THE LIST OF JURORS GIVEN

The new term of the United States Circuit Court opened this morning, Judge C. B. Bellinger presiding and United States Attorney John H. Hall in readiness to proceed in taking care of Uncle Sam's court affairs. CRUSADE GROWING

There is any evidence showing corruption it should be demanded and the grand jury should carefully consider it.

"While this grand jury is working on a fresh case, just think of what they are doing back in St. Louis. The crimes of bribery of which those men are accused, occurred four years ago, but strong evidence is still obtainable. Only last Saturday this St. Louis grand jury returned a batch of 18 indictments against alleged hoodlums."

"Do you know whether Sergeant Church, or any other member of the police department, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury?" was asked.

"No, I do not" was the reply.

FOUR MORE SUBPOENAED.
Deputy Sheriff Fred Matthews served grand jury subpoenas on the following persons this afternoon:

John Doe Aliskey, a Journal reporter, whose real name is Frank Lischnke, and Joseph McQueen, an Oregonian reporter; T. J. Hoare, a special policeman, and Jerro Dunn, a sporting man. They are supposed to know more or less about the alleged corruption in the North End.

ODD COINCIDENCE
Story as Stage Points a Local Moral.

By a queer coincidence, there is a play at the Baker theater this week, that deals with matters related to the present situation in Portland. "The District Attorney," a play based upon municipal politics in New York City, is the title, and it was witnessed at two performances on Sunday by a number of local politicians who had heard that it had some situations pertinent to the affairs that are now agitating the public mind in this city.

In "The District Attorney" there is a newspaper man, General Ruggles, who insists upon a thorough investigation into alleged corruption in city affairs. Ruggles also belongs to the state senate. He backs the District Attorney loyally, and enables the latter to pursue the inquiry to the end that he reveals the participation in steals and "gratts" by distinguished citizens.

Municipal politicians who placed the District Attorney in nomination strive to induce him to cover up certain facts, pleading the claims of the political organization. The District Attorney, however, answers that he owes a duty to the people who elected him that is higher than that he owes to his political friends, and hence he pursues the corrupt gang mercilessly.

It was noticeable that whenever the brilliant young District Attorney declares that he proposes to perform his duty to the people, the audience cheers to the echo, and applauds every sentiment of that character.

The newspaper editor is at first questioned as to his sincerity, but emerges with due credit for his part in the cleanings of the Augean municipal stables.

MISSING FOR WANT OF EVIDENCE.
The Lyric Comic Opera Company, in the extravaganza "The Wonderful Lamp," with 57 people in the cast, will give a performance at the Auditorium tonight.

Arthur Lambert was in the city yesterday from Portland, to visit his mother.

VICTIM OF HATE
Chinaman Murdered by High-binders.

Lying doubled up in a corner, with the top of his head missing and brains oozing on the floor, a Chinaman was found this morning in a lodging house at 131 Second street. He had died by the hand of a high-binder. The hatchet had fallen four times on the top of the head, in the shape of a square, and the severed skull pried out and laid on the table.

The room in which the body was found was reached through long, dark passages. No ray of light penetrated the interior. The walls were festooned with masses of cobwebs, and begrimed by years of lamp and opium smoke. The floor was covered with litter and the stench was fearful.

The dead man was called Lem Gow. Last night he attended the Joss house on Second street, and had some trouble. From the condition of the body, he was murdered early last evening.

A couple of Chinamen notified the police this morning that the murder had been committed. Detectives Snow and Kerrigan went to the place and made an investigation. The Chinamen interviewed were all on the "no savey" list when questioned by the officers.

RESIDENTS PROTEST
East Burnside Street, Recently Improved, Shows Wear.

A gentle protest is being made by property-owners on East Burnside street from East Eighth to East Twenty-eighth streets. The good residents of that vicinity say that they have been imposed upon by a soulless corporation.

The claim is made that in the improving of that thoroughfare, much inferior material was used, and the contract was violated in many ways. Larger and coarser rock and gravel is said to have been used in laying the foundation of the street.

Improper rolling is said to be one of the causes for the protests. Numerous holes are already beginning to appear in many parts of the street. The traffic in the vicinity is very light, and residents say that if inferior material was not used that the roadway would not show signs of wear at this early time. It has been only a few weeks since the street was accepted by the city engineer.

STREET A RACING COURSE.
Complaints have been made to the police by numerous residents along East Burnside street on account of the excessive speed at which automobiles are operated. The other evening, a large white auto came down the street from East Twelfth street at the rate of about 30 miles an hour. The run was made during the early part of the evening while many people were crossing the streets.

TO PROTECT RECORDS.
An effort is being made by prominent attorneys of the city to have the records and papers of the East Side Justice Court kept more securely. A fire is liable at any time to wipe out all the records of the office. A fire-proof safe is wanted and the County Court will be asked to donate one. The agitation is caused by the recent fire at Mt. Tabor in which the Justice Court was destroyed.

