

SALEM
TWO THIEVES
ARE CAUGHT

Had Robbed a Number of Houses of Overcoats and Hats.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, Oct. 20.—On Saturday night two men, giving their names as J. King and Larry O'Hara, systematically robbed a number of business houses in this city, stealing coats, overcoats and hats, and before the night had passed the two fellows were run down by the night police and lodged in the city jail, charged with larceny from buildings. The first case discovered was in the Statesman office, where one of the mechanical force, Bud Hall, found that a new overcoat, coat and hat, hanging on a nail beside the door of the linotype room, had been stolen during the evening. The loss was discovered at 11 p. m., and the first thought of Mr. Hill was that the missing articles had been taken by some member of the force as a joke, and that the clothing would be found hidden in the building. A search did not reveal the missing articles, and the police were notified. Officers J. W. Lewis and Larry Murphy at once started out to find the missing garments, and in 20 minutes telephoned Mr. Hill to call at the police station and identify his garments. The two men named had been arrested, having in their possession the clothing taken from the Statesman office, and another overcoat, the owner of which has not yet been discovered. The two men will have a preliminary hearing today, and will probably have a speedy trial in the Circuit Court, which is in session this week. One of the two men arrested said that the clothing was given them by a printer; that the printers always had a good supply of good clothing, that they cared little for a few articles.

Physicians Organize.

The Marion County Medical Society was organized in this city on Saturday evening, nearly all of the practicing physicians of the county taking part. At the meeting a number of prominent members of the fraternity were present from outside points, among them Dr. Andrew C. Smith, of Portland. Officers were elected by the society as follows: Dr. Calvin S. White, of Gervais, president; Dr. Chas. H. Robertson, Salem, vice president; Dr. W. Carlton Smith, Salem, secretary; Drs. W. C. Hawk, Jefferson, and W. T. Williamson and J. A. Richardson, Salem, board of counselors. Several interesting addresses were made by some of the physicians present, and at the conclusion of the meeting a banquet was enjoyed by the medicals.

For the School Library.

A voting contest has been started in the Salem public schools for the benefit of the school library. Votes are sold at one cent each, the pupils to cast their votes for the most popular pupil in the school. Prizes are offered for the most popular pupil—the one receiving the highest number of votes—consisting of books. Each school in the city is having its own contest, and great interest is being manifested among the children.

Salem Briefs.

The annual conference of the Congregational churches of Oregon will be held in this city this week, beginning tomorrow afternoon, and will continue until Thursday night. An excellent program has been arranged for the occasion and some of the leading ministers of the Congregational church will deliver discourses during the week.
Mrs. M. L. Hamilton and son, Lloyd Hamilton, left last night for San Francisco and other points in California to spend the winter.
Paul Wallace, son of the late R. S. Wallace, has returned to Salem from Princeton University, where he was graduated last spring, after which he made a tour of Europe. The management of the large estate of the late R. S. Wallace, in Marion and Polk Counties, will probably go into the young man's hands soon.

INDEPENDENCE
IMPURE WATER
CAUSES DEATH

Floyd Mix the Victim of Typhoid Fever—Rains in Polk County.

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 20.—Floyd Mix, son of M. Mix, of this city, died at his home in this city early Saturday morning. He was a graduate of this year's High School, and was one of the best liked young men of this part of the county. His death was the result of typhoid fever, contracted through drinking impure water while with a threshing crew this summer. Nearly every member of the crew has had typhoid fever, but this is the first fatality.

Rain in Polk County.

The recent rains have placed the soil in the best of shape for fall seeding, and the farmers are improving these bright days for that purpose. The fine weather which has prevailed throughout the fall months has enabled the farmers to complete all such work as digging potatoes, gathering apples, etc.

Personal Notes.

C. W. Girard, the miller who was so seriously hurt at the flouring mill last week, is rapidly improving, and will be sufficiently repaired to be out in a few days.
A farewell reception was tendered to

OREGON CITY, Oct. 20.—Now that the rains have commenced, the run of salmon in the Clackamas river has been increased and many eggs are being taken for the Government Hatchery.

EUGENE
SCHOOLBOYS

Neither Side Scored in the Football Game at Eugene.

EUGENE, Oct. 20.—In the football game here Saturday afternoon between Albany College and University of Oregon, neither team scored. The big Varsity team was outplayed at every point by their lighter opponents and it was by the hardest kind of work that Albany was prevented from scoring twice, while N. O. played like a lot of school boys and showed lack of proper and systematic training. The team consists of good and heavy individual players, but team work is almost entirely lacking.

