There Will Be No Walkout of the Engineers.

BROUGHT FREIGHT FOR O. R. & N.

Alone Can Tie Her Up.

The steamer Alliance of the Gray tons are for the O. R. & N. Co., and is being discharged at the Ainsworth dock. Representatives of that company were very apprehensive yesterday as to what gambling had been enforced, about a the engineers on the Alliance would do upon their arrival at Portland. They or three times a day, but had noticed no were almost sure that they would walk out, because the steamer was bringing O. R. & N. freight. Their fears were removed, however, by Captain Hardwick, master of the vessel, who expressed himself very decisively upon the subject as

NO STRIKE. "If there is no intervention of Providence the steamer Alliance will sail from here Friday morning with her usual cargo for San Francisco. There is no earthly power that can stop her. All the licensed officials on the Pacific Coast would be powerless to tie her up if they felt so inclined. San Francisco is her home port, and if the engineers intend to leave they would wait until the vessel's arrival at the Bay City, and then they would have to give proper notice. But they have no intention of resigning, regardless of what has been said to the contrary. The Alliance is here to do business and she will continue on her regular run uninterrupt-

ENGINEERS' VIEWS. The members of the local Marine Engineers' Association say that they will put nothing in the way of any steamer coming in here taking business away from the O. R. & N. They state that the more vessels coming in here to do business the better it will suit them.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

E. B. Berg, employed at the furniture store of Heywood Bros. & Wakefield, on Fifth and Oak streets, was arrested last evening by Deputy Constable Adkins on a charge of assault and battery, sworn to by Alta Yeoman, a 16-year-old East Side girl. He was released on $50 cash ball. The case will be heard tomorrow afternoon before Justice Reid.

THE BATTLE FOR REFORM

Called Off Today But Is Still an Issue--Preparing Lord Edicts.

An ominous calm hovers over the opposing factions in the reform move today. leading warriors are busy with their typewhich to lampoon their adversaries into a condition of groggyness which may induce them to retire to the rear and seat themselves. Attorney Lord for the Enforcement League, is compiling edicts for presentation to the peace officers, and communications to side-step the accusations of insincerity made by the church. Just what the opponents of the league are doing today is not known, but it is safe-to presume that some of them are sorting over the English language in order to find a collection of words luridly descriptive of their opinions of Mr. Lord and his mysterious league.

LORD TALKS ON ISSUE Mr. Lord, when interviewed this forenoon, stated: "I am busy preparing let-ters to the Chief of Police and the Sheriff calling their attention to violations of law which are strictly municipal, and where there will be no opportunity for the heads of the administration to excuse themselves for the non-enforcement of the laws on the ground that it is out of their jurisdiction. The things that will be brought up are those on which the law is plain and where it will be impossible to delay or shift the responsibility on other shoulders. I am pleased over the attitude of the Rev. Blackburn, who has the backbeing to come out and take a stand on the issue. Before we are through with the fight we will have all self-respecting citizens enlisted on our side. When the ministers see that our work is sincere and effective, they will rally to our standard. "The issue now is the Sunday closing of saloons. Other minor matters of public annoyance will also be taken up, such as the obstructing of the streets and highways, expectorating on the sidewalks,

BRIDGE SITUATION

A List of Those Closed to Public Traffic.

To realize that the bridge situation in Portland is serious, one has only to look over the number of those which have been closed to traffic and many of those which are still open are in a dangerous condition and are only kept open by public necessity. In keeping some of them open the authorities realize that they are taking a long chance, and expect every lay to hear of some casualty.

When City Engineer Elliott was asked this morning if $25,000 would put the bridges in good condition, he smiled ironically and said it would be a mere drop as some of the bridges are beyond repair There is no money in sight until next year to put them in condition, and the public will doubtless have to put up with the situation until that time.

