EX-RECEIVER BURLEIGH.

Portland men familiar with Northern Pacific affairs, can scarcely believe the news of the fallure of former Receiver Andrew F. Burleigh, reported as in the bankruptcy courts of New York. As one of those in charge of Northern Pacific, during the time of is last reorganization. Mr. Burleigh, while acting in a legal capacity, was yet "in" with men of immense resources. These made deals in which Mr. Burleigh was said to participate, that brought them millions. Immense deals in lands were handled by said at the time that Mr. Burleigh made $500,000 in two certain deals in N. P. property. He was supposed to be worth $1,000,000 or more clear. A Montana man in the city says that his losses have been largely in Alaska. Also that he was an investor in the Seattle shipbuilding business of the Moran Bros. Company, "Hosts of friends will be sorry for Judge Burleigh's troubles." said this gentleman, "for he was respected by all who knew him."

LOST HIS GOLD.

EVERETT, Sept. 20 .- Benjamin S. Clark of Port Blakeley, lost 60 $20 gold pieces Friday near Machias.

Clark and his brother were to purchase have no card. a 120-acre farm of S. N. Sorenson. The two men were in the woods a short distance from the house, splitting cedar. Clark had in his pocket $1300 in gold, in a buckskin sack. It was too heavy, and laid it on a log, throwing his coat over it. In a short time Clark and his brother went some 200 yards into the timber to ent down a tree. He picked up his coat and forgot the money. Returning within a short time and remembering that he had left the sack. Clark found that his fortone had disappeared. There is no clue:

Still No Sewer Connections.

Despite the many requests from residents on Union avenue in the vicinity of East Stark street, none of the buildings in that locality have been connected with the sewers. The refuse from the entire neighborhood is thrown into the gulch below and during the warm periods many cases of sickness are caused.

CONTRACT NOT YET AWARDED

The press and publicity committee of the Lewis and Clark Fair did not meet yesterday afternoon, as intended. It will meet probably tomorrow and award the contract for the printing of the 300,000 advertising leaflets,

The law is ineffective, therefore, as regards the cutting of timber except in a limited way for very necessary local use. On the other hand, the reserve will probably check all development in a vast area which has seemed to have had a big future opening out for it. While the reserve is maintained, the settlement of the district will cease almost altogether, and such enterprises as have already gained a footing will be circumscribed in their development because of this fact. But this is not all. The entire Puget Sound country as the natural supply point for the Alaskan territory will feel immediately the results of anything that may tend to check its industrial growth.

A SERIOUS CHARGE

William Vinton, of Salem, in the Toils of the Law.

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, Sept. 30 .- William Vinton was vesterday arraigned in the Justice Court, charged with taking away a girl under 16 year of age from under the control of her parents and guardian, for purposes of. prostitution. The young man is accused of inducing Cora Moullett, aged 15, to leave the home of her mother, near this city, and go with him to the State of Washington. There the couple intended to be married, but failed, and Vinton returned to this county, when he was arrested at Gervals, Sunday, on a warrant issued at Mrs. Mary Moullett's instance on September 2. The preliminary hearing is fixed for Tuesday, October 7, and the defendant is in jail in default of $500 bonds.

HEAVY LUMBER SHIPMENTS.

Lumber shipments by water from the Columbia River will this year, for the first time on record, exceed 100,000,000 feet. This enormous total is already assured by the actual shipments made for the first nine months of the year, and the tonnage engagements which are to be filled prior to December 31. The shipments for the past nine months have amounted to over 74,000,000 feet, of which 43,814,000 feet were sent coastwise and

A PROMISING MINE.

A communication from Frank Jordan, manager of the Crystal Consolidated Mining Company, located on Elephant Mountain, Bohemia, is to the effect that the ledge on the Mountain Lion claim has been cross-cut at a depth of 150 feet. The ledge proves to be 10 feet wide at that depth, with rich base ore on either side of the vein proper, showing a high grade free milling ore. Active work is going on with the view of preparing the mine for SOLDERS.

High Grade

A plano that should sell for less than you pay,

One that is reasonably priced,

Or one that is unusually good for the price asked.

If you want the latter, we cordially invite you to look into our stock. We can assure you you will be surprised at the values we offer, as compared with other houses.

Do not infer from this that we wish to give you the impression we are in the piano business for the purpose of giving valuable presents to the public. We want a legitimate profit, just as every other dealer should. What we are contending against is exhorbitant profits, and highpriced, low-grade planos. We want to and we do furnish good, artistic, finetoned, high-grade instruments at medium prices. We can do this because we conduct our business in the most economical manner possible. Shipping instruments in immense quantities to supply four large, flourishing stores, and without boxes, saves in factory prices, bulk and freight rates; handling planos direct from the cars to our own warehouses, and employing our own drays and teams to move them is a further great saving. All these considerations work a great reduction in the price of planos, and this the public gets the benefit of, when it buys from us. The WEBER of New York, the KIM-BALL of Chicago and the CHICKERING of Boston are our leading planos, and none better are made in the world.
