

SENATOR DODGE WRITES OF OREGON

It Is to Be One of the Greatest States.

Enthusiastic Statements on Its Future by a Well Known Ohio Official.

"Oregon is destined to be one of the greatest states in the Union. Her area is large and greatly diversified. Nature has lavished her resources on Oregon in the greatest abundance."

During the past year many new and ardent friends have been made for Oregon, the queen of the Pacific Coast states. A letter just received by General Passenger Agent A. L. Craig, of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, from Senator Dodge, of Ohio, is full of praise for Oregon. Senator Dodge recently visited Portland, Seattle and other coast cities, and on arriving at his home in Cleveland, wrote the following interesting letter to Mr. Craig:

DESTINY OF OREGON.
"Oregon is destined to be one of the greatest states in the Union. Her area is large and greatly diversified. Nature has lavished her resources on Oregon in the greatest abundance. I have visited nearly all parts of the United States, but have never seen so many advantages culminating in any one section as you have in Oregon."

"The climate is healthful and delightful. The soil is fertile and adapted to almost all kinds of culture. Nature, unaided by the help of man, has given many examples of this. You have the largest trees and the greenest grass—two examples of the least and greatest plants. Between these two extremes nearly all forms of vegetable life will thrive."

CLIMATE OF OREGON.
"Remember that the soil and climatic conditions which produced your great trees are still potent and will produce equally well in the future. Then the climate of Oregon is the climate of old England, the home of the greatest race of people in the world. The culminating waves of civilization from both East and West will rise high in Oregon and most likely the highest point attained in the history of civilization will manifest itself in the northwest part of the United States. Already the commerce of the world is centering there. The cities of the Northwest will be the greatest in the world."

LAND FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.
"In addition to the blessings of nature by which you are surrounded in such profusion in Oregon, you have been favored by a free grant of one-eighth of all the land in your great state for school purposes. The greatest institutions of learning in the world should result from this magnificent endowment."

"During my travels in the Southeast, I noticed that five objects predominated: sandy plains, scrub pine trees, negroes, mules and un-painted dwellings. In Oregon I noticed large trees, green grass, fat cattle, healthy people and buildings that are architectural triumphs."

SHOPLIFTER GUILTY.

Annie Pollard, who was on trial before a jury in Judge Cleland's division of the State Circuit Court yesterday on a charge of larceny from the store of A. J. Prager & Son, was found guilty. A motion for a new trial will be argued Saturday.

SHIPPING NEWS OF INTEREST

Latest News in the Harbor—New Arrivals.

The French bark Jean Bart and the schooner Olga reached port about noon in tow of the Ocklahoma. The Frenchman is in command of Captain Gassat and comes from London, sailing from there July 9. She registers 1,224 tons, and is on the disengaged list.

The Olga comes from Redondo, for a cargo of lumber. Captain Thomson, of the Ephraim, states that his vessel is still unharmed and that he is making preparations to remain here for the winter. He is discouraged at the freight outlook and anticipates no early improvement in the market.

The Crown of Denmark completed her wheat cargo this morning for South Africa. She has on board 113,991 bushels, valued at $79,762.76, which is being shipped by Kerr, Gifford & Co.

The Acemias also completed her cargo today, and left down the river this afternoon. At the last moment the first mate could not be found, but it is believed that he will join the vessel at Astoria.

WANT MILLIONS.

(Journal Special Service.)
TACOMA, Nov. 14.—The Esmond heirs will bring suit to recover a fourth interest in the site of the great mill plant of the Grays Harbor Commercial Company at Cosmopolis, together with damages for fourteen years of occupancy. They allege their father deeded the property without the signature of his wife, who was in an asylum.

THE HINDOOS IN THE CITY

Belong to Great Circus Now Showing at Seattle.

The advance agents of Professor Chatne's East Indian Circus reached the city this morning from Seattle for the purpose of arranging dates for showing in Portland. They are Hindoos and J. R. Wilson, a local showman, is making arrangements for them. He states that the circus will probably skip Portland for the reason that the Northern Pacific refuses to give its members reduced rates. A final decision will be reached in the matter tomorrow.

