--- Arguments Going On.

The case of the state against Audrew will go to the jury late this afternoon. their cases for the benefit of the jury.

Very few who have watched the case have any doubt as to the verdict. Some expect a second degree finding, but the will return a verdict of manslaughter. It is doubtful if the defense expects an acquittal. White admits hitting Beauchene with a club, but there is no evidence to show that the act was the result of premeditation or intent to kill. It was all done in an instant during a drunken

TALK OF BIG STRIKE

Both Sides Extremely Reticent---San Francisco Engineer Here.

The steamship Elder, plying between Portland and San Francisco, tied up at the Alaska dock this morning, and she will probably remain there until the marine engineers' strike is settied. There is also a general rumor current that the Columbia is tied up at San Francisco. The report, however, cannot be traced to any authentic source.

There are all kinds of rumors affoat today around the docks concerning the Elder. Some contend that she is merely laying up to have the old smokestack replaced with a new one, and that she will soon be ready to take her regular run. Others state that the longshoremen refused to load her outward cargo, in sympathy with the local marine engineers, and that she was therefore forced to tie up. A third report has it that the striking engineers are merely playing a card which they held up their sleeves for a long time, and that they have now started in to fight the owners to a finish. WHAT THEY SAY.

Several representatives of the O. R. & N. Company, operators of the boat, were seen this morning and asked for a statement regarding the matter. They again added to the reputation which they enjoy of being the most reticent people on earth when approached for information. "The Elder is tied up." they said, "but for what purpose we are not in a position to state. She may be tied up to have a new smokestack put in, and it may be on account of the strike. It may be that the engineers will go on a strike, and again they may not.'

"That is a very clear explanation," answered the reporter, "and now I know fully as much as I did when I came here. The engineers on the Elder were also non-committal and declared by all that is true and undefiled that they are devoid of information. It was noticed, however, that Chief Engineer Houghton of the Elder was in close and earnest conversation with J. M. Benson, who is national district deputy of the Marine Engineers. Mr. Benson resides in San Francisco and just arrived in the city. When asked in a polite way concerning his business here he stated:

"I just came up from below to view the strike situation here. How long I shall remain it is difficult, to say. I shall be here as long as I deem it necessary, however. At present I would rather not talk much for publication."

OTHERS TALK. Several longshoremen were seen, and they deny emphatically that they refuse to load the vessel.

"We worked until 11 o'clock discharging her last night," they said, "and this morning was the first that we knew she was going to tie up." F. Smith, business agent of the local Marine Engineers' Association, said: "It looks like something is doing, but I am like the rest of them. I cannot tell you much about it. There is one thing certain, however. It is possible for us to tle up every vessel on the Pacific Coast, from Southern California to Alaska.

STILL HARPING? YES!

We are still harping on the fact that we sell the best pianos for the price of any house in the Northwest. The reason for this is easily explained. First and foremost we handle more planos by far than any other house in the Northwest-supply them to our four big, busy houses. We have adopted a facility knownfor cheapening the cost of handling pianos and are content with moderate profits.

We positively will not handle an inferior instrument, therefore purchasers know that whatever piano they may choose at our house it will be a good one, no matter what the price.

Our leading pianos are the WEBER of New York, the CHICKERING of Boston and the KIMBALL of Chicago, the three pianos that are universally sought after and invariably give absolute satisfaction. These are supplemented by 25 additional standard makes, among them the Hobart M. Cable, Decker, Vose, the many toned Crown, Victor and others just as good.
