shows," eloquently pleaded the rabbi, "that the Jewish religion and character are inflexible, invincible and immortal." Then followed an enumeration of prominent occurrences among the Jews during the past year: the promotion of a Danish Jew to a high legislative position, and another to secretary of war and commander of the Italian army. He then depicted the present horrible condition of the Roumanian Jews as well as those of Russia, numbering 5,000,000 souls. The sermon concluded with a tribute to Secretary of State Hay for his kind action in behalf of the Roumanian Jews. This sermon was delivered in Dr. Wise's most eloquent manner and had great effect on his hearers.

TOBACCO COMBINE

British and American Forces United.

GIGANTIC DEAL MADE

Known as the British-American Tobacco Company—To Control the Trade.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A great deal of interest is being shown here over the completing of a gigantic trust. It was officially announced this afternoon that the British and American tobacco trusts have succeeded in entering into a combination that amalgamates all the tobacco industries of Europe and America. The new organization will be known as the British-American Tobacco Company and will have headquarters in this country and America. The British section of the company is to remain under the same management as heretofore and has agreed to leave the American trade entirely alone. However, the two sections of the combination will make a strenuous effort to get the absolute control of all the tobacco trade in all Europe as well as in the United States. What effect on the prices of tobacco this move will have is hard to say at present, but it is almost sure to raise them as it will be possible for the trust to dictate the disposition of the crops of the entire world.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR

Will Be Celebrated on October 2 and 3.

PRAYERS IN THE SYNAGOGS

Stores Owned by Jews Will Be Closed on First Day.

The Jewish New Year, "Rosh Hashana," will be celebrated October 2 and 3. The first day is kept strictly by all the Jews, but the second is not kept as rigidly as the first, because of the commercialism of the times. Prayers will be held in the Temple Beth Israel. The congregation Nevah Zedeck Talmud Torah and the Congregation Ahavah Sholem on the evening of October 1 and on the morning of the 2d. On the evening of the 2d and the morning of the 3d, prayers will be held in the latter two synagogues. The holiday is an innovation of the Ealmudical sages, for the purpose of counting the years from the day of the creation of the world. This year will be the 5623d from creation, according to the Jewish reckoning. The names of this holiday, according to the Pentateuch, are as follows: Sabbath day, Memorial of Trumpet Blowing, Holy Convocation, Day of Blowing the Trumpet and Memorial Day. Of all the names, tradition preserves only the last two. BLOWING THE TRUMPET. The principal event of the New Year is the blowing of the trumpet. The trumpet "Shophar" is made of a ram's horn, in commemoration of the ram which Abraham sacrificed in place of his son Isaac. Though the Pentateuch does not give any reason for the order to sound the trumpet, it is fully supplied by tradition and later Biblical literature. According to the tradition the first day of this holiday is the first day when God was crowned King over the visible world. The crowning of a King was celebrated by blowing the trumpet, hence the sounding of the trumpet promulgating the kingdom over all that exists.

CARS ON FIRE.

RAWLINS, Wyo., Sept. 27.—In a collision of two freight trains in the western part of the city at midnight last night and a fire that followed, six men are believed to have lost their lives. Engineer Pat Noe is among the dead. A number of men who were beating their way were on the train, but all save five have been accounted for. A fruit train got beyond control on a heavy down grade and had gained a high speed when it crashed into the rear end of a stock train. Fifteen cars of fruit were piled on top of Pat Noe's locomotive and immediately broke into flames. The city fire department was unable to extinguish the flames, although four streams of water were turned on them. An extra fruit and stock special, with Engineer Pat Noe came in at midnight. There is a pretty heavy grade coming into the yards from the west, and the air brakes failed to work. The engineer whistled for brakes, but it was too late for the hand brakes to have any effect on the heavy train, which crashed into a long stock train standing on a sidetrack. About 15 cars were piled on top of the engine and almost instantly broke into flames. Engineer Pat Noe was thrown under the wreck, and it is said that at least four or five others shared a like fate. Rescuers succeeded in clearing away the wreck sufficiently to talk to Engineer Pat Noe, but they were unable to get him out.