The great Hindoo circus has been drawing big crowds at Seattle. It has 55 performers, all Hindoos, and a large variety of trained animals that are natives of the Indian jungles. Arrangements have been made for the Exposition Building in which to hold the show here, and it will come at once if a satisfactory deal can be made with the railroad company.

RUTH RESUMES RUN.

The O. R. & N. steamer Ruth resumed her run to Corvallis this morning after being laid off for a period of several months, on account of the stage of the water. The river is at present in such a condition as to allow the steamer to run without much trouble.

SOCIALISTS ASK RECOGNITION

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The second day's session of the Federation of Labor was devoted to resolving resolutions. One that was offered asks the recognition of Socialism. It will cause a big controversy.

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Henry Kain was released from the county jail this morning on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Sears. The writ was argued yesterday afternoon. Kain was convicted of petty larceny in the Municipal Court on August 29. Judge Hague sentenced Kain to 90 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $50. George J. Cameron, the attorney for Kain, argued that the sentence was void for the reason that the statute does not authorize the court to impose a sentence of both a fine and imprisonment, but only one or the other.

CHIEF ON VACATION.

Chief of Police McLaughlin left last night on the Southern Pacific train for a week's vacation in San Francisco. This is the first lay off that the official has had since going into office. During his absence his office will be looked after by Captain Moore. While in the metropolis Mr. McLaughlin will look into the system of conducting the department of San Francisco, and will be able to get many pointers that will be of value to Portland and the police service.

BURNED WITH CARBOLIC ACID

Fearful End of East Side Family Row.

Young Husband and Wife Are Disfigured for Life.

Lashed into uncontrollable fury by jealousy, two handsome young people of this city seared and seared each other's features with fiery acid.

They must go through life with distorted, withered faces that will cause the eyes of the public to turn in horror from their deformity, and will arouse the pity of the most hardened. Carbolic acid has left a brand which will follow them to the grave. From now on they must make atonement by social ostracism as a retribution for their heinous crime against nature.

By their act they have severed the ties that make them akin with the rest of humanity. They are outcasts and must look only to each other for companionship.

BURNING THE FEATURES.

Archibald Bryant and his young wife quarreled at their home on the East Side yesterday morning. The child wife reproached her faithless husband for his attentions to other women. She rebuked him for deserting her and marrying another girl named Emma Wittenberg. For this he was arrested and narrowly escaped punishment for bigamy. She bewailed the disgrace he had brought upon her happy life and the suffering he had caused her. She implored him to love her as a wife and to keep the marriage vows. To this prayer he made a sneering answer. The outraged woman could bear no more, and, seizing a bottle of carbolic acid, she dashed it into the face of the husband to maim him, that his liaisons with women would cease for all time.

THE TERRIBLE REVENGE.

Maddened by excruciating pain, as the burning liquid consumed the flesh of his face, and appalled at the horrible prospect of living with a countenance at which children would shriek and grown people would shudder, he retaliated by throwing the poison in the girl's face of his wife, utterly destroying all that a woman holds dear—her beauty.

CASE IN THE COURT.

Bryant was arrested soon after the inhuman act and placed in the city jail. Later in the day the wife, with her face swathed in oiled bandages, appeared before Justice Reid and swore out a warrant for the arrest of her husband, charged with assault. "Some more serious charges may be lodged against both parties. They are from Forest Grove, and were married while attending school there about a year ago."

That Tenth Person.

The Mayer Clothing Company is still giving away money. Hundreds of dollars have been presented to the persons who were fortunate enough to be the tenth person to buy clothing there. So eager have the people been to get one of the greenbacks that they have stood on the sidewalks and counted the people who came out with bundles, hoping in this way to be one of the tenth persons.

We have sold over 200 by the helpful club plan, and we have that many indorsers of the proposition. To be sure, the Eilers Club plan is new. But there is no uncertainty, there is no drawing of lots, there is no waiting one's turn, there is no hocus-pocus of any kind. The story of the Eilers Clubs is simply this: We are offering pianos usually sold for $225 to $275 at the club price of $137 for one kind and $174 for the other—all of them brand new pianos, and fully warranted. The choicest medium grade pianos manufactured in America, instruments such as cannot be sold in the regular retail way for less than $300 and $350 will go to club members at $187 for one style and $218 for another. Choice of the very best selected English oak, mottled walnut and fancy mahogany cases to select from.