Whitman at Eugene.

The Whitman College team arrived here Saturday night for a game with U. O. Wednesday afternoon. The members of the team feel their loss at their defeat by Multnomah Saturday, but since the poor showing made by U. O. against the weak Albany College team, they feel confident of a victory. On the other hand, U. O. will play their best men and are determined to win.

Escaped Prisoner Caught.

A prisoner who escaped from the Albany county jail Friday was caught in Eugene Saturday by Sheriff Withers and sent back to Albany on Sunday morning's early train. He stole a bicycle at Albany and riding to a short distance below Eugene, sold the wheel and walked into town.

Population of Eugene.

Frank Adams, canvasser for Polk's North Western, who has just finished canvassing Eugene, places the population of the city at 5,500, basing his figures on the attendance at the schools, number of votes cast, and number of business houses. The city has made a wonderful growth in the past two years.

ROSEBURG

AN IMPORTANT
TRANSACTION

Spokane Syndicate Buys Interests of Great Central Townsite Co.

ROSEBURG, Oct. 20.—The Great Central Townsite Company, which recently acquired a little over one thousand acres of land in North Roseburg, comprising nearly all of what is known as the Bushert addition, have sold this property to the agent of a Spokane syndicate for the reported price of $50,000. To the original owner and for an option on the lease of this property, the Great Central Townsite Company paid $12,000 and $5,000 respectively some few days ago. The importance of this deal lies in the fact that on this property the erection of the depot and office building of the Great Central railroad, Salt Lake to Coos Bay, has begun. The business character of the purchasing syndicate has not been divulged, but it is understood that their equipment of this land will in no way affect the operations of the railroad company thereon.

Adjudged Insane.

Mrs. M. A. Wagner, aged 71 years, was brought here from Glendale today, examined and adjudged insane by the County Court and committed to the asylum. She has been mentally infirm for some years, during which time she has lived apart from her children, whom she now imagines are seeking to do her various sorts of injuries. Two days prior to her arrival here she unsuccessfully attempted suicide by taking an overdose of laudanum.

Resort Saloon Purchased.

The Resort saloon, one of the best known establishments of its kind in Southern Oregon, was sold by G. R. Linsler, Saturday, to A. T. Thompson and S. J. Sutherland for $2,500.

Chas. Lovell Sentenced.

Chas. Lovell, who was found guilty of manslaughter last week, was this morning sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. A motion for a new trial was overruled.

TIN WORKERS MEET.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 20.—A special convention of tin workers, members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Plate Workers, began here today to reconsider the rebate proposition submitted by the American Tin Plate Company, once rejected by the tin workers. The proposition is for a cut of 25 per cent for all tin for re-export business. The company proposed a 25 per cent reduction in wages in order that the tin combine may secure an order from the Standard Oil Company for 1,500,000 boxes of plate, now made in Wales. The company declares it will be unable to meet the foreign competition and obtain the orders from the Standard Oil Company, unless the men agree to a wage reduction on this particular business.

OREGON CITY
RUN OF SALMON INCREASING

Many Eggs Are Being Taken in the Clackamas River.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 20.—Now that the rains have commenced, the run of salmon in the Clackamas river has been increased and many eggs are being taken for the Government Hatchery.

Although the employees of the Hatchery have been taking eggs for several weeks, the big catch is expected from now until the end. On Friday morning last the biggest haul of the year was made, over 37,000 eggs being taken from about 30 Chinook salmon.

The racks now being used on the Clackamas resemble the old Indian fish-traps which were used in early days when the river was full of fish. A rack is built across a riffle shutting off the passage of the fish upstream. Another rack is constructed across the river about a quarter of a mile below the first one in such a manner that when the gang of men float a seine down stream from the upper rack all the salmon which have collected between the two obstructions by coming through gates in the lower rack are forced out into a platform which is prepared for them. Instead of using a seine or net the Indians would form in a single line reaching from one shore to the other then march down stream, beating the water with whips and yelling, which would scare the fish into the traps below.

During spawning season a salmon is in its worst and weakest condition. In fact, they are almost dead when the eggs are taken from them, and they always die within ten days after the operation. Both male and females die.