BRIDGES CLOSED. Following is a list of the bridges now losed on the East Side:

Grand avenue bridge across Sullivan's gulch; East Ankeny between Second street and the river; East Ash between Second street and the river; East Oak between Grand avenue and Sixth; East Cak from Water to Second: East Washington from Water to Union avenue; Belmont from Ninth to Tenth; Union avenue from Belmont to Madison; East Third between Washington and Oak; East Oak from Union to Grand avenue; the bridge on Holiday avenue and East Sixteenth street has been torn down and removed. ON THE WEST SIDE. First and Second street bridges across Marquam's Gulch: Corbett and First and Front street bridges; Alder street bridge from Lownsdale to Washington streets; Sixteenth street from Morrison to Washington street; Northrup street from Eighth to Twelfth street.

The club women who failed to avail themselves of the invitation extended by the Council of Jewish Women to be present at Dr. Wise's Bible class Wednesday certainly missed an enjoyable afternoon, and a literary treat. Miss Hattle Friendly gave the paper of the afternoon. The subject was, "The Bong of Bongs," and was treated exhaustively in the matter of its interpretation and construction Hostilities have for the time ceased. The by commentators and students of all ages. Miss Friendly gave many bright writers preparing weighty knocks with original thoughts of her own, and throughout showed great depth of thought and research. Dr. Wise took up the various points in Miss Friendly's paper, enlarging upon them from the viewpoint of a profound Bible student. In the course of his remarks Dr. Wise conclusively proved these songs to be of religious origin and conception, and made clear the utter impossibility of one trained in the Jewish falth accepting them as an allegory. The subject of the next lecture will be "The Psalms as Religion." The paper will be read by Mrs. Alex. Bernstein. After each peper Dr. Wise continueg the subject under discussion. They are open to all who desire to attend.

THEIR LAST MEETING.

The last meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Portland was held at the home of Mrs. Bailey. Hesiod and his works was the study for the day. Members responded to roll call with quotations from his works. The discussion of the subject was as follows: "Heslod as a Poet," by Mrs. Hall; review of his works and days, by Mrs. Miller; review of "Theogony," by Mrs. Bailey. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Burch. Subject, Homer.

NEAT YEAR BOOK.

The Astoria Woman's Club has again saued a very neat little year book in the club colors-blue and white. The program does not carry out any uniform study for the year, but deals with topics of general interest on a variety of subjects, interspersed with many discussions-and discussions, provided they are upon given subjects, insure a good live club. Except for the names of Mrs. Dunlap of Portland, who will address the club on kindregarten work; Miss Isom, of the Portland Library, on "The Work of Librarians," and Miss Reinhart, on an educational topic, the program is made up from home talent—which is another feature to be commended. The club has a membership of 80, with six standing committees and five departments. Mrs. Mary H. Elmore is president of the club.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Teachers' Association held their second meeting in the lecture room of the Library building last Saturday evening. The entire year will be devoted to the study of art and the following great masters have been decided upon: Reubens, Van Dyke, Rembrandt for the Dutch and Flemish, and for the Italian Raphael, Michael Angelo and Leonardo da Vinci, The Art Association has accumulated a collection of 15,000 photographs and a library of 250 volumes, which gives a rare opportunity for students of art. It is our belief that this matter should be considered at a special session, free from any entanglements of any kind, and purely on its merits, and that the appropriation for the same, if made, should be made at the earliest date practicable in order that the matter may be presented most favorably to the Legislatures of adjoining states and that the board of directors of the Fair may know exactly what they can depend upon,

Third. As is well known, the City of Portland, by and through a vote of its citizens, has adopted a charter for the government of the city, which awaits the act of the Legislature to become a law. While in a measure local, yet the question of the government and conduct of the affairs of the City of Portland is of general interest, and while we would not petition you to call a special session for this purpose solely, no matter how important it might be to the citizens of this city, yet we feel that if a special session is called, the consideration of the proposed charter of the City of Portland should be one of the objects named in the call. It is unnecessary to point out to you the great importance of this to the people of this city.

We therefore respectfully request that you call a special session of the Legislature to consider the subjects above enumerated, as well as any others of public importance which you may deem ing $12,000 bonds. .