CURRENT DIVERTED
Jetty at Snag Island Turned. The Current Toward Washington Shore.

The Navigation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been advised by one of the most competent pilots on the river that the jetty built in Cathlamet Bay, below Snag Island, some years ago, has diverted the current of the Columbia River from Harrington Point towards the Washington shore, thence southward. The current so diverted causes the channel to spread out on the bar and consequently to fill up. It is the opinion of the pilot whose views are here quoted, that if this current were diverted by a jetty built out from Harrington Point, to the mid-channel which has been made in the Taylor Sands above Astoria and more or less to the northward of Tongue Point, it would carry the water into the straight channel from Astoria and scour out the same channel in the bar which had thirty-one feet of water a few weeks ago. It is the further opinion of the pilot that the serious trouble which now confronts navigation on the Columbia River bar began after the construction of the Snag Island jetty.

CAPTAIN LANGFITT'S VIEWS.
When seen in regard to this, Captain Langfitt said that the Board of Engineers would have this under discussion. He stated that it was his personal opinion that the present project for a 55-foot channel from Portland to the sea includes in it a long jetty to be built from Harrington Point and that the bar shoaled after the construction of the Snag Island jetty, is probably a coincidence and not a cause following the effect.

MINERS JOYOUS
They Are Sanguine as to Outcome of Strike.

MITCHELL VANISHES
Will Probably Take Part in Federation of Labor Conference—Alabama Miners Quit.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 6.—The news being circulated here to the effect that President Roosevelt is still trying to invent some plan whereby a settlement of the strike can be made, has revived the hopes of the miners today. They are all standing firm in their determination to fight to the finish and give every evidence that they are sanguine as to the outcome.

A great deal of satisfaction is being expressed among the miners over the fact that the attempt has been made today to start the collieries here, taking it as an indication that the operators are weakening.

MITCHELL DISAPPEARS.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 6.—There is considerable comment here over the disappearance of President Mitchell, this morning.

It has just been learned here that President Mitchell has quietly disappeared and diligent inquiry has failed to throw any light on his whereabouts, although it is generally believed that he has gone to Washington to hold a secret conference with President Roosevelt, and attend the American Federation of Labor council. He has kept his movements carefully guarded, and it is evident, in the face of this fact, that something of vital importance is about to be developed. Just what the secret attitude that President Mitchell has assumed means it is hard to say, but it is conceded by those in close touch with him that his mission, wherever it might be, is an important one.

FAILED TO START.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 6.—An effort was made to start the Sterling washery this morning, which proved a failure as the non-union-men who had been engaged for the purpose of operating it became frightened and retreated to their homes and could not be induced to leave their homes again. There is considerable excitement here over a report which has been circulated, on good authority, that Governor Stone is making preparations to call out the entire State Militia, as he fears that if a settlement is not reached at once the miners cannot be held in check by the guards and a small number of soldiers now in the field.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Everybody here is expectant over the secrecy maintained by the American Federation of Labor Council, which is being held here today.

The morning session of the American Federation of Labor, which is being held here today, was conducted with the utmost secrecy. There is much speculation as to results, and it is reported that President Mitchell is expected to arrive this afternoon to take part in the proceedings. President Gompers has said he was of the opinion that a statement relating to the anthracite coal strike would be issued this evening.

MAY CONSIDER COAL STRIKE.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—The meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which began at the headquarters of the organization here today, promises to be the most significant which that body has held for several years. While the meeting ostensibly is to consider grievances and routine matters, it is believed that the attitude of the Federation toward the anthracite coal strike will be the principal matter of discussion.

PRESIDENT STILL PROBING.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Shaw were in conference this morning. They were discussing the strike situation and financial matters. The President will talk with other Cabinet officers today, hoping to find some new path leading to a settlement of the strike.

40,000 IN ALABAMA.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 6.—The strike of miners which has been anticipated here for some time, occurred this morning.

Nine hundred miners in the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company's mines, at Blockton, struck this morning, owing to the refusal of the company to collect assessments from demurring union miners. This runs up the number of live miners in this state to a total of 40,000.

DID NOT ARRIVE.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Mitchell failed to arrive up to 3 o'clock, when he was expected. One member of the Federation Council said this afternoon that the miners would undoubtedly refuse to consider any proposition to return to work on a promise basis, but must have tangible concessions.

COAL FROM ENGLAND.
NEWCASTLE, Eng., Oct. 6.—One hundred thousand tons of coal were sold for export to America this afternoon.

APPEALS TO MITCHELL.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The rumor is persistent here that President Roosevelt has appealed to President Mitchell to instruct the miners to return to work pending a congressional investigation of their grievances. It is understood that the correspondence on the subject of the strike is to be given out this evening.