Some of the fish when taken are fearfully bruised and skinned, while others have great sores over their bodies, or are blind with old age, but every morning a crowd of from ten to fifty men, women and children, coming from all over the county, gather on the bank waiting until the rotten fish are brought over to them after the government crew is through with them. These fish are decayed to such an extent that a butcher will not buy a hog which has eaten one of them, because it taints the pork, but these people are ready to fight for the possession of one of them. Fearful diseases have been known to result from people having eaten the rotten Chinook, but that does not stop these people from grabbing even the swollen bodies of fish which have been taken from the water dead. A few of these people do not eat the fish, but take them home to use as fertilizers for their field and, as such, they are of much real value.

Suit to Recover Wages.

D. Demars has commenced suit against John F. Hawkes to recover wages amounting to $46. The plaintiff sets forth in his complaint that he worked for the defendant for fifteen days, during the months of September and October, tending a boom of cord wood on the Willamette river, and that he used his own boat in so doing, but that he was never paid for his services, although he performed them according to agreement and his good judgment. Besides the $46 wages he asks that the defendant be made pay the costs together with $25 his attorney's fees and 50 cents which he paid to have necessary papers filed. The case is to be heard at the next term of the Circuit Court.

Two More Divorce Suits.

Edna E. Walborn has started a suit in the Circuit Court to be released from the bonds of matrimony which binds her to Charles E. Walborn. They were married in Portland during the month of November, 1892, and she claims that her husband soon began to curse and otherwise abuse her, making her life a miserable one and her body a physical wreck. That he treated her with cruelty before the baby, which was born to her, and that he used language unfit for the ears of the child. They separated in April, 1900, but the husband kidnapped the child. The plaintiff, besides asking for a divorce, prays that she will be given custody of the child and such alimony as the court might see fit to allow and that the defendant be made pay attorneys' fees and other costs.

Oregon City Notes.

John Bradley has returned to town after spending the summer in Idaho.
Mrs. M. Michaels gave birth to a 10½-pound baby this morning. Mother and child are doing nicely.
The Federal Labor Union, No. 978, will hold its regular weekly meeting this evening at its hall.
The funeral of John G. Porter, which was held from the Catholic Church yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, was one of the largest seen in the city in recent years. Friends from this city and Portland crowded the church and followed the remains to the cemetery, making a long funeral procession.

STATE BRIEFS.

Two irrigation companies, proceeding under the provisions of the Carey arid land act, have secured contracts from the state for the reclamation of arid land in the Upper Deschutes country.
During the week just closed the enrollment of pupils in the Eugene public schools reached 1000, the highest number ever enrolled there. There are 150 pupils in the Catholic school, making 1150 enrolled in the district.
The big Southern Pacific oil tank at Ashland was completed last week and the remainder of the construction crew departed Sunday to complete the Dunsen tank. The structure cost $17,000, and will hold 55,000 barrels of oil.
As the westbound Chicago-Portland special was entering Pendleton shortly after noon Sunday, the engine jumped the Cottonwood street switch, with the result that the engine-tender and postal-car left the track and were considerably damaged.
At the session of the Circuit Court just closed in Union City, the Grand Jury found true bills against five gamblers from La Grande, who were fined $100 each. This is the result of the anti-gambling crusade begun in the city election in that place last December.
Antonio West, the 9-year-old son of Andrew West, was drowned at Astoria Saturday evening by falling from a wharf at the George & Barker cannery while fishing for tomcod. The body was recovered about 60 feet from where the accident occurred.
Already 1000 head of sheep and 250 head of cattle are booked at the La Grande Sugar Factory, to be fattened on pulp. As the virtues of this food becomes more generally known its great advantages will be utilized. It is cheap food, very rich in fat producing properties and fully equal to any ensilage made.
Wm. Banton and L. W. Drumb Smith, of Union County, were taken suddenly ill with symptoms of barocytic poisoning. A physician known its great advantages, who administered remedies, and the men were soon out of danger. They were feeding a threshing machine, and it is thought that larkspur in the barley caused the trouble.
Burglars committed three depredations at Fairhaven Saturday and made their escape in each instance without leaving any clue as to their identity. In one house they got only $5; in the second $17, but in the third instance, in the house of a man named Egerton, they secured $8000.

Rush for Timber Lands.

The rush is still on for the timber lands of Eastern Oregon. Eastern syndicates are making strenuous efforts to get this land in large bodies and the time is not far distant when there will be no government timber left in the state. A scheme is being worked by syndicates, who hire men to take up good claims, furnish the required $400 for proving up on them, and then give the locator $100 to $200 for his trouble.

