NO EXTRA SESSION

Governor Geer Will Not Issue Call.

EMERGENCY

Warranting Such Action, Says the Chief Executive of Oregon.

(Special Correspondent.)

SALEM, Oct. 4 .- There is no likelihood Governor Geer is quoted as saying "that no emergency has thus far presented itself that would warrant his putting the state to the expense of an extraordinary session of the Legislature," and it is claimed the only sentiment found in its favor is a purely selfish one that prevails among the storekeepers and boardinghouse owners of Salem.

When the subject of an extra session was first broached, four months ago, it was productive of much comment and an effort was made to deluge Governor Geer with petitions, demanding that he call one in order that proper legislation could be enacted placing state officials on a flat salary, before their new terms of office begun. The petitions were printed in a Salem paper with plenty of room for signatures and copies were circulated in all parts of the state. The returns were disappointing and the few hundred names secured shows few, if any, signatures of men of prominence, and has only served to emphasize the fact that an extra session of the Legislature is not to be seriously considered as a long-felt want.

Geer Wont Talk. Governor Geer refuses to discuss the question af an extra session. He has not said he either favors or is opposed to calling the members of the Legislature to Salem before the regular session in January. He seems to realize that whatever netion he may take will be criticized by his political enemies, and so is jogging along, pursuing the even tenor of his ways, finding such relaxation as he can in piling up his winter supply of wood in home. If Governor Geer should call the matter what stand he may take, and as a | Both have warm supporters among their fellow Senators, particularly the holdresult the Governor is content in sawing overs, and the contest between them while interesting is devoid of all unpleas antness and is regarded as close

Scramble for Seats. Nearly every member of the next Legislature has selected his seat for the in-coming session at Salem, and those who have falled to take time by the forelock will find but a poor choice left them on reaching the state capitol. The house members of the Multnomah delegation will occupy the same seats as did their predecessors two years previous-on the east side of the hall on the right of the speaker. In the Senate, the seven mem-bers from this county have seats directly in front of the president in the center of the Senate chamber. Senator Brownell

A GOOD SHOWING

Marion County Out of Debt and Money on Hand.

(Journal Special Service.)

SALEM, Oct. 4.-County Treasurer W. J. Richardson last evening gave out the statement of the financial standing of Marion County, showing that on October I the treasurer had county funds on hand aggregating $63,117.94, of which amount $43,742.43 is in the general school fund, $17,876.60 in the general fund. As Marion County has no outstanding warrants or indebtedness of any kind, this showing is a most gratifying one. With the county out of debt, with plenty of money in the treasury, and all classes of people prosperous, it is hoped that funds will be found available for road-building purposes, to follow up the start made last year, when a rock ballasted road was built from this city to Liberty, south of Salem. All classes of citizens are now in favor of building permanent highways, and the prosperous condition of the treasury is urged as a reason for beginning the work at this time.

VERY SCARCE

Game Warden Ouimby on Enforcement of Sporting Law.

State Game and Forestry Warden Quimby returned yesterday from a specting the fall crop of birds. He reports a scarcity of pheasants througho the Valley and in one locality a favorite hunting ground, he says there were five birds last year to where there is one this

MORE ARRESTS.

About the work of the deputy wardens Mr. Quimby says: "We have done good work this fall considering our number. We have made fully a third or more arrests this year than last, and we have convicted the law-breakers in every case. On account of the scarcity of birds there is some talk of closing the season for a term of, say, two years, and I don't know but that it would be a good thing. Two years' crop, if they were protected, would nake quite a start again. NEEDS MORE DEPUTIES.

"While it is true we made more arrests this year than last, yet we need stiff more men in the field. We need two good deputies in each of the countle where the upland birds are plentiful, and even more in certain localities. Of course out in Eastern Oregon, where birds are very scarce, there is no need of such stringent enforcement of the law. Like everybody else, we need a larger apis only a yearly appropriation of $4200, expenses, including deputy hire. I have heard some talk of abolishing the game law, but no true sportsman would advo-cate such action, because Oregon game is an inducement for homeseekers to buy here, more of an inducement than peopl generally think. People from parts when there is no game count it a sumury. "No, Oregon is a big country and our game is good and we need stringent laws to protect it and need them enforced.'
