Price Is Up on Both the Atlantic and Norway.

EGGS ARE STILL UP

Beans Again Take Upward Move and Another Is Expected.

Prosperity has struck Front street. Business was excellent today, it being a good forecaster of the coming week's trade.

The first Oregon Concord grapes were received this morning and are selling well. The fruit is of good quality.

It is the same old story in the egg mar ket. Prices have advanced again. Both Oregon fresh and cold storage and the Eastern varities are affected by the change. Receipts continue very light and the demand is increasing.

Atlantic Coast mackeral advanced this morning from $2 to $3 a barrel. The Norway variety took a large upward move, the quotations advancing from $2 to $5

Canned goods are hard to obtain and prices are booming. The jobbers have been notified by their Eastern representatives that they cannot possibly fill the orders given them. It is reported that the corn crop is so short that Eastern packers have drawn on California for supplies. Tomatoes are in about the same condition as corn. A majority of the states report nearly a complete failure in that line this year.

Beans again took an upward move this morning as today's quotations will show. Another advance is expected at any day. The provision market is very stiff and cuotations are way up. Dealers say that the trouble today is not in getting good prices, but to supply the demand. Receipts of fresh meats in the local markets today were scarce. Prices remain

Receipts of poultry were unusually heavy for Monday. Quite a lot of last week's stock is still on hand. The revised quotations for today are as

IS THE LAW UNJUST

Home Seekers Complain That They Cannot Take Claims.

An unusually large number of homeseekers are coming to Oregon this fall. Most of them desire timber claims as well as homesteads and many inquiries are made daily at the land offices for information as to how to take up the timber claims. Many of these Eastern people complain most bitterly of the hardships and red tape necessary to get the timber claims.

Speaking of this matter a young man from Pennsylvania said: "The laws alji seem to be in favor of rich men these days. A big corporation can hire men to take up the best timber claims and very little trouble is encountered by their agents in securing their patents. But a homeseeker meets with difficulties and opposition at every step in his proceed-

At Quartsville, in Linn County, many homesteads have been filed upon by miners who will contest the homesteader's right to their claims upon the ground that the land is more valuable for mineral than for agricultural uses. In Morrow County, since coal has been discovered in that country, many claims that were taken up in good faith by ranchers as fit only for graing purposes are now being taken up for mining. Many incidents in connection with this matter occur from time to time.

Some years ago, while I. L. Mitchell was in charge of the Walla Walla Land Office district, a certain company was having a lot of men to take up timber claims in the spur of the Blue Mountains. The usual method was to pay a man a sufficient amount of money to prove up the claim and give him a surplus of $80 or $100 as soon as claim was proved and he had signed a deed prepared beforehand conveying the timber tract to the syndicate.

A Barber was employed on one occasion to take up a claim. On the day of proof he was given $500 to prove a claim and to pay the necessary fees, leaving him about $75 as his reward for his act of perjury. Leaving the office he went out his pocket and looked at it very earnestly. Putting the money back in his pocket he retraced his steps, went to the depot and took the train for Portland, and the company is still waiting for him to prove up his claim.

The syndicates and companies are often served in this manner, as $500 is a great temptation to many a poor fellow and causes them to retire from land business after the fashion of the barber. In taking up land under the timber and stone act the applicant must swear that he takes up the land for his own use and benefit. When these perjurers are about to convey the land by deed after final proof and he is charged with fraud in that the tract is not for his own use or benefit, he generally replies in a gleeften way that the money he is paid is for his special benefit. There are so many fraudulent cases that the government could not secure enough inspectors and special agents to check even 25 per cent of such frauds. Yet many are honest in their endeavor.

and, strange as it may seem, many obstactes are thrown in their way of making proof. On the other hand the scoundrel makes his escape, thus working a great hardship upon those who really desire to take homesteads for their own desire to do its part towards this end, made a very cheap rate for the round trip, with the result that about two thousand of our citizens attended the Fair on "Portland Day." On Wednesday, October 15, our neighboring city of Corvallis will throw open her doors and extend the hand of welcome to all who journey that way, the occasion being the dedication of the new addition to the Oregon Agricultural College. This is an institution of which we are justly proud, as it compares favorably with the best colleges of the kind in the United States, and every citizen of the state should be interested in fostering this school. The good people of Corvallis are bubbling over with enthusasm about this institution, which is very much to their credit, and are prepared to entertain the visitors in royal style. The speculator who knew of selling was mystified by the stubborness of the price, concluded the big liquidation has been met by an equally important demand and it was the opinion that some very strong buyer had taken the Patten line. The corn man could think of no one except Ogden Armour, or Daniel G. Reid as equal to such an operation. There was no clear evidence of concentrated corn buying. Armour was at times apparent in the market. On Thursday in looked as if he was doing almost as much selling as Patten. On Saturday there was pretty good evidence of Armour buying. But the only reason the corn pit felt Armour or Reid had been taking the millions Patten had been sel!ing was because it was believed such a line could not be unloaded with such small loss in price without some notable leadership on the other side.