Pendleton Notes.

Local dealers are now offering 35 cents for little club and 35 to 50 cents for blue-stem. Little is selling and farmers look for another raise before the end of the week.
Two well known lecturers, Dr. Wise, the noted Jewish divine, and Dr. Sander, son, from British Columbia, have been secured by County School Superintendent J. F. Nowlin to be here and give addresses for the evening entertainment during the teachers' institute, to be held at the courthouse, beginning Oct. 23.
The Painters' Union has collected $30 for the benefit of the striking coal miners.
The rains of the past few days have done much good. In many places drills started today. Summer-fallow ground is said to be in excellent shape now and with favorable weather thousands of acres will be planted in the next few weeks.

GRANTS PASS

THE STRIKE
DELAYS WORK

Masonic Temple at Grants Pass
Waits on Plasterers and Lathers.

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 20.—Work on the Masonic temple has been delayed on account of the dismissal of the plasterers and lathers whose work was not considered satisfactory by the contractors, Messrs. Calvey & Clark. However, the contractors say that they will soon be able to get other men and will have the work well under way in a short time. The building is a three-story brick and will be one of the finest architectural structures in the city when completed.

Boom at Grants Pass.

Grants Pass is now booming. Real estate has increased in value and much of it is being sold in the eastern part of town. It is learned that the depot will be moved near the Pacific Pine Needle factory, where the Grants Pass & Crescent City railroad will connect, and the new round house which will soon be erected, will be used by both companies.

Grants Pass Briefs.

The baseball grounds have recently been purchased for town lots, and new grounds will have to be found elsewhere.
Copper mines are being located in the southern part of Josephine.
Apple packing is in season and quite rapid progress is being made. They are being shipped to many Eastern states and Alaska.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

Madame La Bonte, the heroine of the shooting affray in Butte, has been discovered in Seattle.
Wakefield & McCracken's saloon at Cheshals was robbed of $30 Saturday night by a man who secreted himself in the building and was locked in.
M. May, a leading Columbia County, Wash., grain raiser, estimates the barley output of that county this season at 1,500,000 bushels, 75 per cent of which has been sold.
The Idaho State Fair has opened at Boise. It promises to be a great success. The finest display of cattle ever seen in the Northwest are in the pens. There are a great number of fine exhibits.
Another saloon robbery occurred in Corvallis Saturday morning and the Richelieu saloon, which was held up by a lone robber on the night of July 4 and robbed of $1500, is short about $70 as a result of the visit of the burglar.
A Miller, the cattle rustler who blew his brains out when surrounded by a sheriff's posse near Pomeroy, last week, to avoid arrest, was an old Oregon stockman and had followed cattle all his life. Miller came across the plains in the '50s.
Eighty thousand bushels of wheat grown on the ranch of Charles Pickard, near Walla Walla, were sold Saturday at 89¢ cents a bushel. This is the highest figure paid in the Walla Walla country for wheat since the days of the Letter "cor ner" in 1888.
C. E. Scriber, cashier of the Second National bank of Colfax, reports the largest yield of oats of the season and one of the largest ever reported in the Palouse country. There were just 25 acres of land in the field and the crop averaged 127½ bushels per acre.
The spread of smallpox in Walla Walla has reached almost an alarming stage, and it is said that 75 cases of both mild and severe types exist in town. The epidemic spread rapidly. There are about a dozen cases at the pesthouse and quarantined houses all over the city.
The dry kiln of the Western Coopersage Company, at Aberdeen, Wash., with 1,000 shingles and a large amount of staves and headings, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. The fire was a stubborn one and was fought for 12 hours, with the help of Hogue's department. The loss is $8000.

THINK IT OVER
THERE are many young people just drifting along, just existing, with little prospect of bettering their circumstances. They do nothing well and are forced to do menial work. The lack of an education keeps them down. They go on and on hopelessly, not realizing that a little strenuous effort for a few months would place them in a position to earn a good salary and to rise to places of trust and responsibility. It is the mission of a good business school to help these unfortunate, to quickly and unexpectantly get them "on their feet." We have a business school with every facility for doing superior work, and we do it. We are interested in young people and in you in particular, if you are having a hard time. If you will write us we will conscientiously advise you and send our fine catalogue. Mention this paper.
