STATEMENT FROM S. MORTON COHN. In an interview published in an afternoon paper, Mr. Jeff Nye is quoted as saying that the undersigned, in connection with certain other parties therein mentioned, is interested in an attempt to close saloons on Sunday. I desire to state emphatically that as far as I am concerned this statement is incorrect. I have had no communication of any nature whatsoever, directly or indirectly, with the parties mentioned or with Mr. Nye, for more than two years past, and I have no desire to see saloons closed on Sunday or any Blue Laws enforced, but do, and have always advocated liberal construction of the laws. I know nothing further of the Law Enforcement League than the information given to the public through the press. If Mr. Nye favors the closing of saloons on Sunday, as the interview mentioned states, then his ideas and mine are directly opposite.

FOREST RESERVE

Delegation of Eastern Oregon Mining Men PRESENT THE ISSUE

Meet Senator Mitchell This Evening—Claim Reserve Will Kill Mining.

Eastern Oregon is up in arms against the establishment of the Blue Mountain forest reserve, and a committee has been appointed to present its protests.

This committee is en route here to lay this matter before Senator Mitchell and will arrive on the delayed train at 6 this evening.

It is composed of Hon. J. H. Robinson, of the Golconda and South Polk mines; Frank Ballie, of the Columbia; Emil Meiser, of the North Pole; and Mr. Muller, of the Oregon Smelting and Refining Company, all from the immediate vicinity of Sumpter; Clark Grant, of the Red Boy, ten miles above Granite, in Grant County; and Judge Fasset, of the Payche, the coming mine near the new town of Greenhorn, in Grant County.

With them are Attorneys C. A. Johns, John S. Rand and N. C. Richards. It is a representative body of solid business men, who went into the district when it was in its infancy, and who have devoted their time, their energy and their money to making the Sumpter-Greenhorn district one of the greatest mining camps in the West. They know every inch of that section, and they know and understand fully the needs and desires of every prospector and every company in it.

MANY PETITIONS. They have with them innumerable petitions which they say contain the names of practically every man in the district.

There are about 2500 mining locations in the Sumpter district, and in the balance of the lands included in the forest reserve probably that many more. These claims usually contain 20 acres, so that the grand total of located mining ground in the proposed reserve would be about 130,000 acres or more than 200 square miles. Besides this, they claim, and justify, that much of the ground is now being prospected and new locations are being made daily.

Few people outside of the mining region have any idea of the magnitude of the industry, and this ignorance of the state's resources is not confined to the state at large, for Portland has her full share of it.

REPRESENT MILLIONS. The members of the delegation represent, at present values of their properties, $25,000,000, and these properties are making such wonderful strides as development proceeds that these figures will, in the next five years, bear multiplying by five. And these represent only a small fraction of the actual wealth of the camp. The committee claims that the reserve question is a vital one and that upon its settlement depends the life of the mining industry.

The committee did not expect to visit Portland until next week, but owing to Senator Mitchell's leaving for Washington tomorrow night, their visit had to be hurried: It will meet Senator Mitchell and present its petitions, and arguments before the Interior Department at the earliest possible moment.

THE BAKER. The Neill Stock Company at this theater will add another step to the ladder of popularity it has gained during its successful run this season, when next week, beginning Sunday afternoon, it will produce the beautiful comedy "The Wife." A play which has been seen but once in Portland. The original New York company played it here several years ago, and the piece made a great hit. It is a comedy in four acts and tells of the vicissitudes of love in a style that is seldom seen in stage productions. It also deals with politics in fact the majority of the male characters of the play are or have been politicians in many successful campaigns. The fact that the members of the Neill Stock Company have had so much experience in political work since their residence in Portland, when it so ably assisted "The District Attorney" in exposing the many secrets connected with municipal frauds, is the best assurance that "The Wife" will prove to be a continuation of the good work the company has been doing in this city.

EAT HUMBLE PIE

Railroad Man Drops Into Verse on the Coal Strike.

C. J. Eddy, late general agent of the C. M. & St. P. in this city, and now reading at his home in Winnetka, near Chicago, has written his friend, William Harder, of the Great Northern, commenting on the end of the coal strike. He winds up his remarks by a short composition of his own, which runs as follows:

When Teddy rises in his might, The people think that he is right, And now will jump at his command, From every coal bunk in the land. Let him but speak and Morgan bends. Great as he is he condescends. And all the other smaller fry, Are eating hunks of humble pie.

MANAGERS' ANNOUNCEMENT. "Barbara Fritchie." The fourth act of "Barbara Fritchie," the greatest of all war dramas that is to be presented here at Cordray's for one week beginning Sunday matinee, by Mary Elizabeth Forbes and a capable company, shows Barbara and Mammy Lou watching in the sick room over Barbara's wounded Northern lover. It is in the early dawn, with the faint morning light coming through the windows. The two watchers suddenly bend over the wounded man. Barbara becomes terror-stricken as Mammy Lou goes to the bed and as the old negro straightens up Barbara reads the truth in her face. "Honey, he's sleeping his last sleep," says Mammy Lou, crying pitifully. Barbara throws herself on the bed. At this point the Southern Army is heard approaching in the distance to the strains of "Dixie" and the lights go out for a change of scene. The play will be given in this city with the same cast and all of the same elaborate scenery that added so greatly to the play's success during its memorable run in San Francisco last summer, as given by the Neill Company.

The Royal Italian Band. The Cavaliere Emilio Rivela, who has but recently come over from Italy to direct Mr. Channing Ellery's Italian Band, which gives two concerts at the Marquam Grand Theatre on next Monday and Tuesday night, October 27-28, is one of the most distinguished of all the young leaders of his native land. He comes of a noble family noted for its blue blood and its artistic ability, is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Naples, and is a brilliant pianist, as well as bandmaster. Signor Rivela is not yet thirty years of age, but is ranked among the very best composers of Italy for both bands and piano. He was until the time of his sailing for America, director of one of the greatest municipal bands in the Italian Kingdom. Last year at the annual National conference of bands at Naples, he secured in competition with one hundred and forty-five bands, the king's trophy, an elegant loving cup. Signor Rivela is a cavalier, or knight, as we would say in English, and wears the cross of Savoy, with which he was decorated by the late King Humbert, shortly before that much loved ruler was assassinated.

Signor Rivela has been in this country but a few months, but in that time he has brought himself to be recognized as a leader of great ability by those who have had the pleasure of watching him conduct. He is graceful in all his movements, yet puts life into his work. Those who have already seen him, declare that he will become the rage of all America in less than a year.

The advance sale of seats opened this morning.

OK IT OVER. THERE are many young people just drifting along, just existing, with little prospect of bettering their circumstances. They do nothing well and are forced to do menial work. The lack of an education keeps them down. They go on and on hopelessly, not realizing that a little strenuous effort for a few months would place them in a position to earn a good salary and to rise to places of trust and responsibility. It is the mission of a good business school to help these unfortunate, to quickly and unexpensively get them "on their feet." We have a business school with every facility for doing superior work, and we do it. We are interested in young people and in you in particular, if you are having a hard time. If you will write us we will conscientiously advise you and send our fine catalogue. Mention this paper.
