MURDER TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Juror Bail Taken Sick and Case is Continued Until Monday.

The trial of George Smith for the murder of his wife which was commenced Wednesday was postponed this morning until Monday morning on account of the sickness of Chauncey Bail, one of the jurors.

Mr. Bail had contracted a severe cold and during last night was taken ill with what threatens to be congestion of the lungs. When Court met this morning he was unable to take his place in the jury box and the trial of the case was carried over until Monday morning, when it is expected Mr. Bail will be able to attend.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

Oscar Collins, colored, gave important testimony for the state. He testified that he was in Annie Smith's room when she was shot. That Smith came to the room, saying he wanted to give his wife the keys she wanted; he proposed to buy her a drink, saying he was going away and it would be the last time she would ever see him. She opened the door slightly, when witness hid behind the door, not wishing Smith to see him. He ordered the second drinks and then without warning he shot his wife. She screamed out: "Oh, my God! I am shot!" and then fell over.

Collins said he then notified the police. From his position behind the door he could not see the shooting, but that he distinctly heard everything.

OTHER EVIDENCE.

Daley Watson, a roomer over the Boston Saloon, testified that she heard Smith knocking at the door and got up. She also told of the ordering of drinks. She took a drink and then closed her door. In a few moments she heard a shot and a woman scream and a person running down the hall.

H. J. Ritter, a photographer, and Dr. W. B. Hamilton, were unimportant witnesses.

Officer M. Kitzmiller, one of the officers who made the arrest, described how he met Smith running down the street. Smith told him he heard a woman had been shot and he took to the police. Smith was searched and a revolver with one chamber empty was found on him. He was taken to the room and afterwards to the police station.

The revetment work which has been going on at Corvallis for the past two months was completed yesterday. The revetment is for the purpose of protecting the banks of the river and preventing the river from washing in over the high-water channel.

ARE GOING RAPIDLY

Neil Stock Company Will Play to Crowded Houses—Everyone Should Come.

The benefit to be given at the Baker Theater next week under the auspices of organized labor for Portland for the coal miners of Pennsylvania promises to be a great success. A goodly number of the 6000 tickets which the local unions have at their disposal have already been sold, and the remaining pastebords are going rapidly. At the meeting of the Longshoremen No. 42 last night the members of the union voted unanimously to attend in a body next Thursday evening. Other unions have decided to take a similar step, although choosing a different night to attend.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Neil Stock Company at the Baker has been playing to crowded houses ever since their first appearance before a Portland audience. During the past week Manager Baker states that the receipts of the house have been higher than at any other period since the opening of the season. During next week the play which is to be produced is entitled "Friends." It is a comedy in four acts, and has had a long and successful run in many of the large Eastern cities. That it will be well patronized is already assured by the unprecedented sale of tickets.

WHY TRAINS ARE LATE.

The reason has at last been discovered why the O. R. & N. passenger train No. 9 is arriving from three to seven hours late regularly every day. There is a strike in the Union Pacific machine shops at Huntington. As a result there is a great scarcity of help and it is almost impossible to keep a sufficient number of engines in repair to meet the full demands of business. The U. P. and O. R. & N. shops are together and for this reason the former is affected by the strike. The same difficulty extends from Huntington to Omaha, and it is almost impossible to secure men for the machine shops. As the wheat crop is now moving this is the busiest season of the year and every available engine is being pressed into service. Some of them give evidence of the existing trouble by an unaccounted-for appearance which they present.

SOME LABOR NOTES.

Yesterday the Columbia Suspenders Factory, a comparatively new business firm in the city, signed a union scale and entered into a written agreement with its employees, and the label is now placed on the goods. The factory employs about 15 or 20 girls.

The labor organizations of the city will make a concerted effort to have a bill passed by the next State Legislature for the creation of a State Labor Bureau. All the unions in Oregon will be asked if they have a suitable man for the office, and, if so, to send his name to the executive officials of the State Federation of Labor. A vote will be taken to decide who is the choice of the unions, and the one receiving a majority of the votes will be declared the logical candidate for the position.

The contractor erecting the tin can manufacturing plant on Fourteenth and Front streets, beginning this morning, will employ no one but union men. Heretofore non-union men have been doing the work. About 35 men are employed on the job.

G. Y. Harry, president of the State Federation of Labor, left this morning to make a tour of Eastern Oregon with the object of inquiring into the general condition of labor. He may organize several new unions before returning.

THINK IT OVER

THERE are many young people just drifting along, just existing, with little prospect of bettering their circumstances. They do nothing well and are forced to do menial work. The lack of an education keeps them down. They go on and on hopelessly, not realizing that a little strenuous effort for a few months would place them in a position to earn a good salary and to rise to places of trust and responsibility. It is the mission of a good business school to help these unfortunates, to quickly and unexpensively get them "on their feet." We have a business school with every facility for doing superior work, and we do it. We are interested in young people and in you in particular, if you are having a hard time. If you will write us we will conscientiously advise you and send our fine catalogue. Mention this paper.