MANUFACTURERS WILL MEET.
The Manufacturers' Association will hold an important meeting tomorrow night at the Secretary's office, 908 Chamber of Commerce. Secretary Melissae will report that a glove factory and chair factory will be established here in a few weeks. He will also report that the local furniture factory is overworked with orders and that it would be a good investment to establish another furniture factory in Portland.

The Journal, a Free and Fair newspaper. It has no axe to grind.

ENTER CONVENT
Princess Clementine Affected by King's Attitude Toward Her.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 6.—A great sensation has been created here over the statement that Princess Clementine has become so affected over the treatment accorded Queen Stephanie by Leopold, that she has told the King that she intends to enter a convent.

After the death of Queen it was thought that King Leopold would resent and once more take to his heart the daughter, who had so greatly displeased him by contracting a marriage that highly offended his highness. But in that the public as well as royalty was disappointed, for at the side of the bitter of her mother Princess Stephanie was notified that her father refused to see her. The action has greatly grieved the Princess Clementine, and it is said she has ultimately decided that she will herself go to a convent.

A SERIOUS CRISIS
Austria-Hungarian Monarchy on Verge of Violent Eruption.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—There is great consternation here over the report that the Auschlag negotiations have been broken and that both the Austrian and Hungarian premiers are expected to resign. The monarchy is on the verge of the most serious crisis in its history and a terrible war is possible at any time.

What has had a tendency to make matters worse and bring things to a focus is the fact that Franz Joseph, who is considered to be the most beloved ruler in Europe, and whose personality alone has been the means of keeping harmony in the two countries in the past, has positively refused to renew negotiations.

Should any serious estrangement result and the two opposing factions enter into warfare it will give the Czar of Russia an opportunity to step in and gobble up Hungary along with possibly the other Balkan states, thus gratifying a desire of long standing and giving Russia a prestige she has never known before.

VANCOUVER NEWS NOTES
What They Are Talking of in the City Across the Columbia.

WIL HELP STRIKING MINERS
Printers Raise $750, and Other Unions to Swell Amount to $10,000.

The Multnomah Typographical Union met yesterday and unanimously passed a resolution calling for a 5 per cent assessment on all its members for the benefit of the anthracite coal miners. It is believed that this will amount to at least $750. The president of the union was also instructed to issue a call for a meeting of all the presidents of trade unions throughout the city, and endeavor to have their organizations take similar action. It is the intention to raise $10,000 in Portland and forward to the striking miners with as little delay as possible. Officers of the State Federation of Labor, Federated Trades, Building Trades Council and the editor of the Labor Press will be asked to assist in the matter. The printers anticipate meeting with no difficulty in raising the amount, and expect the hearty co-operation of all unions.

SECURING JURORS
White on Trial for His Life.
MAY PLEAD INSANITY

Case to Be Tried Before Judge Frazier—The Courtroom Crowded.

In the case of the State of Oregon vs. Andrew White, where the defendant is charged with the murder of Peter Beauchene, a blacksmith, several weeks ago, the jury is now being empaneled. The case will be tried before Judge Frazier. White's attorneys are Dan J. Malarkey, George F. Stout and John Logan. The prosecution will be conducted by District Attorney George E. Chamberlain, assisted by Deputy John Manning.

The courtroom today was filled to the doors with spectators who were even interested in the dry cross-examination of the jurors. Among those in Court were White's mother and aunt, also, Mrs. Beauchene, the widow of the murdered man, and Miss Beauchene, her daughter.

Mrs. Beauchene is quite a pathetic figure in her widow's weeds and her face covered with black crepe. Miss Beauchene also appeared dressed in black, accompanied by a friend.

INSANITY DEFENSE.
As much as can be burmised at the present time the defense will probably be intoxication accompanied by a fit of insanity. In cross-examining Owen Carrahar, a juror, a question was asked by Dan Malarkey whether the juror knew the defendant's father some 20 or 25 years ago, and whether he was aware of his having been sent to the asylum for insanity. The answer was "No," but this leads to the conclusion that the defense will probably be insanity, although at this stage nothing definite can be ascertained.

Up to noon today but three jurors were secured. They are George Roberts, W. A. Alcorn and Fletcher Gilbert. A full jury will probably not be secured until late this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

STOCKHOLDERS OF FAIR MEET
Will Elect Ten New Directors—Five From State at Large.

The directors and stockholders of the Lewis and Clark Fair Corporation are now in session at the company's office, 246 Washington street. The principal business to come before the meeting will be the election of ten new directors. The office is crowded and the election will no doubt be rather spirited, as many districts in Oregon will want to be represented on the directors of the Fair Corporation.

It is highly probable that only five of the ten directors to be elected will be from districts outside of Portland, as it is important that most of the directors should be residents of Portland. Those who will probably be elected are George W. Riddie, of Riddler; H. Van Dusen, of Astoria; Joseph T. Peters, of The Dalles; James H. Raley, of Pendleton; William Smith, of Baker City, and C. C. Beekman, of Jacksville.
