A Few Notes of the Doings of the Earth's Rulers.

THE AMERICAN GIRL IS THERE

Gossip from the European Courts as Gathered by the London Times-Queen Draga Mourns Because She Is Not Received by the Czarina, and so Cannot Display Her New Gowns Made for the Occasion.

A notable member of the royal circle and a fine confingent of the aristocracy have gone to India to participate in the Delhi Durbar.

Since the vicereine of India is an American woman, it is the less surprising that several rich residents of the States. now transients of an indefinite length of time, have packed their trunks and sailed away to participate in the magnificent pageant.

The Delhi assemblage will be in complete accordance with the traditions of India. In ancient days the coronation of kings and emperors would put into the shade any magnificence or splendor which may be shown today. Lord Curzon therefore has ample justification for every sort of grand ceremonial.

The Delhi Durbar will be a very fine thing, indeed; and the assemblage of sovereign chiefs and feudatories will be such as perhaps has never yet been brought together. Vast preparations are now being made for the ceremonies. Sappers miners are laying light railways; splendid pavilions and bungalows are springing up as if by magic, the review ground, the amphitheater, and the exhibition buildings are all being rapidly proceeded with under armies of natives. who, in vast orderly crowds, work detily and silently-as is the Eastern wont.

Queen Draga Dumpy.

It is told in Belgrade and repeated at London clubs that Queen Draga is prostrated over the refusal of the Czarina, in whose decisions England is interested. to receive her, for all her fine dresses made for the purpose of this momentous visit to the Russian court now go for naught. She can not wear them in Helgrade because, to flatter the people, she gave out some time ago that hereafter she would wear the national dress only. The frocks intended for Lavidia most exquisite creations of the Paris modiste's art-Draga spent her pin money two years in advance to secure themand if the Empress doesn't give in soon they mill be spoiled on account change in the fashions. Upon being advised that another postponement was in order, the Queen wrong her hands, sobbing us if her heart would break, and taking consolution from no one. The secret reason for the Czarina's act is this: When the Empress lost her child a couple of months age, some London papers intimated that she had deceived her husband as Draga deceived Alexander. Her majesty fears that this absurd story might find believers, if she showed any friendship for Draga.

is a Great Talker. The story about the Khedive's brother which has filtered into the columns of the daily press is so romantic that one can only hope that it is true. His highness, so it is said, has fallen deeply in love with an American heiress, who returns his devotion, and the young ruler of Egypt looks with favoring eyes upon the match. Abbas II. is deeply attached to his brother. The lads spent their boyhood together in Vienna, where they im-bibed very liberal ideas, and where they learned that women were intended to be something more than mere caged nonen-

If the American girl decides to take "her fate by the throat" she may feel pretty sure of having a good reception n Cairo, and she will also have the immense distinction of striking out an entirely original path. English dukes and Italian princes are remantle and brilliant, as far as they go, and offer a fasclusting future to American society thuis, but royalty-even Mohammedan regulty-is a step above this, and a reourceful, determined wife may be able to do great things, not only for her own immediate circle, but for her own sex, throughout the whole world of Islam.

IF RIGHT WITH GOD.

If right with God, there is comfort in the thought of a final reckoning of all counts, when and where all wrongs shall be righted. If right with God you cannot be wrong with anything or any body.