MELODY IN PERFUME

An Experimental Concert in Odors · Given Tonight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.-There is something new under the sun and Gothamites are to have the first taste, or rather the first smell of it. To cultivate the olfactory nerves "by the artistic manipulation of perfumes, which will yield esthetic pleasures similar to music or pictorial art," there is going to be a perfume con-"an experimental concert," as its authors modestly put it, and a succession are granted and respected by all." of scents will be squirted about the hall and over the audience so adeptly that those present will think they are in Japan.

At least the management of the affair is going to present "A Melody in Odors," and will call the melody "A Trip to Japan in Sixteen Minutes," asking those aromas, that they are really transported, sensually, to the Chrysanthemum kingdom. That the blunted olfactory nerves of the Philistines may be persuaded, if possible, the illusion will be helped out by the assistance of "two geisha and a solo dancer," who will perform while the perfumes are being squirted.

How to Make a Marvelously Perfect Complexion and Restore Youthful Looks.

HOW TO REMOVE PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, BROWN PATCHES, BLACKHEADS, OILINESS AND ALL DE-· FECTS FROM THE FACE, NECK AND ARMS.

There is nothing more beautiful than the human face with its vivacious counterance, its sparkling eye, its pleasant smile and perfect symmetry.

But the crowning glory of the face is a radiant complexion with its lively glow, its youthful tinge, and its fine, smooth texture.

But the question is can such a complexion be attained?

In this wonderfully progressive age of art, literature and science; of the steam engine, the mighty cannon, the electric motor, the wireless telegraph and the ponderous fabric-making machines; what is these that is impossible?

By a careful study of the nature and texture of the akin, and a thorough research in the realms of chemistry and compounding of ingredients, a remedy has been at last perfected that will accomplish these results.

This remedy is Mma. A. Ruppert's Face Bleach.

WHAT FACE BLEACH IS.—Face Bleach is not a commette to cover up, but it absolutely removes once and forever all the discolorations and blemishes to which the complexion is subject. I can positively guarantee every woman it will do all I claim. Its action on the skin cannot fail to remove every defect. It's a well-known fact that the blood in order to cleansetizelf is constantly, throwing off its impurities through the pores of the skin; now if the pores are not kept open, the impurities of the blood cannot escape, but collect below the surface, and produce all manner of skin troubles; such as PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, SALLOW-MESS, ECEMA, ACNE AND NUMEROUS OTHER SKIN DISEASES AND DISCOLORATIONS.

ACTION OF FACE BLEACH.—Now Face Bleach has this two-fold action; first, it has a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities which have collected underthe skin; and, secondly, a chemical action which removes by scaling off (in the form of a fine dandruff) the surface of the outer, diseased or dead cuticle, leaving the underakin —beautiful, youthful-looking and delicately tinted by nature—clear, smooth and perfect. This method is perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, as it harmon and nature, the two factors which we must adhere to and follow if we wish to permanently improve our personal appearance.

THOUSANDS BENEFITED. — Thousands of patrons, who were annoyed and vexed with most missrable complexions, have been delighted with the grand improvement Madame Ruppert's Face Bleach has produced in their skins. Many complexions, covered with pimples, creckies and examinations eruptions (itching, burning and annoying) have been changed to bright, beautiful skins, and the 'improvements made in their looks were simply marvelous. There is exarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir Wrich will not succumb to this wonderful remady. Framature wrinkles and lines—those inroads of beauty—are quickly effaced, and those muddy, disfluring, sallow, jaundiced skins are quickly transformed into clear, wholesome ones by its use. Flabby skins—which also mark the ravages of time—become firm and smooth after a few applications. Skin troubles which have baffled the most skilful physicians have been removed and cured promptly, and many have expressed, personally and by letter, their heartfelt and profoundest thanks for this wonderful Face Bleach.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special directions which are furnished with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and imputil, from your complexion.
