

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

HOG MARKET SHOWS ACTIVITY

Twenty-Five Cents Being Freely Offered.

The Outlook Is For Increased Prices Within the Next Few Days.

There was a decided resumption of business to be noticed throughout the local wholesale markets today. Business in nearly all lines was fairly active and the entire market is considered steady.

HOGS SHOW ACTIVITY

The hog market shows a marked improvement over that of a week ago. Local buyers are receiving many inquiries from Eastern buyers and brokers relating to the Oregon crop. Twenty-five cents a pound is being freely offered on the "street" for first class stock, but very few sales are being made at that figure. Dealers do not care now to sell any of their stock, and are in hopes of a rising market. A prominent dealer, in reviewing the situation, said: "I certainly look for hog prices to advance within the next few days. It can hardly be otherwise, as both the Eastern and the Oregon markets are entirely cleaned up."

HOG PRICES DOWN.

Hog prices are slightly lowered today on account of the increased receipts and falling off of the demand. Receipts today were quite heavy, and it was harder to sell pork than for many weeks previous. Prices today stand at 7-cents a pound. Beef is now in demand and is bringing increased quotations.

EGGS AGAIN LOWER.

There is no doubt that the egg market has already reached the top of the ladder of prices, and a reaction has set in. Prices today are down 1 cent under those quoted yesterday. Additional declines are looked for.

POTATOES SOMEWHAT FIRMER.

Some few inquiries are being made by California jobbers for Oregon Burbank potatoes. A number of sales have been made at slightly increased prices, and the market altogether shows a stronger tone.
